RYBURN G. CLAY SLATED TO BE NEW COMMITTEEMAN WHEN STATE DEMOCRATIC BOARD MEETS THURSDAY

Harvey and Smith Found Guilty, Get Five Years

PAIR CONVICTED OF $9,875 BANK PAY ROLL THEFT

U. S. Jury Returns Verdict Against Notorious Prisoners 3 Hours After Receiving Case; Both Plead Innocence.

DEFENDANTS AGREE TRIAL WAS FAIR

Prisoners To Remain in Jail Until Motion for New Trial Is Heard in Rome Next Week.

ROME, Ga., May 24.—(AP)—Leland Harvey and Aubrey Smith, former long-term prisoners pardoned by Governor Talmadge, were convicted today of robbing two national bank payroll messengers of $9,875 last August, and were sentenced to five years each in a federal prison.

The jury, which had been hearing testimony in the case since last Tuesday, returned its verdict after deliberating two hours and 55 minutes.

Sentence Imposed.

A short time later sentence was pronounced by Federal Judge Marvin Underwood. Each of the men was given five years on two counts but Judge Underwood ruled that the terms should run concurrently.

The federal institution in which they are to serve the sentences will be determined by the attorney-general of the United States.

Immediately after the verdict was returned, Harvey and Smith were taken to the judge's chambers to give their previous penal records to R. A. Chappell, federal probation officer.

As soon as sentence had been passed on the men, defense attorneys filed a skeleton motion for a new trial. A hearing on the motion probably will be held in U. S. district court here next week. Harvey and Smith will remain in jail here until after the hearing.

The two counts on which they were convicted were "robbery of national bank officials" and "robbery by putting in jeopardy the lives of any persons with a dangerous weapon." The maximum sentences possible were 20 years on the first charge and 25 years on the second, or a total of 45.

Before Judge Underwood pronounced sentence both men expressed their appreciation of the court's fairness during the trial.

"I am innocent of these charges," Harvey added. "The defense witnesses told the absolute truth about our being in Chicago at the time of this robbery. I am convinced we will get a new trial."

Throughout the trial the defense

Gay Hawaii Makes Henry Roosevelt Ill

HONOLULU, May 24.—(AP)—Taken ill with indigestion today, Henry L. Roosevelt, assistant secretary of the navy, was ordered to bed aboard the cruiser Houston. Lieutenant Commander William Bunkley, ship's physician, said the attack was not serious and that Mr. Roosevelt was recovering.

The secretary had been going through a swift round of entertainment since his arrival from San Diego Wednesday, and it was considered Hawaiian hospitality had proved too much for him.

LEAGUE APPROVES AFRICA PROPOSALS

War in Border Dispute Said Averted as Il Duce Gives Acceptance.

(Copyright, 1935, by the Associated Press.)

GENEVA, May 25.—The League of Nations council unanimously adopted tonight two resolutions, accepted by Premier Mussolini, for compromise proposal looking to settlement of Italy's border dispute with Ethiopia.

The action was taken at a public session called precipitately upon Italy's yielding to British and French demands for arbitration of the dispute, after the council, in a secret session, had given preliminary approval to the proposals.

The first resolution, citing border incidents leading to the dispute, said the two governments have nominated arbitrators and "are in agreement in entrusting settlement of these incidents to the same arbitrators in accordance with article five of the Italo-Ethiopian treaty."

The league council in the second resolution left to Italy and Ethiopia "full liberty to settle the dispute in question."

In the event that a final understanding shall not have been reached by July 25, and the four original arbitrators have failed to reach an agreement on selection of a fifth arbitrator, the resolution provided that the council should meet August 26.

The compromise proposal, embodied in a resolution by Captain Anthony Eden, British lord privy seal, setting the parley deadline, was said by council delegates to have averted the threat of war and one of the greatest crises in the League history.

The Ethiopian representative who sat temporarily with the council as a member announced that Ethiopia interprets the two resolutions to mean, "Italy will refrain from sending additional troops to East Africa and will not employ troops already there for aggression."

F. D. R. SPIKES RUSE TO SLIP IN BONUS IN FORM OF RIDER

Even Vital Bills Will Be Vetoed If Measure Is Attached, Congress Is Warned by President.

WASHINGTON, May 24.—(AP)—President Roosevelt tossed to bonus leaders in congress today a flat warning even the most vital administration measure would be vetoed if it came to him with a cash payment bill attached as a rider.

The warning reached Capitol Hill as bonus forces, beaten on the Patman inflationary bill, were trying to agree on some strategy to force the president to accept cash payment.

At about the same time the possibility of another "bonus march" on Washington was suggested in the senate, and from Los Angeles also came word that within an hour after recruiting had started, leaders of a bonus march claimed to have recruited nearly 100 men.

Senator Hastings, republican, Delaware, discussing the recent farmers' "march" on the capitol, told the senate he "wouldn't be surprised if within a week we don't have the soldiers marching on Washington."

Veterans Disapprove.

American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars officials said they had sent orders throughout the country to discourage such a move. Frank Belgrano, national Legion commander, asserted in a statement any attempt to stage a march would be "most un-American."

President Roosevelt's announcement he would not permit bonus legislation by indirection was given at his biweekly press conference in an effort to head off a congressional move to tie a cash payment bill to one of his vital measures such as the NRA extension bill or social security legislation.

He firmly announced he would veto even the social security bill, which he regards as the major piece of administration legislation, if a bill providing cash payment or any other extraneous matter were added to it.

Asked about the plan advanced by Senator Clark, democrat, Missouri, to add a rider to some administration

NAVAL MEASURE VOTED IN SENATE

Bill To Appropriate $460,000,000 for Building Sent to Conference.

WASHINGTON, May 24.—(AP)—The senate today passed and sent to conference the naval appropriation bill carrying $460,000,000, including $29,380,000 for starting work on 24 new ships.

The vote was 55 to 18.

The principal change the senate made was to restore $11,690,000 which the house had knocked off the sum asked by the navy for beginning construction of two dozen new ships.

Altogether the bill carred about $132,000,000 for new construction and new armor, some of it to help finish ships begun with a 1933-34 allotment of $278,000,000 of PWA funds for building the navy up to the treaty strength.

Passage of the bill came late in the day with scarcely a word of debate but in the last two days there had been efforts by members of the senate munitions committee to attach to it various amendments aiming at limiting the profits which shipbuilders might make from construction of the new craft, and also giving the State Department the right to say where the navy will hold future maneuvers.

As a final gesture, Senator Nye, chairman of the munitions committee, proposed an amendment giving the comptroller-general authority to view all papers in connection with letting of any contract for any naval vessel, a provision aimed at preventing collusion among shipyards.

But like the other amendments, it was blocked by a parliamentary objection that it was writing legislation into an appropriation bill.

Of the 24 new ships to be built, one is an airplane carrier at an estimated cost of $27,895,000; two cruisers at an estimated cost of $19,150,000, and 15 destroyers ranging from $6,155,000 to $7,830,000 each, and six submarines at $5,647,000 each.

200,000 Swedes Cheer As Ingrid Weds Dane

Stockholm Streets Jammed by Joyous Throngs As Crown Prince and Bride Depart After Brilliant Rites.

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, May 24.—(AP)—Two hundred thousand cheering Swedes packed Stockholm's streets this afternoon to bid farewell to Crown Prince Frederik, of Denmark, and Princess Ingrid, of Sweden, Frederik's bride, today and Denmark's future queen.

Their brilliant wedding in the thirteenth century church where all kings of Sweden's Bernadotte line have been crowned was attended by such an assembly of crowned heads, royalty and notables as Scandinavia seldom has seen.

It was her own people, however, of which the brown-haired, blue-eyed new crown princess of Denmark smilingly took farewell as she and Frederik, long sweethearts, sailed away for Copenhagen, their new home.

Quays and bridges of the Stockholm harbor were masses of shouting humanity when the royal newly-weds, after proceeding from the royal palace to the landing stage at one side of the palace, embarked in the Swedish royal sloop.

Ingrid said good-by to her father, King Gustaf, smiled at the cheering thousands and the sloop crossed the harbor to the Danish royal yacht Dannebrog, while harbor fortress guns boomed salutes. A squadron of Danish torpedo boats convoyed the yacht.

The largest group of European royalty ever assembled in Stockholm sat as spectators in the ancient cathedral as the couple said the marriage vows.

It included Frederik's parents, King Christian and Queen Alexandrine, of Denmark; King Leopold and Queen Astrid, of the Belgians; Crown Prince Olaf and Crown Princess Martha, of Norway, and the former crown prince of Norway.

Ingrid, who advanced to the altar on the arm of her father, wore a simply-cut white silk gown with a 20-foot train and a tiny green crown of myrtle.

The tall, dark-haired, studious Frederik wore a black uniform with a blue sash. He entered the church with his father, who was resplendent in red coat and blue trousers.

Two restless little princesses, Ragnhild and Astrid, of Norway, dressed in blue silk, together with the Count of Wisborg, the small son of Count and Countess Folke Bernadotte, the latter the former Estelle Manville, of New York, also participated in the ceremony.

Archbishop Eidem, of Sweden, and his assistant priests performed the ceremony. After the recital of the vows of the Swedish marriage service, the archbishop accepted the wedding ring, a thin band of gold, and blessed it.

In the final repetition of the wedding vows Frederik and Ingrid held the ring together. These were the words the Swedish princess said:

"I, Ingrid, take you, Frederik, my lawful husband, to love you through sorrow and pleasure, and as a symbol I accept from you this ring."

Frederik placed the circlet on his bride's hand.

HOPKINS SETS UP 307 RELIEF AREAS

Action Decentralizes Administration, Makes Districts Responsible.

WASHINGTON, May 24.—(AP)—Carving the nation into 307 separate work relief districts, Harry L. Hopkins tonight announced a "direct line" of responsibility would be placed on local, district and state works progress officials in carrying out the administration's $4,000,000,000 program.

"It will make for economy and practical working efficiency in the works progress functions," Hopkins said in a statement setting up districts in the 48 states, fixing their headquarters, seeking to equalize the number on relief in each, and charging officials with responsibility for distributing funds and settling wage disputes and with receiving applications for local projects.

"Three chief considerations controlled the laying out of the work district," Hopkins said, enumerating, "(1) the number of families on relief in a given area; (2) quick and adequate transportation and communication, and (3) economy and efficiency of central headquarters."

From Dole to Jobs.

Hopkins' decentralization of organization plan is to be put into effect as soon as district organization personnel is selected to carry out the program to transfer 3,500,000 persons from the dole to jobs.

Meanwhile, the NRA proposed formally that the work relief unit lend $50,000,000 to help states develop varied industries in prisons, and to distribute competition of prison made goods among many private industries instead of the present few. This was

GEORGIA COUNTIES APPLY FOR LOANS

Sections With Constitutional Borrowing Power Ask for PWA Money.

A number of counties that have not exceeded their borrowing power under the state constitutional limitation have filed applications for loans with the Georgia headquarters of the Public Works Administration.

Under state law counties and municipalities may not borrow in excess of 7 per cent of the assessed valuation of their property.

Instructions have not yet been issued concerning disbursement of funds by the PWA in Georgia under the new works bill but it was said yesterday a number of counties which still have borrowing power have applied for loans. Names of these counties were withheld by J. Houstoun Johnston, acting PWA director.

Policy Loosened.

Liberalizing the previous loan and grant policy of the Public Works Administration, President Roosevelt yesterday fixed the maximum federal contribution on municipal projects at 45 per cent, with interest on the remainder at 3 per cent.

This compared with the former 30 per cent grant and 4 per cent interest on the remainder.

The change in policy, announced by Frank C. Walker's application and information division, was a move to "loan more money instead of making 100 per cent federal grants to achieve the re-employment objective."

The statement said the change was authorized by a resolution approved by the advisory committee on allotments.

Door To Quintuplets' Nursery Is Slammed in Face of Mother

CALLANDER, Ont., May 24.—(AP)—A brusque drama at the door of the Dionne nursery, it was disclosed tonight, has opened new wounds in the emotional conflict between the quintuplets' mother and those who guard the little sisters' health.

The door of the babies' nursery literally was slammed in Mrs. Elzire Dionne's face.

"Don't you come up those steps," were the words, in brisk French, that met and turned her away.

The incident took place Sunday but the wounds made then are unhealed tonight.

Its principals were two women—the mild-mannered, unassertive Mrs. Dionne, the only woman to have born quintuplets who lived; and Nurse Louise De Kiriline, efficient, energetic and determined.

She has nursed the five babies from the early days. They will tell you, the people here, that Louise De Kiriline, Red Cross nurse, has mushed with huskies, fought blinding blizzards on snowshoes and defied 50-below-zero weather in countless errands of mercy.

Once, they say, she struggled over the lonely wastes to the isolated cabin of one stricken suddenly with great pain, and that in the emergency she was there called upon to meet, she performed an operation for the removal of an appendix.

That is Louise De Kiriline, nurse of the Red Cross.

Traveled 350 Miles.

There had been jollity and happiness Sunday at the plain frame farmhouse, across the road from the nursery, as Mrs. Dionne and her husband entertained cousins who had traveled 350 miles from Montreal to visit them.

Dinner over, the visitors asked if they might see the quintuplets. Of course they might. Mrs. Dionne is very proud of her babies.

They strolled across the road and

HOTEL MEN OFFER TO AID M'BRAYER IN CHURCH FIGHT

Howell and Anderson Assail Suspension and Resolution Says Right of Free Speech Threatened

SAVANNAH, Ga., May 24.—(AP)—Two distinguished Georgia newspaper editors, Clark Howell Sr., of The Atlanta Constitution, and W. T. Anderson, of the Macon Telegraph, today deplored the suspension of Rev. H. E. McBrayer, pastor of the Lakewood Heights Methodist church, because of his advocacy of prohibition repeal in Georgia.

The convention unanimously adopted a resolution, introduced by W. G. Hastings, of the Ansley hotel, Atlanta, which said the right of free speech is involved in the action against the minister, and tendered Rev. McBrayer "our offer of any support within our power in the crisis he now faces.'"

Both editors addressed the convention of the Georgia Hotel Association here.

Mr. Howell said Rev. McBrayer is "up against an inquisition," and added:

"If a fund is solicited for the defense of the minister, you can put me down for whatever you think I ought to give.

"If the Methodist minister is guilty of infringing upon the morality of the state, then every Methodist who has ever taken a drink, and every one who voted for repeal, is guilty with him."

The convention cheered both Mr. Howell and Mr. Anderson.

The Macon editor assailed what he termed the "intolerance of the dry faction" in Georgia and said the action against McBrayer, "flouted" the free-speech provision of the national constitution.

"As long as a man keeps within the law and the precedents upon which the government was founded," Mr. Anderson said, "he has the right whether he be a Methodist preacher or the devil himself to get up and say what he thinks."

Suspension of the minister also drew comment from Spence Grayson, chairman of the Georgia Association for Local Option, which directed the unsuccessful campaign for repeal in Georgia in the referenda May 15. Mr.

HOOVER ASSAILS NRA AS FASCISM

Labor Will Not Long Stand for Practices, Declares Ex-President.

PALO ALTO, Cal., May 24.—(AP)—Former President Herbert Hoover today characterized as "not American" the use of a boycott to enforce the NRA.

"American labor," his statement asserted, "will not long stand for price-fixing, limitations of output, stifling of competition or any other of the monopolistic and fascist practices inherent in the NRA."

Its enforcement by bureaucratic coercion, intimidation and boycott are not American."

Mr. Hoover's statement continued: "If all these things are liberal and progressive, we need some new definitions of these terms.

"The purpose of the act so far as it abolished sweating through minimum wages and hours, and so far as it abolishes child labor, are right.

"But they should be accomplished by other than fascist methods if they are to be truly liberal and progressive."

The former president gave out his statement just prior to leaving for Des Moines, Iowa, by automobile to deliver a commencement day address at Drake University.

Although Mr. Hoover made no direct reference to William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, his latest pronouncement on the NRA was given in response to Mr. Green's recent criticisms of the views expressed by Mr. Hoover in the interview he gave to the Associated Press on May 15.

Mr. Hoover then advocated complete abolition of the NRA.

Roosevelt Approves Bankhead Extension

WASHINGTON, May 24.—(AP)—President Roosevelt joined today in the agreement of congressional agriculture leaders for an extension of the late Bankhead compulsory cotton production control act.

While the congressional members who recommended the one-eyar extension stated today that another 12-cent loan would be allowed on this year's cotton crop if the bill is extended, Mr. Roosevelt said this subject was not discussed at today's White House meeting.

NEW NRA MEASURE FAVORED BY F. D. R.

Bill To Provide Extension of 21 1-2 Months To Be Rushed by House.

WASHINGTON, May 24.—(AP)—A 21 1-2 month NRA extension bill, newly approved by President Roosevelt and differing widely from the senate measure, tonight was rushed at top speed through machinery that would bring it to a house vote next week.

Amid considerable fanfare and a flurry of fast breaking developments, including loud pleas by Hugh S. Johnson and William Green, administration forces suddenly intensified their effort to enact a new law before the NRA expires three weeks hence. Some of the actions were:

President Roosevelt, at conference with senate and house leaders, indicated approval of the principles of the Wagner labor relations bill, bitterly fought by industry but insisted upon by labor as a necessary bulwark to the NRA;

At the same conference Mr. Roosevelt endorsed the 21 1-2-month NRA extension plan, labeled by administration spokesmen and some NRA proponents as a "compromise," despite the senate's nine-months bill;

Promptly from the senate there echoed a warning, voiced by Senators Borah, of Idaho; Nye, of North Dakota, and King, of Utah, among others, that there would be a knock-down fight if the senate's nine-months extension bill was extended to two years or even 21 1-2 months.

Sees Strike Threats

As president of the American Federation of Labor, Green told a house committee, which arranged to sit on into the night to complete its NRA hearings, that "strikes and strife on a nation-wide basis" threatened unless NRA was extended two years;

General Johnson, called as another of a list of pro-NRA witnesses before the house committee, pleaded colorfully that the Blue Eagle not be allowed to die;

Understanding Reached

At the White House conference, senate and house leaders were reported in authoritative quarters to have reached a tacit, if tentative, understanding to this effect:

The house ways and means committee, before which the NRA hearings are being held, will bend every effort to present its NRA extension bill to the house Tuesday for passage by Wednesday night. That bill, it was said authoritatively and privately, will include:

1. An extension to April 1, 1937—or 21 1-2 months;
2. Power to apply codes to industries substantially affecting" interstate commerce;
3. Provisions forbidding price-fixing;
4. An allowance of 90 days for the revision of existing codes;
5. Extension of the child labor ban

CHAIRMAN NAMES FULL MEMBERSHIP OF GEORGIA GROUP

Plans Also on Foot To Declare Post of National Committeewoman Vacant and Elect Mrs. C. Z. Harden to Place.

GROUP PERSONNEL IS PRO-TALMADGE

Clay Appointment To Fill Unexpired Term Will Have Approval of National Committee.

Announcing the complete membership of the new group, Chairman Hugh Howell yesterday called a meeting of the state democratic executive committee for next Thursday, May 30, in Atlanta.

Although the chairman said the session was the "customary organization meeting" it was generally expected the committee would formally select Ryburn G. Clay, president of the Fulton National bank, as national committeeman and there were reports an effort would be made to declare vacant the office of national committeewoman, a post now held by Mrs. Edgar Alexander, and elect Mrs. C. Z. Harden, of Ashburn, or one of several other prominent women to the post.

If Mr. Clay is selected by proper procedure, he will serve the unexpired term, as the national committee headquarters yesterday advised that whoever the democratic organization of Georgia selects, according to state statutes, will automatically become the state's member of the national committee, to serve until the national convention next year when committemen from all states will be chosen. There will be no opposition to Mr. Clay.

The new committee announced by Chairman Howell contains 119 members in addition to the officers. One more member is to be named before the meeting next week. All the old officers retain their posts except Vice Chairman Herman DeLaPerierre, of Hoschton, the state purchasing agent, who has announced he will be unable to serve because of the pressure of his official duties. The new vice chairman is Milton L. Fleetwood, of Cartersville, president of the Georgia Press Association.

Committee Pro-Talmadge.

The committee is considered preponderantly pro-Talmadge. It includes a number of new members who were prominent in their support of the governor in his 1934 race. A number of former members who were lukewarm in their support of Talmadge have been dropped, along with a few who supported either of the chief executive's two opponents in September.

It was a foregone conclusion yesterday that Mr. Clay would be the national committeeman and that his selection would meet with the approval of the democratic national committee.

At the state convention in Macon last October a resolution was adopted declaring the national committeemanship vacant and Mr. Clay was elected to succeed Major John S. Cohen. National Chairman James A. Farley refused to recognize the action of the convention and declared that Major Cohen was still the committeeman. However, the situation was clarified by the death of Major Cohen 10 days ago.

Mrs. Harden Favored.

Should the committee vote to declare the office of Mrs. Alexander vacant it is not considered likely that the same situation which marked the Clay-Cohen case would develop.

It was understood yesterday a large

CATHOLIC PRESS BODY IS TENDERED BANQUET

Prominent Speakers Discuss Problems Facing Publishers of Nation.

Prominent figures in the Catholic Press Association of America last night discussed problems facing their publications and the press of the nation in general at a banquet tendered members of the association by the Atlanta division of the Catholic Laymen's Association of Georgia and The Bulletin, of Augusta.

The speakers included Mayor Key, who welcomed the members of the association to the city; Major Clark Howell Jr., of The Constitution; Richard Reid, editor of the Bulletin; Joseph J. Quinn, president of the association and editor of the Southwest Courier; Jack Spalding, the Rev. James M. Gillis, editor of the Catholic World, and the Most Rev. Hugh C. Boyle, bishop of Pittsburgh.

Mayor Key spoke on the separation of church and state and declared he did not believe the church should attempt to tell a man what he could do in public life.

Field of Church.

"The field of the church," the mayor said, "should be to make a man a good citizen. If he is not a good citizen he can't be a good member of the church. By voting the people must get rid of demagogues such as Huey Long and Father Coughlin." This declaration brought applause.

"My church fired me out because I said prohibition was a failure," the mayor said. "Now they have fired a pastor because he agreed with me."

"They should have elevated Mayor Key to the pulpit instead of throwing him out the door," declared Major Howell Jr., the next speaker. Mr. Howell's statement was met with vigorous applause.

"I realize that in Georgia there are only 20,000 Catholics," Major Howell said. "However, they make up in quality what they lack in quantity." He discussed his attendance at the press convention in Hot Springs and declared one of the most important topics of discussion there was the freedom of the press and freedom of speech. These two subjects are inseparably aligned with the right of freedom in religious thought, he said.

Newsprint in Georgia.

Major Howell told of the development of a newsprint manufacturing plant at Savannah by Dr. Charles Herty and declared the plant would be of great value in the development of the south.

"It means we will get paper at less cost and it will keep the prices of Canadian paper at a fair and equitable figure," he said.

He exhibited products of the Savannah plant, which included nitrocellulose, newsprint, cellophane and rayon pulp, all made from pine.

Mr. Spalding traced the development of the Catholic Laymens' Association of Georgia and outlined its contributions to the creation of a friendly feeling among the citizens of Georgia. He told how the association had been instrumental in overcoming the prejudice of creed in the state.

Mr. Quinn discussed the Catholic Press Association, tracing its development and outlining its accomplishments.

Rise of Association.

"We may trace the rise of the Catholic Press Association as a nation-wide force only since the end of the World War," he said. "The editors and publishers have built solidly, believing it is better to make a light than to make a living."

He decried the present situation in Mexico and declared certain newspapers in the United States were aiding in the persecution of Mexican members of the Catholic church and members of the clergy.

Father Gillis spoke on "A Plea for More Personal Journalism." He assailed the columnists "who demanded their names and pictures at the top of their columns and wrote chit chat of Broadway and gossip, scandal, stench and filth."

Personality should find more chance for expression in the newspapers of the nation, he said, and "boilerplate" should become of minor importance. Bishop Boyle, of Pittsburg discussed news and its moral implications.

A memorial mass for deceased members will be conducted at 8 o'clock this morning at the Sacred Heart Church and at 10:15 the concluding business session will get under way at the Biltmore.

Prominent Figures at Banquet of Catholic Press

DR. A.F. HARMAN HEADS ALABAMA COLLEGE

Dr. T. H. Napier Elected Dean; New Chief Succeeds Carmichael Sept. 1.

MONTEVALLO, Ala., May 24.—(AP) Dr. A. F. Harman, former state superintendent of education, today was named president of Alabama College, to succeed Dr. O. C. Carmichael. The action was taken at the annual meeting of the board of trustees.

Dr. T. H. Napier, dean of the Alabama College faculty, and who had been prominently mentioned with Dr. Harman, was appointed dean of the college by the trustees.

Vote of the board on election of the new president was not announced.

Dr. Harman will become president of Alabama College on September 1, when Dr. Carmichael leaves the institution to become dean of the graduate school of Vanderbilt University.

All members of the board of trustees, with the exception of Representative W. B. Oliver, were present at the meeting, including Governor Bibb Graves, ex-official chairman.

Dr. Napier had been widely indorsed by students and alumnae organizations of the college to succeed Dr. Carmichael.

LOCAL ROBBERIES BELIEVED SOLVED IN DETROIT ARREST

The holdup robberies early in September of the Schultz Cigar store at Broad and Marietta streets and the Thom McAnn Shoe store on Peachtree, were believed cleared up yesterday by Detective Lieutenant C. E. McCrary by investigations which have been carried on for some time with the police of Detroit, Mich.

The man whom Lieutenant McCrary says robbed the Atlanta firms was arrested on May 11 in Detroit and gave the name of Byron Washburn, alias James Walls, alias Frank Griffin. His confession given to police there contained admission of robberies in Cleveland, Ohio; Chicago, Louisville, Jacksonville, Miami, Toledo and Atlanta. He was identified by E. C. Guthrie, manager of Schultz Cigar store, through a picture sent to Lieutenant McCrary by Detroit police.

PARTY COMMITTEE TO MEET THURSDAY

group of members of the committee were in favor of electing Mrs. Harden, pointing out Mrs. Alexander has been out of the city for several months and has given no indication of returning to assume her duties.

"Mrs. Alexander has been in California since the first of the year and I understand she has taken up permanent residence in that state," a prominent member of the committee said yesterday. "It would seem the office is already vacant and the national committee should so recognize it."

In addition to Mrs. Harden a number of other prominent women are being mentioned for the committeewoman's post.

These include former State Senator Susie T. Moore, of Tifton; Mrs. William T. Healey, of Atlanta; Mrs. Wheeler Tolbert, of Columbus, and Mrs. Helen Williams Coxon, of Ludowici.

Talmadge Friends in Majority.

A study of the personnel of the committee shows without question the Talmadge supporters have a great majority. So what takes place at the meeting next week undoubtedly will be determined by the governor's views. It is known he would look with favor on the selection of any of the women mentioned for the committee post. Mrs. Harden's husband, Senator Harden, was a strong supporter of the governor in all of his races and was a Talmadge leader in the recent session of the general assembly.

Mrs. Moore likewise always has supported the governor. She is now a vice chairman of the state committee.

It is not known whether or not Mrs. Healey would accept the post. She was out of the city yesterday but a number of her friends have been active in her behalf for several weeks, presumably without sounding her out on the question. It is believed, however, that a desire on the part of the committee to select a woman from outside Atlanta, inasmuch as the committeeship is going to Atlanta, will control the selection of the committeewoman.

Both Mrs. Tolbert and Mrs. Coxon are well-known in state politics, having served in the general assembly from their respective counties, Muscogee and Long.

60 Elected Last Year.

Of the 119 members of the committee 60 were elected by the state convention at Macon last year and the remaining 59 appointed by Chairman Howell under authority contained in a resolution approved by the convention. Mr. Howell is to appoint one additional member from the tenth district.

In making public the membership of the committee, Mr. Howell said he had appointed L. C. Pope, of Dublin, to the sixth district group to fill a vacancy created by the death of L. C. Bracewell. Mr. Pope and Mr. Bracewell were close personal friends.

The membership from the fifth district, which includes Atlanta and Decatur, follows:

Selected by the convention: T. E. Owen, Conyers; Mrs. James R. Bachman, East Lake; Henry C. Davidson, Atlanta; Ben Forkner, Avondale; Young H. Fraser, Atlanta; Mayor Ed Newmyer, of Lithonia, and Alex McLennon, of Decatur.

Selected by the chairman: R. J. Reynolds Jr., Atlanta; Mrs. Healey, Atlanta; Mrs. George Brown, Atlanta; Mrs. William P. Dunn, Atlanta; Dr. Samuel Green, Atlanta, and Bob Gailey, Conyers.

Personnel of Committee.

The full personnel of the new committee, the fifth district excepted, follows:

Hugh Howell, Atlanta, chairman; Judge James H. Skelton, of Hartwell; Mrs. Moore and Mr. Feetwood, vice chairmen; Mrs. Eleanor Orr Roan, of Palmetto, secretary, and Andrew J. Kingery, of Summitt, assistant secretary.

Selected by Convention.

First District: H. W. Blount, Waynesboro; J. D. Bradley, Glennville; Donald Frazier, Ludowici; Dr. Dessie Smith, Swainsboro; John J. Bouhan, Savannah; E. G. Weathers, Millen; Mrs. Helen Williams Coxson, Ludowici.

Second District: Mrs. Susie T. Moore, Tifton; Mrs. Clara Conroy, Albany; C. W. Monk, Sylvester; J. E. Drake, Bainbridge; Leon Hobby, Moultrie; Sid Howell, Blakely.

Third District: Rhodes Brown, Columbus; E. R. King, Fort Gaines; W. M. Rawlins, Fitzgerald; Henry C. Kimbrough, Chipley; Mrs. C. Z. Harden, Ashburn; Mrs. W. B. Cobb, Eastman.

Eighth District: Mrs. Chester A. Ryals, McRae; Z. D. Cravey, McRae; W. S. Mann, McRae; Owen J. Clark, Ocilla; Mrs. J. A. Rollison, Waycross; Perry Middleton, Brunswick.

Ninth District: Watkins Edwards, Ellijay; Thomas H. Crawford, Blueridge; Sandy Beaver, Gainesville; W. H. Thomas, Homer; C. P. Wilbanks, Clarkesville; A. D. Harris, Commerce.

Tenth District: Mrs. Julius Y. Talmadge, Athens; Ernest Camp, Monroe; Charles Swain, Norwood; Billy Barrett, Augusta; R. B. McWhorter, Greensboro.

TALMADGE STRESSES NEED FOR TEMPERANCE

CHAMBLISS, Ga., May 24.—(AP)—Governor Talmadge, speaking before the graduating class of Chambliss High school today, urged temperance as a virtue to be taught in the homes, churches and schools.

He declared this was especially needed in view of the recent legalization of beer and wine in Georgia and the prevalence of whisky.

The governor made no reference to political matters in his address before some 300 people here. He drew a comparison of the governments of the United States and Cuba, saying government was "everywhere" on the island republic and declared the people there, with the exception of the rich and powerful, were living in a state of "poverty, beggary and starvation."

ROOSEVELT, NEW DEAL PRAISED BY MRS. O'DAY

New York Congresswoman Commends NRA in Speech Before Women Democrats

Commending the NRA as beneficial to homes and families, Mrs. Caroline O'Day, congresswoman-at-large from New York, whole-heartedly indorsed the Roosevelt administration and the New Deal last night in an address before Georgia women democrats and state dignitaries.

The New York congresswoman is a native of Georgia and is in Atlanta to receive an honorary degree tomorrow from Oglethorpe University.

"President Roosevelt is leading us in the right direction toward recovery," Mrs. O'Day declared. "The NRA and other projects of the New Deal are bringing national recovery and I hope the NRA will be extended at least two years."

Introduced by Classmate.

Introduced by Mrs. Lamar Rutherford Lipscomb, who was her classmate at Lucy Cobb Institute in Athens, Mrs. O'Day told of her early activities in New York state as a democratic politician.

Long a personal friend of Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Mrs. O'Day and the president's wife toured New York many years ago organizing women into democratic clubs. They helped build up the party in that state to the extent that in the recent elections when Mrs. O'Day offered for congresswoman-at-large, she received a 700,000 vote majority.

She was born in Savannah and educated in the schools there and in Athens, being reared in an atmosphere entirely democratic. In her girlhood, republicans were beyond the pale and it was no uncommon thing for a republican to be socially ostracized because of his political beliefs. So the native Georgian was steeped in the tenets of the one-party south.

Situation Reversed.

Following her graduation from college, Mrs. O'Day traveled in Europe and returned to settle in the Empire State of the North. There she found the situation of her girlhood (politically) was exactly the reverse. Democrats were out and republicans were in, in no uncertain manner.

The Georgia woman began then the fight which resulted in her overwhelming victory in her race for congress. Mrs. O'Day says women are really awakening, now that the humanitarian features of the New Deal are apparent, and are taking a tremendously important part in the political life of our country.

Last night she praised President Roosevelt and Postmaster General James A. Farley, characterizing the latter as being an able man in his party. She said democrats were fortunate to have such a man as the postmaster general.

Mrs. Dunn Presides.

Mrs. William P. Dunn, democratic woman leader in Georgia, presided at the dinner given for Mrs. O'Day last night at the Ansley hotel by the Georgia Democratic Luncheon Club. The congresswoman was welcomed by Mrs. Susie T. Moore, of Tifton, who was formerly a state senator.

Mrs. O'Day arrived yesterday from New York, accompanied by her young daughter, Miss Elia O'Day. They are stopping at the Biltmore hotel.

Among distinguished guests at the dinner were Chief Justice Richard B. Russell, Judge Price Gilbert, Judge Alexander Stephens, Judge John D. Humphries, Judge R. C. Bell and State Democratic Chairman Hugh Howell. In the audience, too, was Gladys Hanson, noted New York actress, who resides here.

Mrs. O'Day will be honor guest at several entertainments during her stay in Atlanta.

NURSE SHUTS DOOR ON QUINS' MOTHER

passed through the guarded nursery gate. The inflexible rule is "positively no visitors."

They walked the little way to the nursery steps. The babies, each in her perambulator, were on the porch, catching the warmth of the afternoon sun. All were asleep.

Nurse De Kiriline appeared on the porch and stood at the head of the short flight of stairs that led down to the walk along which Mrs. Dionne and her cousins had approached.

Mrs. Dionne smiled greeting and started forward.

"Only Little Peek."

Nurse De Kiriline spoke.

"Don't you come up those steps."

The mother of the world's most famous babies stopped.

Someone protested:

"But we only want to take a little peek. See, they are asleep, and the wind is blowing away from them. Surely there can be no harm; and we have come so far."

"Don't come up those steps," said Nurse De Kiriline.

And then, in the room where she had borne her babies, Elzire Dionne sobbed disconsolately until long after the Sabbath sun had gone.

Nurse De Kiriline's action was explained as due to the presence of companions with Mrs. Dionne, for the mother of the quintuplets has no bars against her at the hospital.

Visitors Dangerous.

Dr. A. R. Dafoe has been strictly adhering to his "no visitors" rule ever since the quintuplets recovered recently from mild illnesses due to a cold which spread among them, and Nurse De Kiriline, conscientious and highly competent, was only carrying out the rule to the letter.

Plans have been under way for some time to turn the nursing duties over to nurses of a religious order June 1, but arrangements are incomplete. Efforts to have the grey nuns of Mattawa hospital take charge collapsed because of rules which make it impossible for the nuns of that order to leave on such detached duties.

Reich's Sterilization Is Attacked by Pope

VATICAN CITY, May 24.—(AP) Pope Pius today told 400 delegates to the International Hospital Congress that "incalculable damage will result for the whole world" if nazi Germany's program of sterilization and paganism extends to other nations.

The pontiff frankly told the delegates, among them several Americans, that he was not pleased over the fact that the topic, "Eugenics and Sterilization," listed on their program, had been postponed for discussion at a larger congress.

He also expressed his displeasure that one delegate had expressed the hope that the nazi idea would be adopted by the whole world.

BERLIN, May 24.—(UP)—An official announcement on sterilizations in Germany through December 31, 1934, today showed 56,244 persons had undergone this social operation in less than two years of nazi rule.

MAY FESTIVAL—Gabriel Pierne's beautiful cantata, 'Children at Bethlehem,'" with a children's chorus and the Cincinnati Symphony orchestra under the direction of Eugene Goossens, presented as a feature of the famous May Festival of Music at Cincinnati, will be broadcast over WGST this afternoon from 2 to 3 o'clock.

The Cincinnati May Music Festivals have been famous for well over 60 years. In 1872 an invitation was sent to all choral societies in and about Cincinnati to unite with the Theodore Thomas orchestra for the purpose of giving a grand festival of music in Cincinnati under the direction of Thomas. Over 150 societies numbering 1,068 singers responded and the first May Festival was held at the old Exposition building in 1873. The festivals were so successful that funds soon were raised for the construction of Music Hall, formally opened for the third festival in May, 1878. Since that time the Cincinnati May Music Festivals have been striking features of the nation's musical life, attracting distinguished musicians from all parts of the world.

"MELODY MASTERPIECES" — Mary Eastman, soprano, and Evan Evans, baritone, with the symphony orchestra and male chorus directed by Howard Barlow, will broadcast a program of concert classics over WGST tonight from 8:30 to 9 o'clock.

"SONGTIME IN TENNESSEE"—The talented negro choral group of the Tennessee Agricultural and Industrial Normal school in Nashville, will offer another distinctive program of negro spirituals and favorite melodies in a broadcast over WGST tonight from 9 to 9:30 o'clock. The spirituals will be heard in special arrangements by Marie Brooks, who also directs the chorus.

REYNOLDS ESTATE CASE RESTS WITH JUSTICES

RALEIGH, N. C., May 24.—(AP)—A family agreement for settlement of Smith Reynolds' $28,000,000 estate tonight was in the hands of the North Carolina supreme court for a decision upon its legality, with no indication a ruling might be expected soon.

It was the second time since the death in Winston-Salem of the young cigaret fortune heir from a mysterious bullet wound nearly three years ago the court had been called upon to pass on a plan of settlement.

CONSUMERS' STRIKE CLOSES MEAT STORES

NEW YORK, May 24.—(AP)—Housewives incensed by rising prices called a consumers' strike today that closed kosher meat stores totaling 5,000, by one estimate.

In the Bronx, where picketing women carried placards charging a 100 per cent price increase in the last year, the New Deal Kosher Butcher Bosses' Association estimated 500 to 1,000 stores had closed. This same organization fixed the figure for other boroughs at 4,000.

CHISINAU, Rumania, May 24. (UP)—Fatal love dramatics begin young in Bessarabian Rumania.

Anton Prijerepcy, 12, and his school chum, Thomas Cerbagorow, 11, quarreled over the love of an 11-year-old girl. They decided to settle this affair by a knife duel.

After three minutes' battle, Thomas fell mortally wounded.

FLORIDA SOLONS VOTE OCCUPATIONAL LEVIES

Heavier Payments Will Be Made by Chain Stores.

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., May 24.—(AP)—The house late today passed, 69 to 19, the senate approved bill to levy occupational licenses and gross receipts taxes on retail business with chain stores paying the heavier amounts.

Meanwhile the senate spent the afternoon in heated debate over a question of whether to consider a 3 per cent general sales tax bill or to delay action on the measure until it determined what the house would do with the chain store tax bill.

The senate passed a house approved bill relevying the seventh cent of the gasoline tax and giving the $2,500,000 revenue to the state general treasury after refusing to give the money to the schools.

Shortly before, the house had requested this bill, which it had passed, be returned from the senate so the house might reconsider it and give the revenue to the schools.

LEGALIZATION OF RACING PROPOSED IN TENNESSEE

NASHVILLE, May 24.—(AP)—Senator Russell Wright said today that he has requested Governor McAlister to include in the call for the extra legislative session a proposal to legalize racing in Tennessee.

Estimating that the first year after it was legalized racing would pour $250,000 into the state treasury, the senator added that within five years "more than $1,000,000 annually would be realized from this source."

CONNECTICUT HOUSE DEFEATS SALES LEVY

HARTFORD, Conn., May 24.—(AP) A two per cent sales tax bill was defeated in the house tonight, 146 to 95, when a strong rural bloc, composed mainly of republicans, joined democrats in objecting to the levy.

The measure was rejected in the senate Wednesday night by one vote. Its passage was recommended by Governor Wilbur L. Cross in a special message.

FLAG PRESENTED UNIT AT TECH HIGH AT "OPEN HOUSE"

An American Legion flag was presented Company A, of Tech High school last night as the institution held its semi-annual "open house." Company A, commanded by Captain J. E. Bond, won first in competition with Boys' High school and Frank R. Fling, prominent Legionnaire, made the presentation.

More than 4,000 persons visited the school during the evening to see exhibits prepared by every department. The glee club, orchestra and band furnished music, and Patsy Tannanbaum, 11-year-old Atlanta dancer, who has recently appeared in a number of moving pictures, was a guest artist. This program was directed by H. A. Taylor.

Department heads of the school joined W. O. Cheney, principal, in sponsoring the "open house," the purpose of which is to acquaint the public with the work being done at Tech High.

TVA EXPANSION BILL IS TABLED IN HOUSE

Committee Refuses To Consider Senate-Approved Measure.

WASHINGTON, May 24.—(AP)—The administration's public power program received one of its severest rebuffs today when the house military committee, by a 13-to-12 vote, tabled legislation to broaden the activities of the Tennessee Valley Authority.

Talk of substitute legislation immediately came from both foes and friends of the TVA.

Representative McLean, republican, New Jersey, one of the anti-TVA leaders, said he would prepare a "proper bill." Several committeemen spoke, too, of the possibility of reconsidering the tabling, taking up the legislation again and rewriting sections of it.

"I think the legislation is going to come out of this committee and in a reasonably short time," remarked Representative Maverick, democrat, Texas. "I haven't a damn bit of doubt about it."

By not reporting out the legislation, he said, the committee would perpetuate abuses and inefficiency charged to the TVA by some committee members.

Tabling "Disciplinary."

McLean interpreted the vote to table as a "disciplinary measure."

The legislation, which passed the senate by a 3-to-1 vote, would declare specifically that TVA might sell power, generated at dams along the Tennessee river, in excess of that needed for government use. Federal Judge Grubbs in Birmingham held the present law does not authorize the marketing of surplus power.

It would boost from $50,000,000 to $100,000,000 the amount of bonds TVA might issue and permit the money to be used for purchase of private power generating and distributing systems.

Six democrats joined seven republicans in voting to table the legislation, which has been the subject of protracted hearings in which angry words flashed between members.

Representatives May and Edmiston, who favored tabling, said they understood Representative Schaefer might move for reconsideration of the action, paving the way for amendments.

"But if we do consider TVA legislation again," May remarked, "we want to write it ourselves and not have it dictated by the brain trust."

Proposed Changes.

He predicted any new legislation would drastically change the original TVA act so as to restrict the authority and board of directors, compel them to await definite directions from congress, provide that all TVA purchases be on a competitive bidding basis, and require TVA to conform to accounting practices of the general accounting office.

Maverick asserted a competitive bidding requirement probably would go into the legislation, as suggested by Comptroller General McCarl. An audit of McCarl's office took exception to numerous TVA purchases because they had not been made on a competitive basis.

The Texan asserted, furthermore, it was likely the committee would decide against giving TVA the right to approve private power developments at any point in the Tennessee river system. The Aluminum Company of America seeks to go ahead with plans to expand its system of dams and power plants on the Little Tennessee river—in compliance only with decisions of the Federal Power Commission and army engineers.

85th Birthday of Henry W. Grady Honored

"The New South" yesterday observed the 85th birthday anniversary of Henry W. Grady, Georgia's most distinguished journalist and orator. Here is shown R. McL. Taylor, president of the Henry W. Grady Bible class of the First Methodist church, placing a wreath on the base of the monument of the state's noted son, while Henry W. Grady IV, his great-grandson (behind the wreath), looks on. A Grady exhibit was opened yesterday at Emory University in connection with the birthday program. Staff photo.

Grady Was Vigorous Personality, Coulter Tells University Students

ATHENS, Ga., May 24.—(AP)—Henry W. Grady was described today as a vigorous, active and determined person by Dr. E. M. Coulter, professor of history at the University of Georgia, as students of the Grady School of Journalism paid tribute to the man for whom their institution is named.

Second Program.

The program honoring the eminent Georgia editor, was sponsored by the University chapter of Sigma Delta Chi, national journalistic fraternity. It was the second such program held at the University. The first being conducted last year when T. W. Reed, registrar of the university and former associate of Grady on the Atlanta Constitution, was the speaker.

Dr. Coulter told the students "Grady did more than any one man to bring the north and south back together following the Civil War. He was the south's ambassador of good will and was looked upon as such."

Throughout his life, the speaker said, Grady was always human, much like a boy, never growing up and keenly enjoying travel and roaming about.

"His favorite food was toasted cheese," Dr. Coulter said, and his mother always had a plate of it on the table when he came home (Athens) on his numerous visits.

"To many people Grady is better known as an orator than as a journalist. He never spoke from manuscript and on one occasion when making an address in Dallas, Texas, The Atlanta Constitution, of which he was editor, insisted that he write his speech in advance so that they and other papers might publish it immediately after it was delivered. Grady agreed but upon arriving in Dallas he decided if he gave the manuscript speech he would be cheating the public so he wired the paper to kill the story as he was delivering another speech."

Victor Hugo was Grady's favorite author, Dr. Coulter recalled, and "Les Miserables" his favorite book. Sports in all forms always appealed to the editor and he took an active, boyish interest in them.

While he possessed a determination in great quantities, Grady made many financial failures, the speaker said, but with it all he died with a little money.

"Grady felt a definite call for journalism when he was a boy of 18, and from that time on worked continuously at his chosen profession, claiming it a 'jealous profession' that required all his time. Grady possessed a higher standard for journalism and at all times lived up to his set standard," Dr. Coulter declared.

CHARLES L. RABUN WILL BE BURIED HERE

Charles Luther Rabun, 51-year-old Macon salesman, who was killed Thursday night in an automobile accident near Albany, will be buried here in Greenwood cemetery this afternoon following funeral rites to be conducted today in Macon.

Mr. Rabun was the son-in-law of Charley Gramling, chief engineer of the Atlanta water works, and had been connected with Sharpe and Dohme for 18 years. His neck was broken when his car skidded on a wet road and overturned into a ditch.

Surviving are his wife, the former Miss Sally Lou Gramling, of Atlanta; three sons, Luther Jr., Bob and Pat Rabun; a daughter, Sally Rabun, of Macon; five brothers, Ivey, of Waycross; C. P., of Valdosta; S. F., of Vidalia, George, of Brunswick, and F. M. Rabun, of Jacksonville, Fla.; and a sister, Mrs. Viola Coleman, of Vidalia.

Burial services will be held here at about 4 o'clock this afternoon.

JURY AWARDS $15,000 IN HEART BALM SUIT

NEW YORK, May 24.—(AP)—A supreme court jury today awarded $15,000 damages to Miss Katherine Leary Bond in her $500,000 breach of promise suit against Paul Spencer Clapp, former aide to Herbert Hoover and now a utilities executive of Columbus, Ohio.

B. M. Webster, counsel for Clapp, immediately motioned for the setting aside of the verdict and a new trial, both denied by Justice Aaron Steuer. Webster said an appeal will be filed.

The jury deliberated one hour and fifty minutes. Miss Bond left the courtroom when the jury retired and was not present when it brought in the verdict for her.

The legislature recently enacted a law prohibiting breach of promise and alienation of affections suits after those now pending have been disposed of.

WORLD WHEAT PACT EXTENDED ONE YEAR

LONDON, May 24.—(AP)—The shortest wheat conference since international efforts to boost prices began two years ago ended tonight after it finally agreed to extension for one year of the world wheat pact with all government control undertaking suspended indefinitely.

Tentatively accepted yesterday, the extension plan was drafted in final form today and will immediately be submitted to the 21 signatory governments. Their approval was held certain since the recommendations were so innocuous that even Argentina, the only nation whose acceptance was believed dubious, authorized her delegate to sign the pact. Last year's agreement wrecked by Argentina's repudiation of its export quota provisions, was scheduled to expire August 1.

ALABAMA ORDERS GIFFORD TO TESTIFY

MONTGOMERY, Ala., May 24.—(AP)—The Alabama Public Service Commission today ordered the American Telephone & Telegraph Company of New York and the Southern Bell System to have Walter S. Gifford, president of the American Telephone & Telegraph Company, appear before the commission May 29, as a witness in the state's suit seeking a 40 per cent reduction in telephone rates.

In additoin, the commission ordered the American Telephone & Telegraph Company of New York, the Southern Bell Telephone & Telegraph Company, the American Telephone and Telegraph of Alabama, and Western Electric Company to file with the commission a list of their respective officers and directors for the last three years.

Gifford's citation was requested by Attorney-General Albert Carmichael, attorney for the state, and Horace Wilkinson, counsel for the city of Birmingham, in the current rate reduction proceedings in which a 40 per cent impounding of revenue is asked pending final settlement.

BATON ROUGE RULE SOON MAY BE LIFTED

BATON ROUGE, La., May 24.—(AP)—A report that martial law will be lifted in Baton Rouge immediately after Senator Huey P. Long's visit here this week-end persisted today but it was not officially confirmed nor denied.

The Louisiana capital has been under military rule since January 25 when hundreds of militiamen were concentrated here from over the state to guard Long's "murder plot" hearing after scores of citizens had taken up arms against Long's rule.

TENNESSEE PROMISES AID TO "HUNGRY MEN"

MEMPHIS, Tenn., May 24.—(AP)—A delegation of "hungry men" marched on city hall today and received assurances that they and their families will be fed.

Wearing faded blue shirts and patched trousers, the group of 25 or 30 told of curtailed TERA work and bare pantries, of children going to school without breakfast.

Mayor Watkins Overton, who heard their story, telephoned Barton Brown, state relief administrator at Nashville, and announced later that "something will be done, yes, sir."

The mayor said Mr. Brown assured him he would investigate their needs immediately.

CARTER LOSES MOVE TO QUASH VENIRE

LAUREL, Miss., May 24.—(AP)—Efforts of defense attorneys representing W. M. Carter, 67, on trial for the "mutilation slaying" of Mrs. Daisy Keeton, to quash a special venire of talesmen from which a trial jury is being selected were unsuccessful today.

Examination of prospective jurors continued, with prospects that a full panel acceptable to both sides could be selected by tomorrow.

TRIAL OF STEINMETZ HALTED UNTIL MONDAY

State Fails To Prove Accused Forced To Marry Girl Slain in Hotel.

NEW YORK, May 24.—(AP)—The trial of Joseph L. Steinmetz, 22-year-old Brooklyn divinity student, for the murder of his 17-year-old bride, Ruth, adjourned today until Monday following the failure of the state to prove that the defendant had been forced to marry the girl he is accused of killing.

Judge Charles C. Nott, before whom the case is being tried in general sessions, ruled out most of the testimony of the slain bride's father, Samuel Armstrong, when the witness stated that Steinmetz had asked his consent to the marriage, which was refused.

Assistant District Attorney Alexander H. Kaminsky questioned the father regarding the reported relations between his daughter and Steinmetz prior to their marriage. He questioned him particularly about Ruth's having spent the night before her marriage in Steinmetz' bungalow in Los Angeles.

After the jury had been sent out of the courtroom, on motion of Defense Counsel Samuel S. Leibowitz, Kaminsky said the testimony of the father would prove that Steinmetz could not plead irresponsibility because of alcohol for the slaying of his wife and the Rev. Joseph J. Leonard in the Knights of Columbus hotel last November 26.

Armstrong's testimony, Kaminsky argued, would establish the true relations between the killer and killed and disclose that the defendant had sought the father's consent to the marriage only after the latter had knowledge of the episode in the bungalow.

Leibowitz will begin his summation when the trial is resumed Monday.

Jailed in Slaying.

PARKIN, Ark., May 24.—(AP)—Accused of killing a 70-year-old negro sharecropper when he found him "loafing," a farmer booked as Aubrey Lancaster, about 40, was ordered held for grand jury action on a charge of murder at a preliminary hearing here today.

Robber Uses Glass, Razor In Effort To End Life

KANSAS CITY, May 24.—(AP)—Robert J. Noonan, safecracker, said he would commit suicide before going to trial. He swallowed virtually all the metal in his cell but the iron bars and still is alive.

An X-ray examination showed he had swallowed hairpins, metal from his garters, a handle from a cup, a razor blade and other pieces—about 20 in all. His repast also included several electric light bulbs.

STEVEDORE IS SLAIN BY ASSASSINS IN HOME

BROOKLYN, N. Y., May 24.—(AP)—While his wife looked on in horror, George Keeler, boss stevedore, was shot to death by two assassins who invaded his home and fired seven bullets into him as he lay in bed early this morning.

In another part of the house the Keeler children, George, 12, and Robert, 11, were sleeping.

Police are investigating to determine if the shooting was the result of labor trouble.

HITLER'S SPEECH A DUD

Adolph Hitler's amateurish effort in his address before the reichstag to cause Great Britain to lessen its support of the strong anti-nazi attitude of France and Italy has failed to impress the astute leaders of the British government.

Instead the long-heralded speech has aroused resentment not only among the nations that were aligned against Germany in the World War, but among the German allies, the Vienna government being among the first to criticize it.

Hitler's chief "concession" to Great Britain was an expressed willingness to limit the German navy to one-third the strength of the British naval forces and under certain conditions to agree to the scrapping of submarines.

In the past, when the British channel was the first line of defense of Great Britain, the offer might have been impressive, but with the development of air transport the British point of greatest vulnerability is from bombing machines that could in a few hours' time lay waste London and the great industrial centers of England.

There was no backtracking by Hitler from his recent declaration that Germany will maintain an air force "equal to that of any other nation." To further weaken faith in the sincerity of his peace gesture is the announcement made coincident to his address of a military service decree under which all males between 18 and 45 will be required to serve one year in the military forces of the nation and provides for the drafting of all males and females in case of war.

It is not surprising that Great Britain's answer is voiced in the launching of an intensive drive to strengthen its air forces so that in the air, now the nation's first line of defense, it will be as impregnable as it heretofore has been from the sea.

Soviet Russia ascribes to Hitler an attempt to isolate Germany's opponents so that they may be crushed one by one, and holds that he has clearly rejected collective peace efforts. Official organs of the Moscow government reply to the German claim that the speech was a "peace offering" by labeling it as a plan "for the isolation of belligerents and the localization of war."

The chief service that will be rendered by the speech is that it clarifies Germany's position and should enable ensuing conversations between the nazis and other European governments to more directly approach the solution of existing differences.

It will have no effect toward weakening any link of the chain of unfriendly nations that has been forged around Germany through the various diplomatic agreements reached during the past month.

FOLLOWING GEORGIA'S TRAILS

Announcement that the members of the Georgia Appalachian Trail Club will be guests of the Cumberland Hiking Club of Tennessee during the coming week-end calls attention again to the unique opportunity presented by the trail clubs for wholesome entertainment and health-giving exercise in areas of great natural beauty.

Already the Appalachian Trail clubs have marked trails through wooded sections of the states from Maine to Georgia, and camp sites have been constructed along the entire route. These trails go through areas where nature's pristine loveliness has not been marred by man's destructiveness and are largely just as they were when the Indians roamed America's forests before the coming of the white man.

The Georgia club is one of the most active in the association, as revealed by its full calendar of activities during this spring. Picnic and scouting trips have been made to several of north Georgia's most alluring spots and the jaunt over this week-end will find the members following the trails in the vicinity of Lookout Mountain and Chattanooga.

Many well-known Atlantans are members of the club and are finding both health and enjoyment in the "friendship for the trails that lead to the faraway places." It is a pity that more of those who live in the crowded confines of the city have not come to a realization of the opportunities presented by membership in the trail club, of which Warner W. Hale, of Decatur, is president.

AID FOR MOUNTAIN CHILDREN

There are no more pathetic victims of the five years of economic depression than the children of the rural and mining sections of the Cumberland mountains. The already pitiful condition of thousands of these children, who in the best of times in other sections have known nothing but destitution and suffering, has now become such that they are in desperate need of food, clothing and the simplest requirements to maintain health.

They are described as the "helpless, innocent victims of a depression which for them and their parents started many years before the crash of 1929."

Descendants of the finest pioneer American families and being, for the most part, of pure Anglo-Saxon blood, existence for them is drab and their future cheerless. Many of these children are born and die without ever having had medical attention, and the pitifully insufficient number of visiting nurses find it difficult to give medicine in many of the homes because there are no spoons nor tumblers in which to measure and administer it.

Last year practically the only ray of hope that came to the children in the squalid mountain homes of this southern region was through the Save the Children Fund, of which a group of outstanding American men and women are officers and national and state sponsors.

After a recent visit of inspection among these children, Dr. Charles Trexler, pastor of St. James Lutheran church, New York, reported to the executive committee of the fund that "a large proportion are undernourished, poorly clad, and, worst of all, they have no joy in life. Except where recreational centers have been established, they have little realization of what play is and toys and games are practically unknown."

The fund is now working in more than 400 centers and 17 counties in these highlands of the south, and last year 20,000 children were helped by 500 volunteer helpers trained especially for the service. The children were immunized against typhoid and diphtheria, more than 15,000 garments and shoes distributed to enable them to attend school, 20,000 school books supplied and other vital services performed.

It is estimated that there are more than 200,000 of these destitute children who desperately need aid that they may be given a fair chance to grow to useful men and women.

Contributions of money, clothing, books or commodities can be sent to the fund at 156 Fifth avenue, New York, or to 309 Market street, Knoxville, Tenn. There is no more appealing nor vitally necessary charity in America today.

THE WORLD'S WINDOW

By PIERRE VAN PAASSEN.

After Crossing Africa.

The father of Norman Douglas, who lived many years in Switzerland and who was a great Alpinist (he died in a fall) had a neighbor, who constantly exasperated him with talk about a certain peak which was extremely difficult to scale. Unable to bear the implied challenge, Mr. Douglas Sr. set out one day in secret and after two or three days' hazardous work reached the top of that particular mountain. There he found a pile of stones and under the stones a metal box. In that metal box lay a document which established that the neighbor-tease had himself been there 20 years earlier.

I came to think of that incident today in connection with my journey through Africa. I am told by men who know that mine is a creditable performance. But I neglected one thing. I did not erect little monuments here and there to mark my passage and leave a little message to travelers who may come after me. "Alexander the Great and Napoleon always did that," one man told me. Of course that may be true enough but I am neither the one, nor the other. That does not take away the fact, however, that I should have made some mark in that village in the Tschad region where I witnessed a human sacrifice and saw the "drinkers of blood" tribe.

Need for Movie Camera.

Perhaps I should also have established a little monument in the country of the blue-skinned people testifying to the fact that in spite of all the blandishments of the comely damsels in that spot, your correspondent said: Get thee behind me, Satan! and is now returning to his own bourgeois fireside, full of bourgeois self-satisfaction.

What I should have taken and no kidding, is a movie-camera and about 20,000 yards of film. I think I would be a rich man with a film in my possession showing among other things: the celebration of the feast of Hussein and Hassan in the bazar of Fez, where excited gentlemen slash their heads with swords and daggers until they stream blood; an ordeal by fire, in which men and women walk into flaming piles of faggots; a midnight tom-tom in Nigeria; a cavalcade of veiled men; a tribe where the men are pigmies and the women gigantic Amazones, who cuddle their husbands with the whip-lash; the muezzins on the minarets of Marrakesch chanting the evening prayer at the beginning of the holy month; an execution of Berber rebels by a squad of the foreign legion; a parade by the corps de garde of the Negus of Abyssinia; a scene at the Wailing Wall in Jerusalem; the municipal symphony orchestra of Timbuctoo at work; the chant of the fishermen on Lake Tschad.

Chess by Telephone.

My guide Youssef ibn Avrahim being chased by a flock of ostrices in Fort Lamy; a reception by the sheik-sulamas at the Al-Cazar University in Cairo; a british officer in the Soudan playing chess by telephone with his nearest colleague 100 kilometers up the Nile; the flesh-eating horses of north Abyssinian tribesmen; (this part of the film should not be shown in Italy, obviously, as it might destroy the morale of the troops; we must be careful with national sensibilities); a parade of the mannequins at Aoua-Aoua, in the depths of southern Sahara province (this part of the film would of a neccessity have to be cut for American consumption, in America the human body does not exist, or, rather, it is deemed so ugly that it must be hidden under pieces of cloth, we must go easy on national sensibilities); the sacred meal of the priests of a tribal religion, who devour an ox raw and smear their faces with blood afterwards (we could not give this part of the film its correct title, for that would get the clergy up in arms against us for blasphemy, we must go easy on religious sensibilities). Well, to make it short, three-quarters of the film could not be shown anywhere. Even so it would be an interesting movie, in spite of all those cuts, I mean.

Health Talks

BY DR. WILLIAM BRADY

WHEN THE BLACK WIDOW BITES.

It is only in the past two or three years that we have heard much about arachnidism or poisoning by spider bites, and in most instances of such poisoning the black widow spider (Latrodectus mactans) is held responsible.

Here is a fairly typical case as reported in American Jour. Medical Sciences (April) by Drs. Elmer W. Gilbert and Charles M. Stewart, Los Angeles County hospital.

White male, 28, bitten by black widow November 6 while tearing down old barn. Two hours later nausea, vomiting, profuse perspiration, excruciating generalized abdominal pain, pain in thighs, legs, arms and forearms, and feelings of tightness and suffocation about chest and throat. Unable to speak because of tightness in masseter muscles. Entered hospital 9 p. m. next day, screaming with pain and thrashing and rolling about the bed. Skin hot and moist. Blood pressure 160.95. Pulse rapid but good quality. Temperature 101. Respiration 30. Boardlike rigidity belly, but no tenderness. Reflexes not elicited because of restlessness. Leukocytes 30,000 (perhaps 8,000 is the normal count of white corpuscles, 80 per cent neutrophils. (That is the ordinary proportion of polynuclear white corpuscles seen in cases of acute inflammation or more particularly suppuration). Now comes an interesting contribution made by these Los Angeles physicians.

At 10 p. m. ten cc. (ampule) of a ten per cent solution of calcium chlorid was given intraveneously with immediate relief of pain and total relaxation of the spastic muscles. Ten minutes later the patient was sitting up in bed, smoking and drinking and complaining only of some aching in feet and throat.

Make a note, Mrs. Sumsey, and you, Ben Told. If anybody on your beat gets bitten by a black widow, come a-runnin' with the information about calcium chlorid.

The cure, however, was not permanent. Alas, it seems a shame to spoil a perfect story, but the truth must be told, let the chips fall where they may. The patient received a hypodermic injection of a narcotic to insure sleep that night. At 7:30 next morning there was recurrence of the pain, and a second ten cubic centimeters of the 10 per cent solution of calcium chlorid was injected into a vein, and again the patient experienced prompt and complete relief. Still a third time that same evening pains returned, and this time one gram (about 15 grains) of calcium gluconate was given by mouth and another hypodermic injection of narcotic, and this brought relief in 15 minutes. Three hours later it was necessary to repeat these medicines, and again at 2 p. m. the fourth day, with relief of pain in both instances within 15 minutes. Patient was discharged symptomless the evening of the fourth day.

Four other cases are reported by the Los Angeles physicians. In one case excruciating pains in lower chest and lumbar regions were completely dispelled within one minute after an intramuscular injection of 10 cc. of 10 per cent solution of calcium gluconate. Calcium gluconate was chosen because it is easier to administer by injection into muscle tissue. Calcium chlorid is preferred where the injection is given directly into a vein.

News Behind the News

By Paul Mallon

PREJUDICE WASHINGTON, May 24.—The senate debate on the bonus was about up to the level of the top of the period at the end of this sentence.

For instance, a leading republican inflationist made the best bonus defense speech. His argument ran this way: There is already plenty of money outstanding, but no one can get it, because it is in the banks. Therefore, congress should pass the bonus and put two billions more in circulation. (This two billion would wind up in the banks within 30 days, thus doubling the excess reserves situation which the speaker deplored.)

The star speech on the other side was made by an anti-bonusite who pleaded long and loudly that the president, not congress, had the responsibility for money policy and that therefore congress should never interfere with the president on money matters. Apparently he forgot the section of the constiution which says that congress has the responsibility for fixing the value of money, etc.

The whole discussion was further proof that congressional debate is not what it pretends to be. The speakers first decide which side they are going to be on and then seek pretexts to justify themselves and their political clients. They are not disinterested legislators, but attorneys for the prosecution or defense.

BOTTLERS It is no secret that government press agents try to control news, but they are usually smart enough not to get caught. The publicity department of Mr. Hopkins' FERA was nabbed the other day, red-faced and red-handed.

A newsman wandered into the office of a division head, seeking some statistics about the great work the Hopkins spending program is supposed to do. While he was getting the information, a telephone rang. The voice at the other end of the wire could be heard all over the room. It was the press agent, saying to the division head, in effect: "I understand you have a newspaperman in your room and you are giving him information. You are not supposed to do that. All information must come through me."

Apparently the fault is not entirely that of the publicity system, but of some of the men in it who have come to believe they are bottlers of information instead of purveyors of it.

DUDS Two thorough private investigations of son James Roosevelt's insurance activities have been made lately. The second has just been completed by a searcher who spent a month at it. Both failed to develop anything significant, or anything worth publishing.

Insiders understand that son James will not entirely dissociate himself from his insurance business while he is instituting a new system of accounts at Hyde Park. He will merely be less active.

BRICK-BOUQUET No one noticed State Secretary's Hull's answer to Yankee Trader Peek (except possibly Mr. Peek). It was hidden down at the bottom of President Roosevelt's radio message on Maritime Day:

"Our reciprocity treaties are already bearing fruit and similar treaties which are expected to be equally beneficial are in the process of being negotiated. I wish you every success . . . and stand ready to help at every opportunity."

The message was sent to Hull to read over the radio. It effectively implied an indorsement of the Hull method (as opposed to the Peek method) of meeting the foreign trade situation.

BOOM It was erroneously stated here that General Dawes founded his expectation of a June-July boom on the experience in the recovery of 1921. His basis was the depressions commencing in September, 1873, and May, 1893, to which the same objections largely apply. His argument is:

"The mass movement in demand for heavy durable goods, when the earned income of the mass passes the particular point in a depression where consumption of necessities is covered, is always sudden and therefore unexpected. Five years and seven months after the initial stock crashes of both the two former panics, the sudden rise in demand for heavy durable goods took the trade unawares. I believe it will do so this time."

No one will doubt the general's basic reasoning that a durable goods boom will follow when the income of the people passes their expenditure requirements for necessities of life. They will then spend this excess for improving their condition of life. Industry will expand to provide them with better homes and better facilities in substantial quantites.

But a lot of people will question the Dawes time element. They will doubt whether the income of the people will reach the necessary point exactly five years and seven months after the panic this time. The reasons are both political and economic, as previously outlined.

You can tell by the end of July who is right.

CADETS The NRA rally here was somewhat sad. About 1,700 small manufacturers and retailers gathered here for it. Most of them came from New York and New England, and most of these are clothing makers. They appeared more awed than enthusiastic. They sat sedately in their chairs and listened with set faces to the speakers, whom they applauded mildly. This, in comparison to the shirt-sleeved farmers, whose restless excitement permeated the same hall earlier and whose whoops made the farmer march rally sound like a rodeo.

The businessmen had an organ for music. It played the march of "The High School Cadets!"

Another Letter From a Bald-Headed Dad to His Red-Headed Daughter

By Robert Quillen

My Dear Louise:

For the good of your soul I present Horrible Example No. 46, in the persons of Bill and Lida.

They ought to be happy. From the viewpoint of an oldish fellow who has lost most of his hair, teeth and illusions, they seem to have everything required to make life a jolly adventure.

ROBERT QUILLEN.

They have about as much income as others in their crowd. They have a nicely furnished apartment and a car. They have sound and well-formed bodies, good health and good looks. And they have youth and friends.

Yet they are rapidly turning sour and spoiling their lives with home-made misery.

They make remarks about their friends, and look for evil in every innocent act. They watch for slights. In short, they are becoming bitter and resentful and secretive, and the poison in their souls is slowly but surely marking their faces.

Do you know what the poison is? It is envy.

They have developed the fatal habit of making comparisons, and now they can't enjoy duck soup for wondering if their friends have a spoonful more.

There are few afflictions that wreck a life so completely and surely as the habit of envy. It is the seed of self-pity and malice and all uncharitableness. Once it festers in the heart, happiness is gone forever.

You cannot say: "I envy these people now, but I shall outgrow it as my fortune improves." For envy feeds on its own class and adjusts itself to every change of fortune.

People do not envy Henry Ford, but the Joneses next door. Lida does not covet a Morgan yacht, but an electric refrigerator like her friend Nell's. It is not a Mellon's profits that we resent, but the good fortune of our friends.

Envy is not an emotion, but a mental habit; and no matter how high the envious climb, there is always a greater fortune or a wider fame to kindle jealous resentment. One king envies another's throne as one bum envies another's shoes.

Guard your soul against envy, my dear, as you would guard your body against an incurable disease. The most you can get out of life is happiness; and to envy the good fortune which promises happiness is to fill your heart with a poison that no good fortune can overcome.

Love, DAD.

2 ALABAMA YOUTHS ARE KILLED BY TRAIN

FAYETTE, Ala., May 24.—(AP)—Robert Newton, 18, and Harold E. Humber, 15, both of Fayette were found dead today beside the railroad tracks at Kennedy, in Lamar county.

They apparently had been struck by a freight train.

Relatives said the two youths had ridden a freight train to Kennedy last night to call on two girls.

FLORIDAN IS KILLED, 4 HURT IN CRASH

ST. GEORGE, S. C., May 24.—(AP) Mrs. Laura Schofer, 65, of Vero Beach, Fla., was killed and four others injured late yesterday in an automobile accident near here.

The injured:

Mrs. Selma Nelson, 23, Jamestown, N. Y., cuts and bruises.

Mrs. Bertha Horne, 50, Vero Beach, broken thigh and ankle.

Mrs. S. Snodgrass, 80, Vero Beach, badly shaken up and bruised.

Sam Dupre, negro chauffer, of Vero Beach, minor cuts and bruises.

FAIR ENOUGH

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Excitements Come and Go. NEW YORK, May 24. — It would be interesting to know how many of the 8,500,000 voters who are said to have enrolled in Father Charles E. Coughlin's National Union for Social Justice are now or have been members of the Ku Klux Klan, which used to set bonfires on the hilltops in the cool of the evening and hold up before the nation, as an evil, alien plotter, a standardized, sinister figure of a Roman Catholic priest.

The Catholic priest in the Ku Klux version was not only the political agent of the pope but a military organizer as well, who kept in the cellar of his parish house or hidden in secret panels in his church a rack of rifles and a sizable dump of ammunition in readiness for that bloody night when the word would be secretly passed among the faithful to come and get their arms and spread over town slaughtering their patriotic American neighbors in their sleep.

Al Smith was to be the pope's man in the White House, receiving secret orders from the Vatican by private wire, and things were going to go pretty badly for those patriots who managed to escape to the swamps and thickets on the night of horror. But Al Smith was defeated, thanks to Mr. Hoover and Mabel Walker Hillebrandt, and the pogrom was indefinitely postponed.

Circular Road. Having saved the country, the Ku Klux Klan died of its own absurdity after a fantastic existence which cast considerable doubt on the mental fitness of a great many Americans for the responsibility of the vote. A few die-hards still cherish in their attics the nightshirts which they used to wear in parades, and assure themselves that the Klan is not dead but sleeping. But the great mass of born joiners upon the dissolution of their league were left without a common bond and a common hatred.

As typical joiners there must be many of them who now find themselves enrolled under the filmy banner of the radio priest from Detroit and following, of all people on earth, a Roman Catholic clergyman a few more steps on the circular road to where they were in the beginning.

Others will have pledged themselves to Dr. Frank Townsend's plan to award $200 a month to everybody who is rising 60 years, and others will certainly be found in Huey's wishful following. And some, of course, will be enrolled in all three, playing their desires and enmities clear across the board as a man might embrace all religions in the hope of picking the winner.

No Handicap. It is no handicap to Father Coughlin that he has so far been unable to state in the course of several million words just what it is that he proposes to give his 8,500,000 followers or how he would go about it. Economists who have made a serious effort to discover the meaning of his orations might as well have spent their time searching for some meaning in the state papers of Warren G. Harding. He is neither a leader nor a candidate, he has no party but something called a lobby, no program but merely some by no means original complaints, and he is running his own show and having no truck with Huey.

Similarly, Dr. Townsend wants no part of Upton Sinclair, regarding him as a communist, and Sinclair looks upon Long as an ordinary, low exploiter of a tragic mass of ignorance and poverty. Of them all only Senator Long seems willing to join up with anybody against the president, confident that once he is admitted to any such fold he can eventually take charge and add it to his own.

Sure of Himself? Even intelligent citizens, such is the state of intelligence at best, find themselves baffled and utterly licked in their serious efforts to reach some understanding of the meaning of money and the problems of banking; so it would be a great waste of time for anybody appealing as Father Coughlin does to the joiners and lapel-button brothers to attempt to explain. If it is impossible for him to reduce his great wish to an understandable plan, it is also unnecessary, for he has addressed himself to a great scattering of footloose political itinerants who enjoy the right to vote without any obligation to understand what they are voting for. Judging by his orations, he isn't too sure himself, and by his refusal to take the responsibility of leading the great and excited mass which he has called together he suggests that he has merely pulled the fire alarm to see the engines run.

Today's Hero. Excitements come and go, though. Patriots who chased people by the name of Krauss up alleys in 1917 are not now certain that Grover Bergdoll wasn't right after all. Mr. Hoover's idolatrous following who took one lump instead of two and elected him president lived to cheer Frank Roosevelt as though God had sent him, and then to revile him for turning down the bonus.

And men who paid dues and royalties to Hiram Wesley Evans, the imperial wizard, will inevitably be found enrolled among the followers of a Catholic priest who came and called to them out of a cloud, saying, "This way"—but not which way.

Talmudic Tales

By DAVID MORANTZ

(Based upon the ancient legends found in the Talmud, which work embodies the civil and canonical laws and traditions of the Jewish people.)

Number 30.

THE END OF AMBITION—THE GRAVE.

When Alexander the Great was denied admittance to paradise, he said to the keeper of the gates:

"Since you refuse to admit me, give me something to show that I have at least come this far."

"Since you insist," replied the keeper of the gates, "take this and begone."

When Alexander saw that what the keeper had given him was a part of a human skull, he threw it from him angrily.

A sage, who was passing and saw him do this, said, "Despise not this present, although it may appear insignificant to you. It possesses unusual qualities which will be apparent to you if you but weigh it with gold or silver."

Alexander ordered a scale brought and found that the skull outweighed the gold and silver.

"This is unbelievable," he cried. "How do you account for the fact that such a small piece of matter should outweigh so much gold and silver?"

The wise man then covered the bone with a small portion of earth and immediately the position of the scale changed, the gold now far overbalancing the skull.

"Your majesty," replied the sage, "that is the part of the skull which surrounds the human eye, the eye which nothing can satisfy. The more it sees, the more it wants. The more it possesses, the more it desires. Such is the eye of man which nothing can satisfy but the earth which covers it in the grave."

"Talmudic Tales" now available in book form of 193 pages, containing 128 of these quaint legends attractively bound in grained blue vellum cloth, with gold-stamped title; suitable for gifts or prizes. Price $1.50, postage prepaid. All books sent on orders received by June 15 will bear author's personal autograph. Address orders to "Talmudic Tales, care The Atlanta Constitution."

CHICAGO U. CO-ED HAZY ABOUT RED TEACHINGS

CHICAGO, May 24. — (AP) — The heroine of the campus drama of alleged "red" encroachment upon the University of Chicago told the state senate investigating committee today she remained untouched by the subversive influences she believed extant there.

Miss Lucille Norton, 18, recent co-ed whose breakfast talks with her wealthy uncle, Charles R. Walgreen, led to his asserted discovery "communism was being taught" there, affirmed her agreement "in substance" with her uncle's conclusion.

But asked whether she could point out a particular instance when she was indoctrinated with communistic philosophy she replied, "No."

The university, represented by James Douglas, a trustee and former assistant secretary of the United States treasury, did not cross-examine Miss Norton but rested on the testimony of three professors who preceded her.

In Georgia's FIELDS and STREAMS

By H. A. Carter

INDIAN PINK.

The first frantic blooming of the rich woods flowers has passed and the forest floor has settled down to the routine of producing its beautiful summer sequence. For some reason the blooming of Indian Pink seems to mark for me the transition from spring to summer flowers. Possibly this is due to early associations with this plant; it was one of the first I knew by name and remains as one of my favorites.

You cannot fail to know this plant when you see it. It may be eight to twenty or more inches in length; the stem may be perfectly erect or prostrate for half its length, although the former condition is normal for the plant and the latter is assumed only when the surface litter of the soil threatens to keep the little stem subdued. The leaves are about four inches in length and better than an inch across the widest part of the base, tapering to a sharp point; I believe the botanists refer to this type as some sort of lanceolate form of leaf. Yes, Gray's Manual says ovate-lanceolate. Anyway, they are dark and dull in color above, but glossy and lighter green below. They are arranged in pairs, directly opposite each other on the stalk. Each pair is turned in a different direction.

To be technical first, before giving way to enthusiasm about the flowers, let's quote Gray again. "Corolla tubular-funnel-form, 5-lobed—(so for several lines of fine print)—and the flowers spiked in one-sided cymes." There. I have done well by the botany enthusiasts. You may refer to page 653 of Grays Manuel, edition of 1908, for the balance of this description, while I, with the other flower enthusiasts, revel in more simple pleasures.

It may be a cyme to the botanists, for instance, but the curve of the top of the stem, which lets the flowers stand erect in some cases and form a flaming crest for the graceful plant, is a thing of beauty. The flowers, crimson but not too intense, emerge from a narrow base, swell, constrict a bit, then burst into a crown of five rays, golden to the sun, and allow the pistil to protrude, surrounded by hardly-visible stamens in the throat of the trumpet. Tubular-funnel-form indeed! It's the prettiest thing in the May woods!

HOLLYWOOD IN PERSON

By MOLLIE MERRICK

(Copyright, 1935, by the North American Newspaper Alliance, Inc.)

With Hollywood's usual fever heat enthusiasm, it has gone into the musical end of picture making thoroughly. It went into musical production thoroughly and whole-heartedly once before. . . But inadequately, it must be known.

Little 8-year-old Ruth Slenczynski, pianist prodigy, is the latest importation. She will be found in the "Big Broadcast of 1935" and may prove the Shirley Temple of her medium. Since Ruth astounded a world, a wee tot named Veronica Mimosa has been unearthed by Major Bowes on his amateur hour. With such children at large, grown-ups might just as well stick to the typewriter. . . It's too late now!

An old-timers' revival is a heart-breaking thing. In the present one being made in Hollywood may be found Juanita Hansen, whom you will remember if you recall movies of ten years ago. Juanita Hansen was the beauteous blonde who worked with a group of famous comedians. Later she went to New York, and was horribly burned in a shower in a leading hotel. She collected $65,000 in a suit for $135,000.

She entrusted the $65,000 to an old friend to invest. It disappeared. Juanita Hansen was about to begin suit when the man died. She received one day's work in the old-timers' picture, for which she received $5. . . A sum she very badly needed.

Madeleine Hurlock, wife of Marc Connelly, well-known writer, is another of the old-time bathing beauties. Alma Rubens, Roscoe "Fatty" Arbuckle, Mary Thurman are some of the old-timers in comedy who died. Others well off are: Gloria Swanson—once a pie-target and since Mrs. Berry-Somborn-Falaise-Farmer, and, at present, heroine of a world romance. Ben Turpin, Charlie Chaplin, Wally Beery, Phyllis Haver (now Mrs. Billy Seaman) and Marie Prevost are others. Hollywood comedians have saved their money the most consistently and are in the best financial condition among the old-timers at present.

PIONEER JOURNALIST, MRS. I. S. HALL, DIES

The burial yesterday of Mrs. I. S Hall, of Atlanta, brought to a close the colorful story of a southern woman who had pioneered the way in women's entrance into business and professional life.

Mrs. Hall saw the first efforts of journalists in Atlanta, working on the Sunny South, one of the early newspapers of the city. She worked on the newspaper between 1881 and 1890, supporting herself, as she was still doing at the time of her death, after the death of her husband in 1871. At the time of her death she was owner of a grocery store at her residence at 856 McDonough boulevard and had been engaged in that business in the same neighborhood for the past 25 years.

WIDOW OF WILSON TO UNVEIL PORTRAIT

STAUNTON, Va., May 24.—(AP)—Mrs. Woodrow Wilson will unveil the portrait of the late war president which has been painted for the Wilson birthplace by F. Graham Cootes, artist and native of Staunton, Colonel Peyton Cochran, chairman of the arrangements committee, announced today.

The unveiling will take place on the porch of the Wilson birthplace at noon next Tuesday.

Admiral Cary T. Grayson, who was personal physician to President Wilson and now chairman of the American Red Cross, and Mrs. Grayson have tentatively accepted an invitation to attend the event. Mrs. Cordell Hull, a former Staunton resident and wife of the secretary of state, has accepted an invitation.

Dr. John H. Finley, editor of the New York Times, is to make the address.

SOUTHERN GROUP HITS COAST LUMBER RATE

NEW ORLEANS, May 24.—(AP)—Southern railroads and lumber manufacturers today petitioned the interstate commerce commission to suspend a blanket 72-cents per 100 pounds freight rate on lumber from the Pacific coast to the east.

The interests said the rate, established by the trans-continental railroad lines to become effective June 10, lowers the existing rate from 10 to 18 cents per 100 pounds and threatens to permit Pacific coast manufacturers to displace southern manufacturers in the east.

AL SMITH IS HINTED AS COALITION CANDIDATE

WASHINGTON, May 24.—(AP)—An indication that the Democratic high command has its ear to the ground for reports that Alfred E. Smith might enter the 1936 presidential campaign was given today by Postmaster General Farley at a press conference.

Declining to discuss for publication reports that Smith was being boomed by republicans and conservative democrats as a coalition candidate, the chairman of the democratic national committee nevertheless tacitly conceded the possibility has been taken with some seriousness in the Roosevelt camp.

Bandits on Trial.

MARIANNA, Fla., May 24.—(AP)—Three men, charged with robbing approximately $2,300 from the Bank of Graceville last February, went on trial in circuit court here today. They were booked as Ted Commander, M. C. Hunt and Spurgeon Mooneyhan.

OHIO YOUTH CONFESSES KILLING YOUNG WOMAN

Admits Setting Fire To Bed in Effort To Cover Up Crime.

WARREN, Ohio, May 24.—(UP) A 20-year-old Warren youth today confessed killing Mrs. Marie T. Tobin, 22, and setting fire to the bed on which her beaten and burned body was found yesterday, Police Captain George Salen announced.

The youth, Ray Jutila, gave his confession in a signed statement to police early today after a night of persistent questioning, the police captain said.

Captain Salen said the youth confessed clubbing her with a heavy cigaret stand during an argument in Mrs. Tobin's home after her husband, James F. Tobin, left for work.

According to Captain Salen the youth said in his statement that he went to the home Tuesday afternoon and engaged in an argument in Mrs. Tobin's bedroom which culminated with his hitting her and knocking her unconscious on the bed.

When she failed to come to, the statement said, he struck her again. Then he became frightened and picked up the cigaret stand and clubbed her over the head.

Then according to the statement he decided to get some papers and set fire to the house to cover up the crime. He went downstairs after the papers and saw the woman's pet dog. He said he thought the dog's barking might attract neighbors and picked it up by the hind legs and bashed its head against the floor, according to the confession.

The youth said he carried the dog upstairs to the bedroom and placed it beside its mistress and covered the bed with papers, Captain Salen reported. "Then he set fire to the papers with matches and ran from the home."

GEORGIA COUNTIES APPLY FOR LOANS

relief money were issued yesterday by Erle Cocke, head of the emergency council in Georgia. He said applications for non-federal projects involving a loan and grant or a grant in whole or in part are to be filed with Mr. Johnston.

Application Procedure.

Applications for work relief projects not involving a loan but to be financed in whole or in part by the federal government are to be filed with Miss Gay B. Shepperson, administrator of the works progress division in Georgia.

In the case of federal projects, applications covering recommendations and suggestions other than work relief projects, the entire cost of which will be borne by the federal government, are to be directed to the responsible federal official representing the department having primary jurisdiction.

The office of Mr. Cocke will serve as a clearing house for information concerning federal emergency agencies, referring inquiries to the proper departments in Georgia if possible, or to Washington if necessary.

He said it was probable final details of the new works program would be furnished the works progress division, PWA and emergency council within the next few days, including information on plans for rural electrification, land resettlement, soil erosion, rural rehabilitation, forestry program and other projects.

No Increase in Personnel.

The emergency council director said there would be practically no increase in personnel in the administrative offices of the several federal agencies handling the works relief program.

Reports from Washington have been to the effect the state would be divided into eight districts to facilitate handling of the work relief set up. These reports said headquarters of the districts would be located in Atlanta, Marietta, Athens, Macon, Columbus, Savannah, Augusta and Albany.

The relief administration in Georgia now has six division headquarters located at Marietta, Athens, Thomaston, Swainsboro, Tifton, and Waycross.

Establishment of work-relief headquarters in the more populous centers is in line with one of the principles laid down by President Roosevelt that work relief projects will be allocated to localities in relation to the number of workers on relief rolls.

HOPKINS SETS UP 307 RELIEF AREAS

proposed following protests from cotton garment, shoe, broom and other manufacturers that they had to compete with a huge share of the prison made products while others escaped.

Flood of Requests.

A flood of requests from government departments for work funds filed with the applications board brought the total for federal projects to $100,000,000, including $25,000,000 for the army and navy. They are being considered.

In announcing his "district" layout, Hopkins said state works progress administrators would be responsible to him, with district directors in turn responsible to state officials on all administrative matters.

"The organization set up," Hopkins said, "as embodied in the state and district system, provides for a direct line of authority and responsibility."

Aims Outlined.

District headquarters were placed, Hopkins said, "in the communities where personnel will be available and offices can be established efficiently and economically." He outlined aims and duties of districts, including:

"Co-ordinating the works program as a whole so as to move from the relief rolls to work projects or in private employment the maximum numbers of persons in the shortest time possible.

"Investigating to insure honest execution of the program.

"Providing uniform reports on progress, recommending measures to remove delay or terminate projects not providing sufficient employment.

"Assuring that as many of the persons employed on the work projects as is feasible are persons, previously receiving relief.

"Providing uniform periodic reports on employment on the projects of persons previous receiving relief.

"Investigating wages and working conditions and reporting to the president to aid him in prescribing working conditions and rates of pay on the projects."

Districts for Georgia.

The eight work districts announced for Georgia, together with the counties embraced were defined as follows:

District 1—Headquarters, Athens. Rabun, Habersham, Stephens, Banks, Franklin, Hart, Jackson, Madison, Elbert, Gwinnett, Barrow, Clarke, Oglethorpe, Wilkes, Lincoln, Walton, Oconee, Rockdale, Newton, Morgan, Green, Taliaferro, Warren, McDuffie, Columbia, Jasper, Putnam, Hancock, Jones, Baldwin, Glascock and Wilkinson counties.

Limericks and More Limericks

There were so many clever limericks submitted in the recent contest in The Constitution that the judges are still conferring "honorable mentions." More of the better ones are published here.

The morning comes in with a zest;
It is morning that makes me feel best,
With its sparkling contribution
THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION—
The paper that leads all the rest.
John Edgar,
Box 85, Atlanta.

The Constitution stands out most clear,
For all that Georgians hold dear.
Our history, traditions,
Resources, ambitions,
It spreads to the world far and near.
Mrs. R. C. McCoy,
886 Adair avenue, N. E.

If you'd travel by air or rail,
If you'd learn of each bargain sale,
The Atlanta Constitution
Without circumlocution
Tells how, where, when in detail.
C. F. Morgan,
329 West John Wesley avenue.

For the world's most reliable news,
On current events and views,
For peppy variety
In sports and society
The Constitution leads the "Who's Who's."
Mrs. W. L. Maddox,
Lumpkin, Ga.

The young things were planning a way,
To keep true love in their midst for aye.
They decided in favor of an argument saver—
The Constitution to start every day.
Miss Ellen G. Page,

AUTHOR OF 'SIDEWALKS' PASSES IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, May 24.—(AP)—James Blake, who 35 years ago wrote the words of "The Sidewalks of New York," the song used by former Governor Alfred E. Smith in the 1928 presidential campaign, died tonight at the age of 73 of cancer.

Smith had visited him at the hospital and expressed his sympathy and also made arrangements for his comfort. Blake had been destitute since the loss of a job.

FRANCIS S. LEHMANN.

MOUNT VERNON, N. Y., May 24. (AP)—Francis Scott Lehmann, 48, prominent architect, died last night in Mount Vernon hospital, following a sinus operation.

MARCUS T. LATHROP.

CANTON, Ohio, May 24.—(AP)—Marcus T. Lathrop, 50, former president of the Timken Roller Bearing Company, died shortly before noon today at his home here. Death was attributed to a heart attack.

Admits Extortion Plot.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 24.—(UP)—Still protecting the good name of his Philadelphia family under the alias of Peter Warren, a youth today pleaded guilty in federal court to an attempt to extort and was sentenced to the El Reno, Okla., reformatory for three years.

bill providing for cash payment with alternatives for raising the money, the president said he would stand on his statement and the declaration he made in his veto of the Patman bill.

Rider Postponed.

Clark withheld his amendment from the naval appropriations bill which passed the senate today, but said he probably would offer it to a later bill.

Elated over the margin by which they beat the attempt to override President Roosevelt's veto, administration leaders "sat tight."

Chairman Harrison, of the senate finance committee, again expressed his belief President Roosevelt would sign his compromise providing for cash payment of the current value of the certificates, about $770 on $1,000 face value.

Senator Thomas, democrat, Oklahoma, and other bonus leaders rejected this proposition, however, contending it would not be a compromise, but surrender.

CALIFORNIA BONUS MARCH UP TO SMEDLEY BUTLER

LOS ANGELES, May 24.—(AP)—Whether war veterans will organize another "bonus army" to march on Washington was left tonight to a decision to be made by Major General Smedley D. Butler, retired marine officer.

Leaders of local veterans who started assembling today for a trek to Washington wired Butler in the capital asking for his opinion of the move.

C. H. De Haven, ex-marine, who joined Royal W. Robertson, head of Los Angeles' 1932 "bonus army," and four others in signing the message to Butler, said if he disapproved of the march it "will in all probability be abandoned."

Tentative plans called for recruiting 1,500 veterans to leave Sunday by freight train.

Enrollment began with the hoisting of a banner reading:

"California bonus army — death march division."

Robertson explained the "death march" referred to the weary days of pacing before the capital by the Los Angeles delegation three years ago.

He estimated more than 6,000 men in California would go on the new trip, leaving in automobiles and financing their way by exhibiting talking movies of the 1932 march.

Opposition to the trip was expressed by Archie Closson, state commander of the American Legion, and Charles Gavin, department adjutant of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

ARIZONA VETERANS SEEK SOLON'S RECALL

PRESCOTT, Ariz., May 24.—(AP)—Petitions for the recall of Carl Hayden, United States senator, were in circulation at the veterans' administration hospital, at Whipple, near here, today.

Backers said the petitions were receiving "nearly 100 per cent signatures."

The demand for recall, as stated in the petitions, is based on the following grounds:

"That the said Carl Hayden is against the immediate payment of the adjusted compensation certificates; the Townsend old age pension and his services on the farm question shows his lack of interest and his incompetency. He has ceased to feel the pulse beat of the people of the state of Arizona.

2 KILLED, 2 INJURED IN VERMONT ACCIDENT

WILLIAMSTOWN, Vt., May 24.—(AP)—Dr. Bert S. Pierson, formerly of Quincy, Mass., and Mrs. Mary Krause, both of Windsor, were killed and Dr. William Krause and Pierson's wife were critically injured in a collision with a truck on the Barre highway while returning to their homes from a Rotary convention early today.

All four were rushed to Barre City hospital, where Mrs. Krause and Dr. Pierson were pronounced dead. Dr. Krause suffered a possible skull fracture and deep lacerations of the head, while Mrs. Pierson also had received severe head injuries.

HOTEL MEN OFFER TO AID M'BRAYER IN CHURCH FIGHT

Grayson, on a vacation at Brunswick, said the clergyman gave "unselfishly and unstintingly of his time, efforts, patriotism and unflinching courage to what he considered the best interest and welfare of Georgia."

"I feel sure," Grayson said, "that thousands of our people, who conscientiously opposed our cause, will not look with pride but will look with disgust on this attempt to destroy and commit to oblivion this honest, courageous citizen of Georgia. Georgia and Georgians would fare better were there more McBrayers."

The hotel association opened its convention here today. The delegates left for Jacksonville, Fla., by steamer late today, to spend Saturday and Sunday there, returnnig here Monday for the concluding session of the meeting.

Resolution Adopted.

The following resolution was unanimously adopted today at the hotel convention. It was introduced by W. G. Hastings, Ansley hotel, Atlanta:

"Whereas, it has come to the attention of this association that the Rev. H. E. McBrayer, pastor of the Lakewood Heights Methodist church, Atlanta, has been suspended from his pulpit and faces a church trial because of his expression of an honest conviction on a political question, and whereas this association is aware of the grave possibilities involved in the right of free speech by the action that has been taken against Mr. McBrayer, and whereas the belief of Mr. McBrayer was shared by thousands of other Georgians, as well as by a great majority of the residents of 37 other states in this union that have previously decided by popular vote and 10 additional states by legislative action that prohibition is not the best means of promoting temperance and controlling the alcoholic problem, and whereas, if Mr. McBrayer be guilty of immorality because of a similar belief then we, and 80,000 odd Georgians who voted for repeal, and the great majority of Americans are likewise guilty of immorality, and whereas this association believes in the right of every man and woman to express his or her convictions without coercion,

"Now therefore, be it resolved by the Georgia Hotel Association that we tender to the Rev. Mr. McBrayer our offer of any support within our power in the crisis he now faces."

REV. McBRAYER TO PREACH TOMORROW IN MASON HALL

The Rev. H. E. McBrayer, suspended pastor of the Lakewood Heights Methodist Episcopal Church, South, will conduct Sunday services for his followers at the Masonic Temple in Lakewood Heights tomorrow, it was announced yesterday by Luther Smith, chairman of the board of stewards of the Lakewood church.

"Definite details of the setting up of an independent church have not been worked out," Mr. Smith said. "A great majority of the members of the Lakewood Heights church are in support of the pastor and we are going to have a substantial church regardless of the outcome of the action against Mr. McBrayer."

The services at the temple will be at 11 o'clock in the morning and at 7:30 o'clock at night.

Dr. Felton, Williams, pastor of the Wesley Memorial church, will preach tomorrow at the Lakewood church. No pastor has been named for the Lakewood pulpit as yet.

Dr. Williams is conducting a campaign for funds for the Wesley Memorial activities. He preaches in various churches throughout the conference in behalf of the campaign.

Mr. McBrayer also will be guest speaker of the James L. Key Bible class at 9:30 o'clock tomorrow morning at the Paramount theater.

The Rev. Mr. McBrayer was suspended for his participation in the repeal campaign and is facing charges of "immorality" filed by church heads. No date for his trial has been set.

NEBRASKA LEGALIZES SELLING OF LIQUOR

LINCOLN, Neb., May 24.—(AP)—Nebraska, the state which completed ratification of the 18th amendment fifteen years ago, today legalized the sale of liquor.

Governor R. L. Cochran signed the bill passed this week authorizing state-wide sale of package liquors.

The new law prohibits sales by the drink except in cities whose citizens hold elections and take upon themselves responsibility for approving such sales.

Only eight states now are legally dry—Alabama, Georgia, Kansas, Mississippi, North Carolina, Oklahoma, Tennessee and Texas.

SMALL BUSINESS LEADS RECOVERY TRAVELERS TOLD

Little businessmen will lead on to recovery, United Commercial Travelers of the Georgia-Florida council were told last night by speakers at the dinner held at the Piedmont hotel.

Officers of the national organization predicted that the administration's effort to aid the little man will bring complete recovery to the nation. Yesterday the Georgia-Florida council wired President Roosevelt they voted unanimously to support his entire program for recovery.

The commercial travelers will conclude their convention here today following the election of officers. It was thought that W. A. Webb, of Atlanta, will be named grand counselor. Sessions will begin at 9:30 o'clock this morning at the Piedmont and a picnic luncheon and dance will be given at 1 o'clock this afternoon at Grant park.

of Italy's entry into the World War, heard Benito Mussolini declare today the nation now is "ready for any trial."

"The words of an unknown Italian soldier scrawled on the wall of a house demolished by a shell," 'It is better to live one day as a lion than 100 days as a lamb,' are not merely an order—they are gospel for us," Mussolini said.

More Troops Abroad.

". . . Let no one in Italy or abroad delude himself. Italy will consider carefully before arriving at a decision, but when the decision is reached, then she will go forward without any turning back. . . .

"It is necessary, once we have started, to burn our ships and guide ourselves along the road of destiny with a firm hand."

The premier's speech was made shortly after King Victor Emmanuel, in Mussolini's presence, presented battle-flags to the 16 new regiments, making up six new divisions, created to take the place of detachments sent or destined to be sent to East Africa.

Presentation of the banners, which took place at the tomb of the Unknown Soldier, was the first public acknowledgment that six army divisions are to go to East Africa, where Italy has been having border difficulties with Ethiopia. Official communiques thus far have mentioned only three.

IL DUCE TO AIR VIEWS ON FOREIGN POLICY TODAY

ROME, May 24.—(UP)—Premier Benito Mussolini may define Italy's attitude toward the League of Nations in connection with the Italian-Abyssinian dispute in a speech before the chamber of deputies tomorrow afternoon, it was indicated tonight.

Il Duce's speech is to be a thorough discussion of the budget and foreign affairs. He may also reiterate his viewpoint on preservation of Austria's independence, replying to Adolf Hitler's speech in Berlin last Tuesday on this issue.

HITLER MAY DISCUSS AGREEMENT WITH LAVAL

BERLIN, May 24.—(AP)—Adolf Hitler's speech before the German reichstag Tuesday seemed today about ready to bear fruit in the shape of peace parleys with the reich's neighbors.

Informed quarters said two significant developments were likely:

1. An early conference to draft an air limitations agreement, proposed in Hitler's address.

2. Face to face talks between Hitler and Pierre Laval, French foreign minister.

Lending substance to the first conjecture was the call Sir Eric Phipps, British ambassador, made at the foreign office to ask clarification of several points in Hitler's speech, and the known fact that nazis were pushing hard to get an air convention.

Giving color to the second report was the fact that Ambassador Francois-Poncet, of France, left for Paris "for three weeks' vacation" immediately after Hitler spoke. It was understood he would seek the French government's approval for Laval to meet Hitler.

Hitler also wants to talk to Laval, diplomatic quarters said, and the Frenchman likewise is convinced that the talks might be highly useful. The British, too, were said to be encouraging the project.

Glider, Air Train Mark.

TIFLIS, U S S R May 24.—(AP)—The world's altitude record both for glider and air train was claimed today after the ascent of a Soviet plane with an attached glider to a height of 6,100 meter (19,983 feet). The glider was detached at that altitude and glided 60 kilometers to a landing field.

Soviet Bandits Die.

MOSCOW, May 24.—(AP)—Three of a gang of robbers who forced customers and clerks in a store to lie on the floor while the cash register was looted were sentenced to death today and executed at once. Five others were sent to prison.

U. S. NAVY SKY ARMADA EN ROUTE TO HONOLULU

Several Days of Leisure for Sailors, Fliers on Hawaiian Shores Expected.

By the Associated Press.

A great concentration of American naval power, including the mid-Pacific sky armada and 166 ships of the fleet, was converging upon an unconcerned Honolulu last night.

Forty powerful planes which figured in the spectacular high seas operation that resulted in eight fatalities, the loss of two flying craft and collision damage to four destroyers sped toward Pearl harbor from their secret rendezvous 500 miles west of Honolulu.

Another squadron at the same time was preparing for a 1,323-mile nonstop flight from Midway island to Honolulu.

Reports the mass flight would assume the form of an "air raid" were discounted by both army and navy authorities in the Honolulu region but caused some indignation among the citizenry.

The "air raid" rumors had it that the city would be asked to extinguish all lights and the citizens requested to remain indoors.

"We are not European peasants, to be told when to jump and how high," said one Honoluluan. "A request that civilians stay indoors would only result in emptying every house to see what was going to happen."

The fleet in general was reported interested mainly in attempting to anchor en masse with 166 ships in Pearl harbor as a strategic experiment.

An authoritative source in Honolulu said he understood the spectacular war games were "temporarily over" although it had been officially announced the maneuvers would continue until June 10. Other officers said a mass attack on Honolulu had been considered but dropped.

The 200 men of the air armada and the 50,000 of the fleet looked forward to several days of leisure on Hawaiian shores after their strenuous work in the secret operations.

With the flagship Pennsylvania in the lead, the surface ships are due to steam into the harbor shortly after 7 o'clock tomorrow morning. (12:30 p. m., Atlanta time).

NEW NRA MEASURE FAVORED BY F. D. R.

and the 7-A guarantee to the right of collective bargaining.

Participating in that conference were Senator Robinson, of Arkansas, democratic leader; Chairman Harrison, democrat, Mississippi, of the senate finance committee; Speaker Byrns and Chairman Doughton, democrat, North Carolina, of the house ways and means committee.

One of the conferees reported the outlined measure would be acceptable to the president, and added that Harrison and Robinson had expressed a strong hope that they could get the senate to accept it.

Green Questioned.

In his appearance before the house ways and means committee Green was subjected to lengthy questioning about his speech in New York last night about strikes if NRA were not extended at least two years.

Turning to answer questioners who sat about the semi-circular committee table, Green gave this version of his New York speech:

"I said that in my opinion failure to enact NRA for two years more as recommended by the president would result in strikes and strife on a nation-wide basis.

"I said that we were appealing to congress for two years, and that if congress failed us, then we could resort to a mobilization of our economic strength."

Outside the committee room he had told newspapermen that "mobilization of our economic strength" could mean a "general strike." But when committeemen asked if he intended "intimidation" or "threats" he testified—anent the "general strike:"

"We have explained our position on that question rather clearly at the time of the San Francisco strike."

Then the A. F. of L., while giving financial and moral support to strikers, decided against calling a "general strike."

He added the other things on "labor's program were the Guffey coal bill, the Wagner labor disputes bill and the 30-hour week. The NRA, he contended, has given jobs to from 3,000,000 to 4,000,000 workers.

HOOVER ASSAILS NRA AS FASCISM

mer President Hoover's statement opposing NRA as "epithet used as argument."

In his shirt sleeves and without a tie the former NRA head read Mr. Hoover's Palo Alto statement and said sarcastically:

"Anything that Mr. Hoover stands for is American, but anything the New Deal stands for is fascist.

"His statement that NRA is crushing the life out of small business has been refuted over and over again and I propose to repeat that refutation this afternoon before the ways and means committee.

"He ought to know that his own policies very nearly crushed the life out of the very heart of the whole nation."

John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, said:

"If ever there was a man who was discredited by the people, and who ought to withhold his personal opinions, it's Herbert Hoover."

FAIR SKIES PROMISED THROUGH WEEK-END

Atlantans planning week-end motor trips need not worry about rain, as fair weather will prevail today and tomorrow, according to George W. Mindling, weather observer here.

Moderate temperatures will prevail, the range being between 54 and 78 degrees, and skies will be clear. A sharp northwest wind kept the mercury down yesterday, a maximum of 72 degrees being recorded during the afternoon.

KEY LIQUOR PETITIONS GO TO COUNCIL JUNE 3

McCutcheon Expects 10,000 Signatories in Time for Next Meeting.

Confident that the signatures of 10,000 Atlanta citizens will be on a supplementary petition asking council to order a vote on a measure to establish a series of municipal liquor stores, Councilman Howard C. McCutcheon who, along with Mayor Key, initiated the new strategy announced yesterday he will demand action at the June 3 council session.

McCutcheon explained that the petitions being circulated carry the identical wording the original petitions carried and which have been signed by the required majority of registered voters to initiate a referendum. He said all necessary is to strike from the preamble the words "undersigned registered voters" and allow any citizen who is 21 years old or over to sign his or her name.

"There has been an intimation that city council is not convinced the people of Atlanta want Mayor Key to operate liquor stores and put the profits into the city treasury," McCutcheon asserted. "This will be a clear, concise and irrefutable indication of public sentiment. It can not be questioned. It will be the final and last word.

Reflection of Sentiment

"We want citizens to sign their own name to the list, because we want it to be an authentic reflection of public sentiment. I want to take this opportunity to warn all persons who have lists in their possession to see that the individual signs his own name. There probably will be an effort to discredit the signatures, and we want to be able to say:

"'Now show us the person who says his name was forged.'

"We will have those 10,000 signatures by the June 3 council meeting and then will see if city council still thinks it is the self-designated keeper of public morals. We want action, the public wants action and it is going to get action one way or another."

Mayor Key called on every citizen who wants the public to vote on the matter to sign.

Wants All To Sign

"I hope every Atlanta citizen who wants the public to have a right to express itself on this issue to sign the petitions," Key asserted.

"This is no time for equivocation, for side-stepping or for evasion. City council should be courageous and should face this issue in the light of facts rather than expediency.

"If members of council think they are playing sagacious politics in refusing the people the privilege the public already has demanded, to vote on this issue, they are destined to a sad awakening."

Scores of business men and others called at Key's office yesterday to get copies of the petition. The mayor has a stock of them in blank, ready for distribution.

When filled out the mayor asked they be returned to his office in order that they may be placed in McCutcheon's hands for use at the June 3 council meeting.

GOVERNOR HEADS LAKE DEDICATION AT OGLETHORPE

Governor Talmadge and William Randolph Hearst Jr. will be the principal speakers at 4 o'clock this afternoon when Lake Phoebe, on the Oglethorpe University campus, is dedicated formally to the memory of Mrs. Phoebe Apperson Hearst, founder of the Parent-Teacher Association of America and mother of William Randolph Hearst, the donor.

A group of America's most distinguished women, who are to be honored with degrees by the university, will attend the ceremony.

Special meetings of the National Alumni Association and of the woman's board will be adjourned to hear the address of the governor. Others participating in the ceremony will include John McNeely, president of the student body; S. B. Wimbish, head of the national alumni; Judge Edgar Watkins, president of the board of directors, and Dean D. H. Overton, of the school of physical education.

A water sports carnival will follow the dedication and at 8 o'clock Dr. Annie Jump Cannon, noted astronomer, will give a public lecture on the campus grounds. If the weather is inclement, the lecture will be staged in Lupton hall assembly room. Her topic will be "Our Neighbor Universe."

Ready-to-Wear Manager

P. T. McDERMOTT.

M'DERMOTT TO DIRECT RUBIN'S DEPARTMENT

Popular Executive Named Buyer and Manager for Ready-to-Wear.

P. T. McDermott, popular figure in ladies' ready-to-wear circles and well-known Atlanta business executive, has been named buyer and manager of Rubin's ready-to-wear departments, it was announced today by Sol Rubin, head of the large women's store.

Mr. McDermott comes directly from his former connection with the apparel department of one of the city's leading department stores and begins his duties at Rubin's immediately, Mr. Rubin stated. These will include complete charge of the popular-price, middle-range and higher-price dress departments as well as the suit and coat departments.

Mr. McDermott is known to hundreds of Atlanta women through his long connection as head of the old H. G. Lewis store which for many years was recognized as one of the outstanding women's stores in the south. Mr. McDermott was with H. G. Lewis for 15 years and was general manager of the entire store. Since the closing of Lewis' he has been prominently located in the ready-to-wear end of other leading stores.

His wide acquaintance and long friendship with the leading dress manufacturers of the country and their representatives, together with his knowledge of ready-to-wear style and merchandising methods has gained for him the reputation among the trade as one of the most competent men in the field. The same extensive knowledge of ready-to-wear and friendly spirit has won him wide popularity with the well-dressed Atlanta public.

Commenting on the new affiliation Mr. Rubin pointed to the steady growth of the store's ready-to-wear department at a rapid rate as demonstrating the future in store at the prominent corner location.

"This progressiveness has enabled us to attract a man of Mr. McDermott's ability," Mr. Rubin stated. "I have known and admired him during the many years I have been in Atlanta's retail activities and I am really delighted at having him affiliated with us," Mr. Rubin said. "I have never known a man to be more generally liked by the industry as well as the buying public."

WOMAN, THREE MEN INDICTED AS BANDITS

Claude Carmen, Wounded by Dudley Cowles, Among Quartet Named.

A recent series of ride robberies resulted in the indictment of three men and a woman yesterday by Fulton county grand jury, one of the men named being Claude Carmen, who was shot May 16 when Dudley Cowles, Atlanta businessman, foiled an alleged attempted holdup. Carmen is now in Grady hospital, where it was announced yesterday that he will recover from injuries which it was at first thought would prove fatal.

Carmen, Aleck Jones and the latter's wife, Mrs. Leola Jones, are named in three bills charging robberies of L. H. Smith, of the Fruit Growers Express, last August, of J. G. South, taxicab driver, and of D. S. Capes, of Griffin, Ga., who was taken for a ride May 14 and thrown out of his car on Simpson road. The other two alleged robberies occurred last July and August.

Carmen, Jones and Ben Nelson are named in a bill which charges them with robbing Mrs. Irene Whitfield, whose purse was snatched May 15, and Carmen and Jones are charged in a fifth bill with assault with intent to rob for the alleged attack on Cowles.

According to investigators, Carmen and Jones have confessed the robberies, implicating Mrs. Jones and Nelson. With the exception of Mrs. Jones, all have been arrested. Jones and Carmen were captured soon after the attempted holdup of Cowles, and were in the automobile allegedly stolen from Capes. Nelson was arrested in Griffin last Saturday.

POLICE SEEK CONVICT AFTER FIFTH ESCAPE

Police in Fulton and DeKalb counties yesterday were searching for Michael Dean (Mike) Thompson, 22, rival of Leland Harvey and Aubrey Smith for jail-breaking honors in Georgia, who made his fifth escape in three years Monday.

Thompson got away from the chain gang in Dougherty county and was believed heading toward Atlanta in a stolen car.

The convict was serving time on sentences totaling 36 years, including one for 20 years for robbery of a bank in Macon. Thompson led a wholesale jail break from DeKalb county last year, when 11 convicts escaped from the chain gang after overpowering guards and stealing two county trucks. He had escaped three times previously.

The actress, who left Roosevelt field, New York, this morning, came down here at the controls of her own four-seated airplane shortly before 7 p. m., after a hop of two and a half hours from Indianapolis.

METHODIST LEADERS HONOR BISHOP ASBURY

Glowing Tribute Paid Organizer of First Methodist Church in South Carolina.

COLUMBIA, S. C., May 24.—(AP) Leaders of Methodism in the Carolinas and Georgia paid tribute today to Bishop Francis Asbury, organizer of the first Methodist church in South Carolina.

The two-day celebration of the sesquicentennial of Methodism in the state reached a climax tonight when more than 800 persons participated in a pageant sponsored by Lander College, of Greenwood, and entitled "The Way of Holiness."

Bishop Edwin Holt Hughes, of Washington, senior bishop of the Methodist Episcopal church, and Dr. Henry N. Snyder, president of Wofford College, were among the speakers who lauded the part played by Bishop Asbury in the spread of Methodism.

Speaking on "Asbury, Prophet of the Long Road," Bishop Hughes gave an imaginary conversation with Asbury's statue in Washington and concluded by urging his hearers not to be content merely to imitate Asbury but to "build new roads, give up all for Christ, and devote your time to the Master's business."

Dr. Snyder said Asbury was due credit for organizing the first Methodist school in South Carolina.

Bishop Paul B. Kern, of Greensboro, N. C.; Dr. Andrew Sledd, of Emory University, Atlanta, and Bishop Collins Denny were other speakers on the closing program.

Several thousand Methodists of the Carolinas and Georgia last night heard an oratorio, "The Evangel of the New World," written in honor of Methodism's sesquicentennial in America, which was presented at the Township auditorium.

BALL'S FERRY PROJECT DEFENDED BY ROUNTREE

Wrightsville Editor Says Talmadge Misinformed About Bridge Cost.

WRIGHTSVILLE, Ga., May 24. (AP)—Charging that Governor Talmadge's estimate that it would cost $1,000,000 to build roads to a bridge over Oconee river was "absurd," Charles D. Rountree, editor of the Wrightsville Headlight, said today the project had been sought for years by people of this section.

Rountree's comment followed word from Washington yesterday that the United States Bureau of Public Roads desired greater "efficiency" in the state highway engineering staff, and Talmadge's reply that the bureau and Congressman Carl Vinson were trying to "usurp" authority of the state board.

The governor said nothing was heard from Washington of any inadequacy of inspection of highway projects until the highway department refused to allow the federal bureau to propose for construction Ball's ferry bridge, in the corner of Wilkinson, Johnson and Washington counties, across the Oconee river.

Rountree said Governor Talmadge was ignorant of his subject in saying the bridge and a proposed road, to be known as the Bee Line route, were in an area served by parallel paved roads from Macon to Dublin, and from Louisville to Swainsboro.

"The people of this section were working for the Bee Line highway and Ball's ferry bridge before the governor was ever dreamed about," Rountree said. "The people are not concerned with the differences between the governor and the Federal Bureau of Public Roads, but like all of the governor's contacts with the national government at Washington, he seems to be playing the other side of the game.

"There is no more important road and bridge needed in Georgia than the Bee Line and Ball's ferry. Delegations are ready to go before the governor and the highway board if they thought they could obtain a more cordial reception than that of three weeks ago. Congressman Vinson has nothing to do with this flare-up and the governor's estimate of costs are far too high. A million dollars for approaches to the bridges is absurd.

"It is the only road crossing a 65-mile territory."

Famous Georgia Pair Found Guilty at Rome

sought to prove that Harvey and Smith were in Illinois last August 24, the day on which two employes of the bank here were held up and robbed of a pay roll intended for the Tubize Chatillon Mills.

Numerous alibi witnesses took the stand to tell of their alleged conversations and other transactions with Harvey and Smith in Harvey, Ill., on August 23 and 24.

The government countered by calling the bank employes who were robbed as their star witnesses, one of whom positively identified the pair as the pay roll bandits. Other prosecution witnesses said they saw Harvey and Smith in the vicinity of Rome on the day of the robbery.

Harvey and Smith previously had been two of Georgia's most notorious convicts, with sentences of more than 100 years on various robbery charges hanging over each. They were also credited with numerous escapes from the state prison farm.

A little more than a year ago Governor Talmadge, after visiting the men in prison, granted each an unconditional pardon and admonished them to "go and sin no more."

Returned to Macon.

They returned to their home city of Macon and for some months appeared to be fulfilling their promise to the governor to "go straight." Early this year they were arrested in Richmond, Va., as members of an alleged bandit gang.

Immediately police in Atlanta, Macon, Columbus and other cities came forward with charges that Harvey and Smith had been involved in various robberies during the past few months. None of these other charges has been disposed of yet.

Lawrence S. Camp, district attorney, and Neil Andrews, his assistant, prosecuted the case. Graham Wright, of Rome, attorney for the National City bank, was named as a special assistant to aid the prosecution, which also included Assistant District Attorneys I. K. Hay and Sidney Camp.

The defense attorneys were W. B. Mebane, of Rome, and Sam Hewlett, of Atlanta, both members of Governor Talmadge's staff; Harry Strozier, of Macon, and Joe Ewing, of Atlanta.

TALMADGE SORRY HARVEY AND SMITH FOUND GUILTY

AMERICUS, Ga., May 24.—(AP)—Governor Talmadge, advised here tonight of the conviction of Leland Harvey and Aubrey Smith on robbery charges in Rome, Ga., said: "I'm sorry to hear it.

"I gave them a chance," the governor added, "and I'm very sorry to know they've been convicted again."

The notorious Georgia convicts had been given full pardons last year by Governor Talmadge while they were serving sentences totaling more than 100 years each.

Asked if he would pardon them again, the governor explained the case is now out of his jurisdiction because the men were convicted in a federal court.

He was in Americus tonight after delivering a graduation address at the Chambliss High school near here.

CITIZEN OF MADISON FOUND SHOT TO DEATH

MADISON, Ga., May 24.—(AP)—Oscar Thomason, 47, member of a prominent Madison family, was found shot to death in his insurance office here today.

City Policeman W. N. Allison said a coroner's jury on which he served found that Thomason died by his own hand.

The officer said yesterday was Thomason's birthday. Members of the family reported he had not been feeling well of late.

Thomason is survived by his wife, three children, his mother and a sister, all of Madison.

8-YEAR-OLD STUDENT IS KILLED AT MACON

MACON, Ga., May 24.—(AP)—Betty Cain, 8, student at Mount DeSales academy, was run down and fatally injured this afternoon while returning home from school. She died in a hospital a few minutes later.

Police said the accident happened in a school zone.

Carl Cain, the child's father, is a fingerprint expert for the police department.

POSTOFFICE RECEIPTS INCREASE $35,000,000

WASHINGTON, May 24.—(AP)—Post office receipts for the first 10 months of the fiscal year are up $35,000,000 over last year, Postmaster General James A. Farley said today in predicting a surplus for his department's operation.

"We will have a surplus, not counting the air and ocean mail subsidies paid by the post office which amount to between $40,000,000 and $50,000,000 a year," Farley said.

Gen. Lee Loses Battle! Street Name Is Changed

AUGUSTA, Ga., May 24.—(AP) Another chapter has been written in Augusta's hammer-and-tongs fight over a street name.

City council has decided to let Monte Sano avenue keep its name instead of changing the name to Lee avenue in honor of the Confederate hero. The latest decision in the matter seems final, but there's no telling what may happen.

The row started when council voted to change the name. Citizens living on the avenue protested vigorously. They had no objection to General Robert E. Lee as a general, but they preferred for their street to keep its old name.

Council was adamant. Street signs were painted and repainted.

Finally the governing body gave way before embattled Monte Sanites and changed the name back. And now the signs are being repainted for the fourth time.

SOLDIER DIES, 5 HURT IN CARROLLTON CRASH

Three-Car Accident Is Fatal to Tennessee Cavalry Member.

CARROLLTON, Ga., May 24.—(AP) A soldier was killed and five persons injured in a three-way automobile crash in midtown here this afternoon.

The dead man was identified on undertaker's records as Conley Ownby, 33, of Knoxville, Tenn.

Those injured were recorded at Carrollton clinic, where they were treated, as:

Miss Sarah Hansard and her sister, daughters of Dr. W. B. Hansard, of Carrollton, slight injuries; Sam Jones, of Carrollton, cuts and bruises; Bill Taylor and Buck Bingler, from Arnco Mills, cuts and bruises.

Ownby was a member of the 6th United States cavalry, which was encamped near here during a hike from Fort Oglethorpe to Fort Benning.

Witnesses to the accident were quoted by Carrollton police as saying Ownby was riding on the running board of an automobile driven by soldier companions. This automobile collided with the one in which Jones, Taylor and Bingler were riding and then struck Miss Hansard's car.

None of the injured was regarded as seriously hurt.

The body of Ownby was sent to Fort Oglethorpe.

VAST POWERS GIVEN TO VON STARHEMBERG

VIENNA, Austria (Saturday) May 25.—(UP)—Vice Chancellor Prince Ernst Rudiger von Starhemberg attained practically unlimited dictatorial powers today when he was given command of all of Austria's armed forces.

The aristocratic leader of the fascist-like heimwehr organization thus attains a position which practically overshadows that of Chancellor Kurt von Schuschnigg.

Under his command von Starhemberg now has the federal army and the four semi-military organizations hitherto forming the "fatherland front." As commander of the latter, von Starhemberg, under a recent decree, was given unrestricted authority to allow or forbid political meetings.

RED CROSS TAKES OVER FLOOD RELIEF IN LA.

ALEXANDRIA, La., May 24.—(UP)—Adjutant General Ray Fleming today authorized the Red Cross to take full control of relief work in the flooded Red river valley. He said 3,000 families were in need of food, clothing and shelter.

Boats were sent to the Spanish lake area near Natchitoches, to rescue scores of marooned families. Water was 15 feet deep in some places and several houses were completely inundated. Many persons stayed in their homes, with water pouring over the floors, hoping it would subside.

DANCE INAUGURATES G. M. A. COMMENCEMENT

The thirty-fifth annual commencement season was inaugurated last night at Georgia Military Academy by a brilliant military ball. The cadets in full dress presented a striking picture as they danced with their beautifully-gowned partners beneath the flag-draped dome of the hall.

Colonel J. C. Wodward and members of the faculty, hosts, formed the receiving line at 9:30 o'clock and as the orchestra struck the opening bars of the first march, Cadet Major Schofield, of Oklahoma City, and Mrs. Ellison Thompson, of Tuskegee, Ala., led the grand march.

GEORGIA CONGRESSMEN MEET ON SCHOOL AID

WASHINGTON, May 24.—(AP)—The perplexing financial problems of Georgia's rural schools were submitted to a thorough analysis today at a meeting of the state congressional delegation with Miss Gay B. Shepperson, Georgia relief administrator, and a committee representing the unpaid teachers.

Miss Shepperson and Dr. M. D. Collins, Georgia superintendent of schools, went directly from the meeting to discuss further with Dr. R. L. Alderman, relief administration education executive, the teachers' appeal for more relief money to cover their unpaid salaries from February 1.

WEALTHY N. Y. WOMAN ENDS LIFE ON RANCH

LAS VEGAS, N. M., May 24.—(AP) Mrs. Emily Whitfield, former wife of William H. Vanderbilt, was found dead in a remote ranch house today and a coroner's jury decided she committed suicide.

The wealthy New York woman apparently shot herself with a revolver last midnight, a few hours after discussing a divorce to end her third marriage to Raoul Whitfield, a writer.

A friend, Mrs. Virginia Haydon Stone, said Mrs. Whitfield was despondent after conferring yesterday with her counsel on a divorce.

WEILER TO ADDRESS BENNING GRADUATES

WASHINGTON, May 24.—(AP)—The National Guard Bureau announced today Major General George E. Leach, bureau chief, will be unable to go to Columbus tomorrow, and that Colonel H. J. Weiler, head of the bureau of personnel division, will address the national guard and organized reserves graduating class at Fort Benning.

H. GRADY LANGFORD HEADS STATE BANKERS

Macon Banker at Sea Island Says Currency Is Easily Counterfeited.

SEA ISLAND, Ga., May 24.—(AP) H. Grady Langford, of Meansville, vice president, was elevated to the presidency of the Georgia Bankers' Association at its convention here today. Augusta was selected for the 1936 meeting place.

Other officers named were: Lee Trimble, Augusta, vice president; Haynes McFadden, Atlanta, re-elected secretary; Freeman Strickland, Atlanta, re-elected treasurer; Orville Park, Macon, re-elected general counsel.

Langford succeeds J. Truman Holland, of Thomasville.

Besides Holland, the executive council was elected, as follows: S. W. Lewis, Statesboro; E. B. Rimes Jr., Louisville; J. B. Hutcheson, Douglasville; M. L. Lee, Moultrie, and H. Huckabee, Fort Valley.

Increased cases of counterfeiting are brought about largely because the national government is making currency which can easily be duplicated, says Elbert P. Peabody, cashier of the First National Bank & Trust Company, Macon.

In an address before the convention today, Peabody said the government "has not placed sufficient safeguard around the present-day currency."

In 1925, he said, there were 663 counterfeiting cases in the United States, while last year there were 3,251.

"Could it be," asked Peabody, "that their (the government's) attitude is inspired by the fact that no matter how much counterfeiting goes on, the government can never lose on currency that is counterfeited?"

Declaring that the size and diversity of the United States "tends to make a central bank undesirable," Rudolf S. Hecht, president of the American Bankers' Association, says the association will do "all we can to keep our banking mechanism as far removed from partisan politics as possible."

Hecht was speaker last night at the annual banquet of the bankers' association. He attacked a control bank as likely to be run "to meet the varying exigencies of the government in power, rather than to serve the commercial needs of the country."

He said Secretary Morgenthau's statement favoring a central bank had come as "a distinct shock to the banking and business interests of the country."

The convention adjourned today.

CONYERS GIRL KILLED IN FALL OFF HORSE

ATHENS, Ga., May 24.—(AP)—Miss Renee Eloise Cannon, 18, of Conyers, was killed late today when she fell from a horse.

Miss Cannon was returning from a riding class on the University of Georgia campus, when several horses bolted. She was thrown and her neck broken.

She was a sophomore in the University and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Cannon, of Conyers.

About 25 students participated in the riding class and about half dozen of the horses became frightened as the class returned to the stables.

$5,000,000 U. S. FUNDS TO AID ILLINOIS NEEDY

CLEVELAND, May 24.—(AP)—Federal Relief Administrator Harry L. Hopkins announced today that $5,000,000 of federal funds would be released immediately to end the relief crisis in Illinois.

The announcement followed a conference between Hopkins and Governor Henry Horner, who came here from Springfield, Ill.

Poole to Demorest, Ga., where services will be held at 2:30 this afternoon at the New Hope Methodist church in Demorest, and burial will be in the churchyard. He is survived by a sister, Mrs. Allen Wilson, of Demorest.

Home Service Manager

Miss Lila Taylor, who for several years has been associated with one of the larger stores in Atlanta as home planning and decorating specialist, has been named manager of the home service department of the Rhodes-Wood Furniture Company, J. W. Johnson, general manager, announced.

ACCOUNTANTS OPEN COLUMBUS SESSION

COLUMBUS, Ga., May 24.—(AP)—Both the public and accountants have benefited by the new state law regulating the practice of certified public accountants, says R. L. Holland, of Savannah, president of the Georgia Society of Certified Public Accountants.

The public, he said, at the society's convention here today, has more protection under the new law than it did formerly, while the accountants, under the act, "have made great strides to better the profession in the state."

The society's annual meeting opened here this morning and will end tomorrow. State Treasurer George B. Hamilton was the principal speaker on the morning program.

The act referred to by President Holland was passed by the Georgia legislature at its recent session. It set up a five-member board to establish qualifications for C. P. A.'s. Holland said the accountants of the state have been attempting to secure passage of the law "for the past 10 or 15 years."

He pointed to the fact that the society has become incorporated during the past year, and said new chapters had been established in Macon and Columbus.

James L. Respess, C. P. A., of Atlanta, in a discussion of municipal accounting, suggested a uniform system of accounting throughout all political divisions as a means of determining cost to the individual taxpayer for a particular service.

EUGENE F MOORE JR. PASSES AT HOSPITAL

While the Tech High band, of which he was a member, played for the school's "open house" entertainment last night, Eugene F. Moore Jr., 15-year-old Tech High school student, died at a private hospital.

The boy was to have taken part in the semi-annual exercises at Tech High last night but was taken ill a month ago.

He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Moore Sr., of 167 Tenth street, N. E., and was a native of Savannah, though he was reared in Augusta, where his family is well known. His father is a certified public accountant.

In addition to his parents he is survived by a sister, Miss Audrey Moore; a brother, Rodney Moore, and his grandmothers, Mrs. Owen O. Moore, of Augusta, and Mrs. J. A. Englerth, of Savannah. He was a member of St. Mark Methodist church and of the Boy Scouts of America.

The funeral will be held at 5 o'clock this afternoon at Spring Hill. The Rev. J. W. Johnson will officiate and the body will be taken tonight to Augusta for interment.

STOCKADE SENTENCES PROMISED SPEEDERS

Warning that motorist who speed 60 miles an hour on Atlanta streets will be sent to the stockade was issued yesterday by John L. Cone, city recorder, as he fined W. H. Allen, of 113 Lakewood avenue, on three traffic violations.

Allen, police testified, sped through the city a mile a minute, leading officers a wild chase. He paid $27 for speeding, $27 for drunk and reckless driving and $6 for driving with improper lights. Judge Cone averred he will send subsequent speeders to the city stockade, where they take things slow.

State Deaths And Funerals

THOMAS G. HARVEY.

JAKIN, Ga., May 24.—Funeral services for Thomas Graham Harvey, 80, whose death occurred in Greensboro, N. C., Thursday, will be held Sunday from the First Baptist church here.

Mr. Harvey went to Greensboro about a month ago, for a visit with his son, Dr. W. W. Harvey, prominent physician of that city, and to receive treatment in one of the hospitals of that city.

Mr. Harvey was one of the best known and highly esteemed citizens of Early county, where he had resided for many years. He was a native of Dooly county, the son of Thomas Glascock and Mary Lewis Harvey. He engaged largely in the live stock industry, but was also prominently identified with the banking interests of his home county, serving for a number of years as director in institutions in Jakin and Donaldsonville. He was popularly and closely identified with all movements for the civic advancement of his community and for many years served on the local school board. He was an active member of the Baptist church and for 40 years taught a Sunday school class without missing a Sunday, except when attending church conventions out of the city.

For two score years Mr. Harvey was local representative of the Virginia-Carolina Chemical Company, in addition to his various other business interests.

He leaves his wife, who before marriage was Miss Valeda Minter; six sons and four daughters: Mrs. A. D. Ivey, T. G. Harvey Jr., B. D. Harvey, Mrs. W. T. Hudson, M. M. Harvey, H. G. Harvey and Miss Dot Harvey, all of Jakin; Dr. W. W. Harvey, Greensboro; J. Q. Harvey, Brunson, Ga.; Mrs. Hubert Dodd, Atlanta.

MRS. FRANCES TRIPPE.

LAGRANGE, Ga., May 24.—Mrs. Frances Lucile Trippe, 34, died suddenly Wednesday night at her home and funeral services were held Friday morning at 10:30 o'clock at the South Greenwood Baptist church. Elder W. W. Riner, of Atlanta, was in charge of services and interment followed at Flat Rock cemetery in Meriwether county.

Surviving are her husband, Harry L. Trippe; one daughter, Ann; parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Reeves, of Greenville; three sisters, Miss Elizabeth Reeves, of Lutherville; Misses Martha and Emma Reeves, of Greenville; three brothers, J. L. Reeves, LaGrange; Joseph Reeves, Atlanta, and Alman Reeves, Young Harris.

'The Daring Young Man' Pleases Fox Theater Fans

Those who enjoy light, quick-moving pictures not too dripping with romance or heavy dramatics will find a palatable morsel in "The Daring Young Man" which opened yesterday at the Fox. Despite the title, it has nothing to do with a circus. Instead, it's a newspaper story set in the background supposedly of Blackwell's Island.

Briefly, the romance of the picture has to do with a reporter who has to stand his bride-to-be up at the altar because the managing editor gets a sudden hunch there's a story to be had for the investigating at the city prison. James Dunn, the reporter, is assigned to get the story. Mae Clarke, who gets stood up, gives a good twist to the part.

Dunn doesn't find it easy sailing in the prison where some of the chosen inmates enjoy the ultimate of life, having radios and other luxuries in the cells. He is registered as a prisoner and is well on the way to getting his story in fine shape when there's a slip and his identity becomes known. Then there is plenty of action, but Dunn comes out of it right into the arms of the bride-to-be who already has tasted of what it would be like to be the wife of a newspaperman.

The cast includes several capable actors and actresses in addition to Dunn and Clarke, such as Madge Bellamy, Arthur Treacher, Neil Hamilton, Warren Haymond and Frank Melton.

An entertaining musical, "Paree! Paree!" and a variety, "No Motor to Guide Him," and the newsreel, rounds out a fine bill. C. F.

Paramount Picture Stars Jolson and Wife

The king and queen of song-and-dance come to the Paramount theater this week with Al Jolson and Ruby Keeler delighting the audience with their cavortings in "Go Into Your Dance." The picture, a First National production, is said to be the smash musical hit of the year.

Although primarily a musical production, the picture carries a convincing plot, with the welcome features of a fascinating romance and clever comedy relief. From that it rightly appears that the picture "has everything." The story is by Bradford Ropes, the author of "42nd Street." Beautiful girls—scores of the pick of Hollywood—go through clever dance routine arrayed in enchanting costumes. The dance ensembles were stagd by Bobby Connolly, who shows himself a master in the art of producing spectacular scenic effects. One of the most striking numbers shows a replica of the universe inter-cut with an artistic stairway crossing the globe in four directions representing the evolution of the tango from the Pampas of Argentina to Park avenue.

Al Jolson carries the role of a Broadway entertainer. He is barred from the New York stage because he quits the show without notice. In spite of his weakness for wine, women and the "ponies" he manages to turn about and find a new romance and rhythm. C. C.

Rare Thrills Abound In Feature at Grand

"Mark of the Vampire," which opened at Loew's Grand Friday, may be ranked as one of the most unusual detective thrillers of current productions.

Sinister shadows, vampires that roam in the night, terror in the ultimate intensity, blend with thrills, romance and comedy in this new Metro-Goldwyn success.

Dealing with a mysterious murder in the midst of an uncanny vampire cult, the story concerns a detective whose wits are pitted against the "undead" and who by an amazing strategy uncovers one of the strangest criminals in modern literature.

Based on a story by Guy Endore, the play was directed by Tod Browning, master of mysteries.

Lionel Barrymore plays the principal role as Professor Zelen, master of demonology, who aids the police in ferreting out a vampire horde. Bela Lugosi, of "Dracula" fame, plays the horrific vampire, Count Mora, and Carol Borland is Luna, his vampire daughter. They all figure in blood-chilling episodes in a weird old castle. Romance is provided by pretty Elizabeth Allan and Henry Wadsworth. Jean Hersholt, Lionel Atwill and Holmes Herbert are among others in the cast.

A Laurel and Hardy comedy, musical feature, and newsreel are other features on the program.

Holt Heads Fine Cast In Offering at Rialto

"The Unwelcome Stranger," which opened last night at the Rialto is an exceedingly human drama of human emotion built against a background of superstition which anyone who has ever been about the race tracks can readily understand.

Jackie Searle does an excellent role as an orphan lad who has to battle against the jinx nursed by Jack Holt, who is convincing as a race-horse owner who likes kids but cannot be persuaded that parentless creatures do not mean bad luck. Ralph Morgan, as an Irish trainer, is ideal for the part, and Mona Barrie is natural and charming as the woman in the case. The romance of the film is founded upon the love of the young couple for Jackie, and, of course, in the end the orphan superstition turns to a good luck omen instead, and Jackie finds the home he has always yearned for.

This is one of the best race pictures yet. Jackie turns jockey after it is discovered that a race is about to be crooked by a conniving betting commissioner and a yielding jockey. There's no doubling here, and Jackie rides his pride across the wire himself, and can he ride! The racing scene is a corker.

Quite simple in construction, the very simplicity of the piece goes to make it one which gets under the skin, but the sentimental part is not overdone to the point of depression at any juncture.

A nice bit is turned in by Frankie Darrow, popular juvenile, as the jockey who sells out.

An extremely funny comedy features Andy Clyde, who hands out cigars ad lib. when he discovers a layette in a cedar chest, only to discover in the end that the wife is going in for charity instead of increasing the family.

A cartoon comedy gets away from the usual by offering Ciribin, the Lucia sextette and other corking selections along with the funny stuff. —N. F.

Good Looking Dancers In "La Vie Parisienne"

Albert Bouche, whose show "La Vie Parisienne" is now playing at the Erlanger theater, has been calling me twice daily all week asking what reaction the performance had on this particular onlooker. For the first time in the week we got time to run out yesterday afternoon and saw the performance.

Reaction is that he has a lot of mighty good-looking girls who don't mind displaying their charms and can dance better than most terpsichorean performers. In fact one reaction was a desire to go back stage and get to know some of 'em better. That, however, has nothing to do with their dancing.

The performance is preponderantly visual. There are a couple of singers to forestall monotony from too much dance, but to a lover of the rhythmic movements of the human body it is almost impossible to overdo said varied dance demonstrations.

It is invidious to mention individuals too freely when all are so good but those Three Cameos, particularly the one in the center, appealed mightily and the dance team of man and woman are exceptionally clever and daring.

The character dancer, too, is worthy of mention. There isn't anything elaborate in the way of stage settings. Oh, yes, that singing girl merits a special word of praise.

There is also a screen half of the program, but I went out to see the stage show. —R. T. J.

LUCAS ASKS U. S. PROBE OF 'RACKET' CHARGES

Theater Chain Head Demands Grand Jury Investigate Accusation.

SAVANNAH, Ga., May 24.—A demand for immediate investigation of charges that the Lucas & Jenkins Theaters, Inc., was engaged in an interstate "racket" was sent United States District Attorney Lawrence A. Camp tonight by Arthur Lucas, president of the company, as an answer to resolutions adopted Thursday by the Allied States Association of Motion Picture Exhibitors, meeting in Atlanta.

Mr. Lucas demanded a federal grand jury investigation of the company with a view of indicting heads of his firm if the charges proved true, or indictment for criminal libel against its attackers if they proved false.

His wire, a copy of which was sent to Attorney-General Homer A. Cummings, said that charges were made that the company is engaged in an interstate "racket" and asked that the federal grand jury investigate with a view to indictment of the Lucas & Jenkins Company if the charges proved true or an indictment for criminal libel against the accusers if proven false.

The resolution adopted at the Atlanta convention charges that through "Tri-State," an organization they claimed was affiliated with Lucas & Jenkins, the theater chain was extorting from $15 weekly up from small independent operators under threats of placing competition against them.

BLINDING FOG BLAMED FOR ARMY AIR CRASH

PINE VALLEY, Okla., May 24.—(AP)—A blinding fog covering the peak of Big Eagle mountain, 12 miles southwest of here, was officially blamed for the crash of an army plane in which Lieutenant Wendell G. Holliday and Private Ira Hicks lost their lives Sunday.

Captain Edwin Sullivan, of Hatbox field, Muskogee, Okla., who investigated the accident, said the two fliers apparently had become lost in a storm and passed over the peak of the mountain, obscured by fog. The plane crashed into a densely wooded area on the other side, caught fire, and burned.

JUST NUTS

THE LOVE FLIGHT

By JANE DIXON

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE.

Anne Austin, the family fortune wiped out in the crash, her mother dead, and her father, a New York banker, a suicide, has only $300 when she must choose between earning her way or marrying Craig Braden, gilded scion of a family which moves in the same social circles as had the Austins. Craig's growing infatuation is evident to all and Anne's friends cannot understand why she does not make her fortune secure by accepting him. She knows he would have proposed a score of times had she not held him off. Why does she postpone the moment that will mean a return of the old lavish days, she asks herself. Then comes the Bruno Beasleys' house party at their country estate. When Craig's avowal of love is imminent again, Anne pretends faintness, he rushes away for brandy, and she hurries from Bruno's lakeside camp to the Beasley house. Back in New York her catty cousin, Maida Suydam, remonstrates with her for throwing away a chance any other girl in their set would jump at. Even Anne herself is still amazed—until she is candid with herself: she cannot think of marriage with this blase young man who has amused himself with the flutterings of Mayfair and Broadway butterflies. The gossip columns comment on the break between Anne and Craig, and he sails for Vichy. For a moment Anne considers recalling him, then decides she cannot tolerate the thought: she must work. Still undecided where she will go, she asks for her hotel bill, telling the clerk there is no forwarding address. NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

INSTALLMENT III.

Anne forced a smile. Inwardly she was seething. Maida muddling in other people's affairs! Anne was at the cashier's window.

"My bill, please. Austin—Anne Austin. I'll be leaving tomorrow."

The cashier was unctious. "We hope our service has been satisfactory, Miss Austin."

"Quite."

Anne wrote a check for the amount designated. Passing the desk again she stopped to address the sharp-eyed clerk. Now she despised his servility more than she had resented his suspicion. Insect! Maida had neglected to seal her note. The clerk had read it. She flicked off his bow as though it was a grain of dust.

"I prefer not to be disturbed tonight," she said. "I shall be leaving early tomorrow. If there are any calls, say I have gone, please."

"Yes, Miss Austin. Any forwarding address?"

"None."

In her room, Anne started packing. Not in the careless fashion that was her wont. Now she was emptying drawers. Emptying closets. Stowing things in trunk and bags. She was almost gay. She forget her slender purse. She disdained the conduct of her fair weather friends who turned cool shoulders on misfortune. She was not going abroad—to Vichy, but she was going to sea—in a ship of adventure, and she would be the captain, the pilot and the crew.

Packing nowadays was a comparatively simple task. Nothing remained of the fulsome days of the Austin fortune except her clothes. Even her wardrobe had been reduced to fit a scale of necessity. Everything—home, paintings, furnishings, bric-a-brac had gone into the melting pot for the benefit of her father's creditors. Anne had been tempted to hold out a rug, which was priceless before bread lines formed in streets that only a few weeks before had spewed golden streams. The rug was the gift of a pasha during a visit of her father to Egypt. She was glad now she had resisted the temptation to keep the rug as a souvenir of happier days. It would mean storage, and storage came high. She had been unable to resist a small string of pearls that had been her mothers. Relatively the pearls were of small intrinsic value, but precious in memory.

Midnight. Anne finished packing, closed her trunk. She'd slip into her pajamas and stand at the window for a last long look at the Aladdin city of her youth.

A scuffling outside her door, in the hall. Voices excited, now raised, now muffled. The thud of a body. She must do what she could to help. A dressing gown over her shoulders. Open the door ever so little—

"Stay where you are, please," a voice commanded. "This fellow is dangerous. We've got him, but we don't want him to cut loose again. The police will be here shortly."

"Who is he and what does he want?" Anne, disregarding the command, stood squarely in the doorway.

Two huskies, in the livery of the hotel, were holding another man between them. The man was struggling, lashing out with his feet, butting his head against his captors' shoulders. At sight of Anne, the guttural sounds in his throat became frenzied shrieks:

"Who am I? Ask your father. Ask Ed Austin, the banker. Ask him whose money he used to buy bonds—fancy pieces of paper! Blood money! He bought them with blood, my blood! Rich? He said we'd be rich! Ha, ha, ha! Two baskets a week from charity. Minna's eating charity. She feeds it to our children—three of them. Give me the money. Give it to me, Austin! No more tricks. I came here to kill you—to squeeze your throat between my fingers—so—"

The huskier of the two hotel attendants caught the man about the shoulders, pulling his heard forward and down, cutting off his wind. His thin body seemed endowed with superhuman strength. It was all the two huskies could do to hold him.

"Don't hurt him if you can help," Anne pleaded. "Can't you ease the pressure on his throat?"

"Sure an' I cannot," the captor protested. "It's crazy as a loon he is. I caught him snakin' up the stairs an' 'twas your room he was wantin', though how he got the number the divil knows. Whist. Here's the cops at last. Better close your door, lady, and have no truck wid this muss nohow. The cops'll cool him off quicker'n you can say Molly O'Dell."

Anne, disregarding the advice, stepped into the hall.

"Officer," she said to the policeman in charge, "I am Anne Austin. This poor fellow has come in search of my father, Edward Austin. Father is not here. He—there was an accident—father is dead. This man must have bought bonds and he thinks father took his money. He didn't, of course. It was swept away, lost, like millions and millions more."

"Too bad, miss." The officer was respectful, sympathetic. "Plenty of 'em's gone that way, and more going every day. The crazy house is full of 'em. We'll look out for the poor beggar, and no cause for you to worry."

"Will you wait a minute, please?" Anne retired into her room. At once she was back, approaching the officer so that she could address him in confidence.

"I have very little money left," she said, seeking his hand and thrusting into it some crumpled bills. "I want you to see that this man or his family get what I've given you—half of what I have. I'd give more but I'm going away to look for a job and I'll have to have money for food and for railroad fare. And thanks so much for your trouble."

"Well, whadda you think of that?" the officer in charge asked his partner. "Half of all she's got! I'll be blessed if the wimmin' ain't got more nerre than the men in this here depression."

Anne dresssed and sat by the window awaiting the dawn. Would the dark skies ever turn to pearl and wear their roe flush again? It seemed not. Hours stretched into infinity. She would take the first train south in the morning. . . .

The girl on the bench to the right of Anne Austin moved up a peg. Anne pegged one after her. That meant only two applicants would be interviewed before she, Anne, would be on the carpet—the woman who had just stepped forward to the desk and the girl to the right of her.

Was this really an employment agency, or was it a place she had read about, which had now materialized in her dreams? Palm Beach! She had been in Palm Beach many times—the hotels, the Austins, the Pembrookes, the Bradens graced, the clubs, cabanas, the Shore drive. Why was she here, in this strange place, with these strange persons?

Anne closed her eyes, opened them again. Palm Beach. She was here to get a job. She had to get a job or go on being hungry. One thin dime in her bag with the splashy silver monogram on it, and after she had a roll and a cup of coffee for combination breakfast and lunch even the thin dime would vanish. She couldn't buy food with a silver monogram.

"Next!"

The girl to the left of Anne nudged and murmured impatiently, "You're next."

Anne rose, stook before the desk with up-tilted chin. She hoped the desk was high enough so that the wasp-woman behind it could not notice the quaking of her knees.

"Name, please." The wasp-woman poised a pencil over a paper.

"Anna."

"Full name please."

"Anna Brent."

"B-r-e-n-t?"

"Yes. B-r-e-n-t."

Why had she said Anna Brent? Anna, yes. She could understand that. But Brent. No one in her family, no one she knew, had been a Brent. Never that she could recall had she heard the name Brent. It just popped out at her. Brent. So be it.

"Occupation?"

Occupation? What had she done? What could she do? Anything, as long as it was something. The pencil was still poised.

"I'm not occupied at the present."

The wasp-woman moved back in her chair, turned a stabbing eye on Anne.

"I suspected as much," she said. Something in the manner of the girl standing so straight and still before her jarred the woman out of her routine. Her eyes fell to the silver monogram, on the expensive black suede purse, to the hand that held the purse, slender and soft and white. She shook her head, pressed her thin lips to a straighter line. Another! The poor rich. Would there never be an end to them? Useless timber, clogging the machinery of work. This one was different. Not uppity like most of them. Kind of thin looking and drawn. Hungry maybe.

"Any references?" she asked, lowering her voice so the others waiting outside the rail could not hear.

"I'm afraid I haven't," Anne apologized.

"Ever been in service before?"

"You mean have I ever worked before? No—that is I've never worked for wages."

"I see." Pencil tapping on desk. "Any idea about what you might do?"

"I'm willing to do anything—Ive graduated from finishing school and—I've played the piano, concert music, for charity."

The pencil went on tapping.

"Finishing school! Why college graduates are running 24 to the dozen right now and piano players make fair dish washers, when we can find dishes for them to wash."

"I know." Anne, despairing. She must not allow her chain to quiver. Lack of nourishing food weakened one's will. "I hope there might be something—I'd try to make up for inexperience with hard work—"

The DEBUNKER

By John Harvey Furbay, Ph.D.

Most housewives make the mistake of supposing that a bottle of milk is only as rich as the cream which rises in it. Food experts have pointed out, however, that there is a vast difference in different milk regarding the rate at which this cream separates and rises to the surface. In some milk a large pencentage of the cream never rises, but remains mixed with the milk, while the cream of other milk rises quickly and thus appears to be richer milk. The only way to be sure of the butter-fat content in milk is to have it tested.

UNCLE RAY'S CORNER

A LITTLE SATURDAY TALK.

A week seems too short for our series on Canada; but other subjects are scheduled for the coming week and we may content ourselves with waiting until some later date to make further visits in the dominion.

Today, however, I wish to take up a few of the points of interest which we have missed.

Halifax, capital of Nova Scotia, has a fine harbor and is one of Canada's leading seaports. Its history goes back to 1749 when a British fort was built. The city was named for the Earl of Halifax.

The city harbor is about six miles long and a mile wide; and it ranks as one of the fine harbors of the world.

Halifax is a railway center as well as a seaport. It carries on a large trade in apples, lumber and fish, and it contains iron foundries, machine shops and a very large sugar refinery.

Nova Scotia's early settlers came chiefly from France and Scotland. Enough of them of Scotch blood to explain the Latin name, which means "New Scotland." Since early days many settlers have come from England and some from Germany.

The apples of Nova Scotia, grown in the Annapolis and other valleys, are world famous and form an important export.

Speaking of the Annapolis valley one writer gives us these words:

"In the late springtime it is all perfume and fairy loveliness—for the apple trees are in bloom. Mile after mile they stretch away, fluffy clouds of white and pink, calling to the bees with the sweetness of their 'ragrance, holding the passerby with the sheer glory of their beauty."

The beauty of Nova Scotia leads thousands of persons from the United States to make it their summer playground. There are about 14,000 square miles of forest land in the province, and the forests contain spruce, fir, pine and hemlock trees. The climate is healthful and mild.

During the coming week we shall take up some of the most interesting of all insects—the bees.

Mrs. Myers Loveless Is Named President Of Garden Club

West End Garden Club begins its seventh year with Mrs. Myers Loveless, the organizer of the club, as president; Mrs. Lewis H. Cottongim, vice president; Mrs. Thomas B. Whatley, secretary; Mrs. C. G. Alexander, treasurer, and Mrs. C. C. Berry, corresponding secretary. The officers were installed by Mrs. E. P. Crenshaw, who spoke of the improvements she recognized in the gardens of the members, and the contribution made to the community by this club.

The following chairmen were named by the president: Library, Mrs. A. Kent; program, Mrs. Thomas Whatley; flower shows, Mrs. W. L. Hardin; ways and means, Mrs. W. W. Dudley; publicity, Mrs. C. D. Swint; flower offerings, Mrs. C. G. Alexander; horticulture, Mrs. C. M. Tucker; community projects, Mrs. M. P. Gaines; garden center, Mrs. A. Kent; garden tours, Mrs. L. E. Williams; highway beautification, Mrs. John S. Florence; scrapbook, Mrs. J. D. Alexander; garden gateway, Mrs. C. C. Berry; telephone, Mrs. Frank Harper; membership, Mrs. L. H. Cottongim.

The club endorsed the work of Mrs. Tom Pitts, and her committee, for the beautification of Cascade road and a letter was written to her expressing the club's appreciation of such a splendid project in West End.

The meeting was held in the home of Mrs. C. D. Swint, the retiring president. Luncheon was served in the woodland garden of Mrs. T. E. Tolleson, the co-hostess. The June meeting will be held at the home of Mesdames C. J. Griggs and Comer Parson, with Mrs. E. P. Crenshaw as co-hostess. At this meeting each member will have a showing of summer flowers.

Service Club Holds Picnic.

The Service Club of the Mary E. La Rocca Grove, No. 264, of the Supreme Forest Woodmen Circle, met for the first picnic of the season on Wednesday at Grant park, with Mrs. Aba Leen Johnson in charge. A picnic luncheon was served.

Games and contests were the diversions. Mrs. Lavenia Yarian and Mrs. Gladys Joyner were winners of the prizes.

Visitors present were Mesdames Gladys Joyner, of Maple Grove No. 86, and Mesdames Ida Bethel, W. H. Cleveland, A. M. Jester, Douglass Craig and little Russell Johnson. Members present were Mesdames Beatrice Owens, Helen Shearin, Lavenia Yarian, Lula Brown, Aba Leen Johnson, Kate Thompson, Maye Ola Odom and Miss Mary Philips and little Audrey Johnson and Buddy Yarian.

The next meeting will be a business meeting with Mrs. Beatrice Owens, at her home, 1010 Lawton street, on June 12.

Mrs. William B. Griffith will keep open house at her residence, 650 Bonaventure, N. E., today from 4 to 5 o'clock honoring her mother, Mrs. J. N. Keelin Sr., on her 74th birthday. Miss Mary Gray, teacher of the Women's Bible class of the Druid Hills Baptist church, of which Mrs. Keelin is a member, will receive with Mrs. Griffith and Mrs. Keelin.

The tea table will be covered with a lace cloth made by Mrs. Keelin and used at the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Keelin three years ago.

Mesdames Walter Bedard, Mary Griffith Dobbs and J. N. Keelin Jr. will assist the hostess. Mrs. Charles R. Hartsfield will pour tea and Miss Anna Kothe will preside at the punch bowl.

O. E. S. Meets.

Capital City Chapter No. 111, O. E. S., will hold a stated meeting on Monday, May 27, at 8 o'clock.

Library Club Gives Dinner on Tuesday.

Atlanta Library Club will have a dinner meeting at the Colonial Terrace Hotel on Tuesday evening at 6:30 o'clock. Guest speaker will be Mrs. Christine Noble Govan, of Chattanooga. Mrs. Govan is the author of "Those Plummer Children," a delightful story based on episodes of the author's childhood; she is a former librarian, a well-known critic and lecturer on children's literature.

As this meeting is the last to be held until September on account of many club members leaving for the summer, the travel idea will be featured in the table decorations and the place cards.

Dinner will be served on the terrace and reservations may be made by calling the secretary, Miss Martha Worsham, at HEmlock 0352.

Hapeville Juniors To Attend Festival.

Junior club members of Hapeville will attend the May Day festival to be held at the Wren's Nest, the Joel Chandler Harris Memorial home, today at 4 o'clock. Little Misses Barbara and Betty Jane Terrel and Mary Helen Hodges will present dances and Walker Kinsman will render accordion solos.

Members of the junior club and their friends are urged to attend. For further information call Mrs. Raymond Cathy, leader of the club, Calhoun 1944.

Miss Scott, Fiance Will Be Honored.

Miss Marjorie Scott and Vernon Shearer Jr. continue to be feted at a round of social activities preceding their marriage on June 15. Miss Ruth Frost will compliment Miss Scott at a kitchen shower at her home on Linwood avenue this afternoon. On Sunday evening Miss Ellen O'Donnell will honor Miss Scott and Mr. Shearer with a buffet supper at her home on Moreland avenue.

Mrs. William Manry Heston will be hostess at a bridge in honor of Miss Scott at her home on Leland terrace on Tuesday. Miss Harriett Oxford will fete Miss Scott with a garden party at the home of her au[illegible], Mrs. A. B. McCrary, on Lawton street, on Saturday, June 1.

On Tuesday evening Miss Evelyn Angell entertained in honor of Miss Scott and Mr. Shearer. Invited to meet them were Misses Mary Matthews, Mary Joe Venable, Harriett Oxford, Jane Blick and Olga Loti, and Alfred Brawner, Littleton Little, Jack Saunders, Joe Shearer and Fred Holliday, and Mr. and Mrs. Kelly Hinde, Mr. and Mrs. Lawton Palmer, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Miller and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Heston.

Miss Harrison Is At Garden Center Today.

Miss Edith Harrison, well-known landscape architect and member of the Peachtree Garden Club, will be at the garden's center, Rich's, Inc., today and will consult with and advise those who have a landscape problem. Today is the day on which the Peachtree Garden Club members will act as chairmen at the garden center.

Annual Joint Social.

Joint annual social of the Men's Bible class and the Jackson Bible class was held Tuesday evening at the Kirkwood Baptist church. The business portion of the program was presided over by the class presidents, Mrs. H. S. Hamilton and W. A. Gatlin. The splendid program entertainment was furnished in the music of the ladies' chorus, men's quartet and other local entertainers. Music was arranged by Mrs. A. Brunson and Mr. Wood, members of the classes, and 300 attended.

Sport-Minded Atlantans Await Pool Opening Today

Sport-minded Atlantans await with much enthusiasm the opening of the Atlanta Woman's Club swimming pool which will be an event of Saturday afternoon, May 25, at 3 o'clock. Mrs. W. F. Melton, the president, and Mrs. Frederick A. Scheer is chairman. Music will be furnished by the Tech High School band, under the leadership of H. A. Taylor, and a splendid water program will be given under the direction of B. F. Stein, water director for the club. Mrs. Guy Sink, the instructor, and Mrs. John Echols, the vice chairman, aided in arranging many interesting features.

Mayor Key will cut the ribbon and formally open the pool, which will be free to club members and their friends for Saturday. An outstanding feature of Saturday's program will be a showing of the latest thing in swimming fashions. Attractive young Atlanta girls will model the last word in water styles from Rich's new sport shop. Models will include the Misses Margaret Cummings, Rita Cummings, Catherine Cummings, Elise Pearson, Eloise Gresham, June Spalding, Van Spalding, Martha Pierce, Lady Fleming and Ruth Hunnicutt.

Better Films Group Re-elects Officers

In the absence of the president, Mrs. Alva G. Maxwell, the May luncheon of Atlanta Better Films committee was presided over by Mrs. T. C. Perkins.

NEW-LOOKING MONOTONE PRINT SILK.

Here's a clever coat type dress that will disguise overweight most beautifully. It is very jaunty and tailored looking with its wide revers and wrapover skirt that buttons to give snugness over the hip area.

Then again, you might like it made with short sleeves of striped shirting cotton. Linens in plain pastel or prints are also smart. Pastel tub silks are also very smart for its development.

Style No. 481 is designed for sizes 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46 and 48 inches bust. Size 36 requires 4 1-4 yards of 39-inch material with 1-4 yard of 35-inch contrasting.

Our Spring Fashion book is beautifully illustrated in color.

Price of book 15 cents.

Price of pattern 15 cents. Wrap coin carefully.

Friendly Counsel

By CAROLINE CHATFIELD

Problems of general interest submitted by readers will be discussed in this column. Correspondence invited. Your name held in confidence. Write Miss Chatfield, care The Atlanta Constitution.

A young bachelor who says he is much sought after by the girls writes that he has come across a bit of wit that expresses his sentiment to a T and he would like to have it discussed: "Why marry, when I have a parrot that scolds all morning, a cat that primps all afternoon and a dog that watches me at night?"

There is no earthly reason why a man should marry if he doesn't want to. Particularly when he can walk out on parrot, dog and cat whenever he pleases and bask in the sunny smiles and voluble approbation of foolish females who imagine he may be caught with guile. There is no reason why he should marry so long as he believes women are compounded of three equal parts of vengeance, vanity and vigilance. Some have thought differently and said that little girls "are made of sugar and spice and all things nice." There is no reason why he should marry so long as he prizes liberty above love, and prefers birds and domestic animals to wife and children.

Unmarried he is free and independent. He can go to bed when it suits him, get up when he pleases, eat his meals when he is hungry, take a trip when the spirit moves him, come home when he gets enough. There is no wife to nag him about irregular hours and annoying habits, no crying baby to interrupt his late morning nap, no fretting problem of discipline with the young children, no financial worries about tuition at expensive schools and colleges for adolescent children, no anguish about unsuitable marriages for grown sons and daughters. He doesn't have to burden himself with huge insurance premiums to protect his wife and children in case of his death. If business is good and income large he luxuriates, if it is poor and income small he economizes. Living alone he becomes altogether self-sufficient and when loneliness seizes him he can go out being sure of a welcome at the home of married friends. His problem is generally one of sidestepping invitations rather than getting invitations. He is in social demand.

He may have need of a needle and thread occasionally and a woman to wield it but if he hasn't that convenience neither does he have to submit to the inconvenience of a ball and chain. A button comes off his coat and the pressing club will sew it on for him. A button comes off a more intimate garment and he can substitute a safety-pin. His heel may peep through one sock and his big toe punch a hole in the other. He throws them in the waste-basket and buys a new pair. Pretty independent!

Yet he is wrong if he supposes his bachelorhood makes him so. Oh no, it is his locked heart. There is no bondage like heart bondage and when a man enters it liberty has fled. It doesn't take a magistrate or clergyman to strip him of his independence. It doesn't take a halter to lead him to the altar. He gets on his knees and begs for the handcuffs. The scolding parrot, the primping cat, the watchful dog are quickly forgot. Everything is forgot but the one consuming ambition to have and to hold that other heart. If eating his words, swallowing his pride, absorbing the jeers of his bachelor buddies is the price, he will gladly pay it and offer more.

Why should a man get married? He shouldn't unless he finds some woman who makes him forget all his theories about the blessing of bachelorhood. He shouldn't unless he is going to treat his wife in such a way that she won't be tempted to nag; unless he has some patience with feminine vanity; unless he is going to be such a good husband that his wife's watchful eyes will flatter him rather than fret him. That's all.

Betty's Old Furniture Looks New as Well as Modern.

By FLORENCE La GANKE.

Betty's finance loved her a lot, he had a good head and good business sense, but so far he had found few opportunities to put his business sense to work. Nevertheless the couple decided to get married and to set up housekeeping by themselves. Betty had a job but she decided to give it up since it was not a specialized position which only she could fill. Not that Betty believed in women staying home and giving up their profession in the business world, but after all, there were just so many pieces of work to be done and if Betty held on to hers it kept some one else, who was not acquiring a nice husband, from having a chance at earning a livelihood.

Doing over furniture for the new home was one of her ways of paying her way in the new venture. She could do this in her free time at home.

She took an old lounging chair of Bert's and removed all the old finish. It was of wood stained mahogany. She painted the chair with a coat of aluminum paint before she put on any other paint or enamel. This kept the red stain from bleeding through. It was absolutely necessary, as she knew, to do this.

Then the frame was enamelled white, three coats, the first one being flat white. Sandpapering was done between applications of coats.

The frame was then antiqued. The upholstery was done with a coarse woven cotton fabric, rather nubby. For her dining room she treated an old chest of drawers in the same way, painting a gay peasant design on the front of the drawers to match some plates. This was done before the final antique glazing coat with a little Japanese brown in it was put on.

Her curtains were double thickness unbleached muslin with two rows of ringe, one two inches wide of blue and the inner one sewed right over the blue, of red fringe, one inch wide.

Two hurricane glasses went on the chest. The walls of the room were a dull old blue giving a red, white and blue dining room.

Lillian Mae Patterns

EASY TO MAKE HOUSE FROCK.
Pattern 2161.

When summer rolls 'round the "House Frock" is no longer a typical work dress. No indeed, it has to do a lot of time elsewhere, like making a trip to market, greeting an unexpected caller or porch-sitting in the cool of the afternoon so what more natural than that it take on added charm? The back and bosom fullness now so popular in dressier clothes are featured here, and the perky little frill outlining the unique closing is charming and feminine. But see how simple the pattern is kept with its easy-to-make yoke becoming a cool cap sleeve, and the skirt is just as simple as A B C! Choose printed cotton, sheer or sturdy.

Pattern 2161 is available in sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42. Size 16 takes 3 1-2 yards fo 36-inch fabric. Illustrated step-by-step sewing instructions included.

Send fifteen cents (15c) for this Lillian Mae pattern. Write plainly name, address and style number. Be sure to state size.

And now . . . Lillian Mae summer pattern book is ready. Between its covers lie 40 pages of fascinating fashion facts. Everyone's problem is solved—the bride with trousseau troubles—much "dated" junior debs—tiny tots at play—and everyone on vacation! Not only will your every stitch be a smarter one, but you'll find you've developed a new smart point-of-view after digesting the absorbing special features! Send for your copy today. ELIMINATION PLAY.

There are several varieties of forced lead or throw-in plays. What is colloquially called "the strip and end-play"—a dreadful term!—is based upon the elimination of the suits from the hand of the victim that would otherwise give him safe exit at the time he is thrown in the lead. What is usually called "the elimination play," possible only at a suit declaration, is based upon the examination of the exit suits from the hand of declarer and dummy at a time when both hands still hold trumps. In this form the victim is deprived of exit by virtue of the fact that a lead from a neutral side suit would allow declarer to throw in one hand discard in the other.

In the hand below, in order to fulfill his contract, declarer not only had to eliminate two suits from his own hand and dummy, but also had to place the lead with the opponent who had the high honor in the remaining suit.

South, dealer.
Neither side vulnerable.

	♠ A 6 2 ♡ 7 5 3 ◇ A 8 4 2 ♣ K 9 5
♠ 8 7 5 ♡ 9 8 4 2 ◇ K Q J 6 ♣ 8 3	W E S	♠ K Q 10 9 ♡ Q J 10 ◇ 10 9 7 3 ♣ 6 4
	♠ J 4 3 ♡ A K 6 ◇ 5 ♣ A Q J 10 7 2

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1♣	Pass	1◇	Pass
3♣	Pass	5♣	Pass
Pass	Pass

The Play.

The opening lead was the king of diamonds, won in dummy with the ace. The deuce of diamonds was returned and ruffed by declarer with the club ten. The deuce of clubs followed and was won in the dummy with the nine, and the four of diamonds returned and ruffed with the jack in the closed hand. Dummy was re-entered by leading the club seven and overtaking with the king.

Dummy's last diamond was led and ruffed, which eliminated the suit from the North-South hands. Declarer then led the ace, king and six of hearts, the last trick being won by East.

Unfortunately, East held the three adverse spade honors and was forced to lead the king, which was allowed to hold. East had to continue the suit, letting the jack make as well as the ace, and so allowing declarer to make contract.

(Copyright, 1935, for The Constitution.)

Mr. Culbertson will send to any reader who will enclose a self-addressed, stamped (3-cent) envelope with his request, a booklet containing the new rules, discussing changes in the rules and discussing the etiquette of Contract. The request should be addressed to Ely Culbertson, in care of The Atlanta Constitution.

TWO MEN IDENTIFIED AS ALABAMA BANDITS

Frank Hames and J. R. Martin were picked from a police lineup yesterday by Alabama officers as being two of four bandits who robbed a bank near Florence, Ala., recently.

The men were arrested here a week ago for Florence police. The Alabama officers brought extradition papers here yesterday but, due to a technicality, will not present them to the governor for consideration until Monday. Hames was identified Thursday by Herbert Bailey, cashier of the bank, as being one of the bandits who got $2,000.

Get Your Protection in Advance Against Wave of Auto Accidents

"Twenty-three persons per day killed by autos first 20 weeks of this year."

This is the notice sent over the wires. That means nearly one person each hour killed by automobile accidents in the United States.

Thirty-six thousand people are going to be killed this year and more than 1,000,000 injured in automobile accidents. This is probably conservative, for that is what happened last year, and experience records show that it almost invariably increases each year.

This section is having its full quota of accidents, and if you ride in an automobile you are not immune. They do not always happen to somebody else. Why not protect yourself in advance against the peril of the accident wave? You cannot avoid accidents, but you can eliminate the want and financial privation that usually follows.

The insurance offered you through The Atlanta Constitution is issued by the North American Accident Insurance Company, of Chicago, Ill., which company has already paid Atlanta Constitution subscribers over $200,000. The insurance is offered to subscribers of the daily and Sunday Constitution and immediate dependent members of the subscriber's family between the ages of 15 and 69 on the one subscription going into the home at a small registration fee of 20 cents with application and 10 cents per month thereafter in addition to the subscription price, or $1 each per policy per year in advance to subscribers who live in Atlanta and Atlanta suburbs where we have carrier delivery. Out-of-town subscribers can have this insurance by paying $1 per policy per year in advance.

This insurance offered through the Atlanta Constitution provides for the payment of sums ranging downward from $10,000 for travel, $1,000 for auto and pedestrian deaths resulting from certain specified accidents; heavy sume for permanent injuries, and $10 weekly indemnity for total disability resulting from accidents set forth in the policy, which is at the rate of $43.33 per month.

In sending application for insurance, the applicant must state name in full, give age and occupation and if beneficiary is desired the full Christian name of beneficiary must be given and relationship of same to the insured.

Do your duty! Protect yourself and family today. Tomorrow may be too late.

CHILDREN'S GUILD PRODUCES PLAY FOR FIRST TIME

The premiere of Cora-Paxton Stewart's play, "Gates of Wonder," presented by members of the Atlanta Children's Theater Guild on Friday evening at Washington Seminary, revealed some unusual talent.

The role of "Spirit of Nature," portrayed by Angelique de Golian, will stand out in memory. The role was exceedingly difficult for any child to play, but she carried it off with honors.

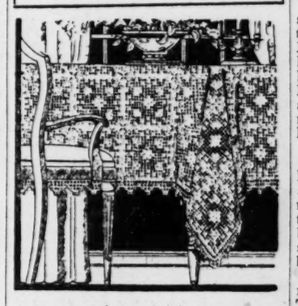

Other speaking parts well played were those of "Progress," played by Billy Grabbe; "Merry," by Frances Wheeler; "Woodland Witch," by Barbara Benefield; "Poe Herald," by Dalton Glower, and "Queen Mother of the Fairies," by Betty Morgan.

The "Ballet of Starry Breath," danced by Mary Ann Linane, and the spring dance by the group of Woodland Fairies added color to the program.

Betty Crandall was dramatic director while Ann Agricola Hartrampf was in charge of the dance numbers and costuming.

POLICE SEEK IDENTITY OF WOUNDED BANDIT

Youth Wounded After Drug Store Holdup Believed Posing Under Assumed Name.

Fulton county police yesterday were checking to determine the identity of the "fashion plate" bandit who was captured late Thursday night following a running gun battle after he had held up Coursey's Drug Store at 2305 Peachtree road. He rifled a store cash register and forced 13 customers and two store operators to line up against a wall from which they came one by one to deposit their money and valuables on a table from which he scooped up the loot.

The bandit, who gave his name as William Ross, was moved yesterday from Grady hospital, where he had been treated for wounds received during the running battle, to Fulton tower. Papers found on his person led police to believe that he might be posing under an assumed name. He told police that he was an unemployed embalmer and that his home was at Elkton, Md.

Officers, however, found on his person a certificate of discharge from the Sinclair Navigation Company, of New York, issued to William H. Fowler, abled-bodied seaman, at Mobile last April 9. The certificate gave Fowler's age as 24, approximately the age of the bandit. Ross, however, maintained that he had given police his correct name.

Denies Inman Park Holdup.

He likewise denied that he had held up the Inman Park Pharmacy at 752 Edgewood avenue, Tuesday night, taking $7 from the cash rezister there. Earlier in the day he had been identified, police said, by the store proprietor and a clerk as the bandit.

The wounded man admitted, police reported, that he had staged the Thursday night robbery and also that he had forced an unidentified young couple from their car at the point of a gun and had driven off in the latter car after he had wrecked his own.

Ross admitted, police said, that the original hold-up car had been stolen in Suffolk, Va. They said that he had taken the car from Mrs. Frances Perry, Halifax county health nurse, after she had stopped on the South Boston-Richmond highway last Monday to offer assistance following an automobile crash which involved the bandit and Richard Glass, a farmer of Clover, Va.

Drove Away in Auto.

The bandit forced her, at the point of a pistol, police said, to get out of her car and he drove off in it leaving behind his own wrecked machine and Glass with a broken leg and dislocated shoulder.

A love letter written by Ross to a girl identified only as "Dot," furnished police with a possible clue as to the reason for his desire to get money in a hurry. He wrote:

"Gee, precious, I never knew I loved you so much. If I had known how things were going to happen, I would have planned ahead of time—I mean by that that you and I would spend most of our lives together, but I will be back and if there is anything worrying you let me know. I don't care how many cops are between us, I'll get through."

In the letter to his sweetheart he admitted "breaking every law there is to break and when they make new ones I'll break them too." His missive took another course when he wrote: "I find you and me are flowing apart, because of a mistake a year old."

Ross said that he had been driven to hold up the drug store because he was hungry. He told police that he had not had anything to eat for three days. He refused, however, to eat breakfast Friday at the hospital.

"Bull fighters? Did you say bull fights?"

Bryan Grant paused, his eyes wide.

"Say, do you know the bull killed a guy the day we were there? And that's no bull."

"Killed him?" said I, a bit startled at the news from Mexico City, where Bryant Grant had played with our Davis cup team in defeating China and Mexico.

"Yes, killed him," said Bryan Grant. "We were at the bull fight that day and the fights were not so good. The fighters were not, I mean. Well, there was a fellow in the stands razzing them. He kept telling them how to kill the bull.

"Pretty soon they invited him down there. And so help me, if he didn't go. He went down there. He took the cape and he started making passes with it, veronicas they call them. He was plastered, I think. He kept passing the bull very close to him.

"Then he got careless. He passed him very close and he forgot. He moved his body with the cape. The bull stuck a horn right through his heart. Bingo, just like that. Right through the heart. They carted him off. We didn't go back after that. It was pretty bad.

"The bulls haven't got a chance. They come out there and the picadors stick their pics into them and then the matador comes in. The bull is out of luck. He can't win. We didn't care for it."

We looked at the tennis matches for a while. The professionals were playing some great tennis at the Biltmore courts, where they continue today and tomorrow in the first southern pro tournament.

It looked a little strange seeing Bryan Grant in the gallery at a tennis match.

A BIT HUNGRY.

"You haven't got a hamburger in your pocket, have you?" asked Bryan Grant.

"A hamburger?"

"Yes, with pickle and mustard. I'm still hungry. They are great people down there. They treated us in a wonderful manner. But did you ever eat Mexican food?

"Well, yes, rice and beans and stuff like that and the steaks and chops."

"Well," said the Davis cup man, "we ate that, too, but we didn't care for it. The steak doesn't taste like a broiled steak. It tastes like the vegetables and the vegeables taste like the steak and the chops taste like the vegetables.

"We all lost weight. Budge lost 18 pounds down there. Can you imagine that? I can't get enough to eat. Over at Memphis I ate two steaks at one meal."

Bryan Grant, who weighs all of 118 pounds, looked thinner than usual. His clothes hung upon him.

"I don't know if I can see all the matches," he said. "I am going home early to dinner. They are going to have roast, potatoes, string beans, tomatoes, greens, a salad and some hot biscuits and gravy. Then I am going to eat some apple pie with ice cream. Did you say you did not have a hamburger in your pocket?"

SEEING THE SIGHTS.

"Didn't you like the beautiful scenery down there?"

"Say," he said, his eyes lighting with enthusiasm, "those girls down there are beauties. I never saw any prettier girls anywhere. That Spanish type, with the dark hair and eyes, is a very beautiful type.

"Come to think of it," he said, "maybe the food down there wasn't so bad. Maybe we had a bad cook at the hotel. I don't know. When they come out for a stroll along the Prado they look lovely."

"I meant the mountain scenery and things like that."

"Oh, that sort of scenery. Well, we saw a volcano down there. It was 18,000 feet high. It looks like I feel when I miss an easy one in tennis. It's a beautiful country. They are swell people and all that. But I don't know about that food. It had lots of peppers and stuff in it. I guess I'll hurry home to dinner."

BASEBALL HOLDS HIM.

Big Jim Lindsey, the Cracker pitcher, was stretched out over six or eight feet of stands. Grant stopped to talk with him.

"Say," he said, "it's great news about the Crackers. I'm a baseball fan. I like baseball better than any other sport. I'm going out there to see the night game. When I got back home and read about the Crackers leading the league I certainly was happy. That's great."

"Well," said Jim Lindsey, the Cracker pitcher, "I

GROVE IS SHAKY BUT WINS GAME OVER TIGERS, 8-4

Red Sox Even Series as Lefty 'Bears' Down in Pinches.

BOSTON, May 24.—(AP)—The Boston Red Sox evened their current series with Mickey Cochrane's Detroit Tigers today, pounding out an 8-4 win behind the shaky pitching of Bob "Lefty" Grove.

While the Tigers garnered 14 hits off Lefty, he was able to bear down sufficiently in the pinches to hold the visitors to one run in the first inning and three in the ninth, leaving 10 of the Tigers stranded on the bases.

"General" Alvin Crowder started on the mound for Detroit and managed to hold the Red Sox in check until the fifth inning when he was greeted by a barrage of extra-base hits, including a double by "Babe" Dahlgren, a home run over the left field wall by Moe Berg, filling in for the injured Rick Ferrell, and a double by Grove, which accounted for three of Boston's runs.

In the sixth inning, after Roy Johnson's triple and Carl Reynolds' two-bagger, Crowder was replaced by Fred Marberry.

Carl Reynolds banged out two doubles and a single in four trips to the plate. Joe Cronin, Red Sox manager, was the only local starter to go hitless.

The Red Sox took Detroit's fourth place in the league standing, forcing the Tigers back into the second division.

Swimming Season Opens at Avondale

When the Avondale club opens its swimming pool for the summer at 7:30 tonight they will present an affair that will be highly interesting and of great enjoyment, with special features arranged to give every one a good time, and start the swimming season off in Atlanta with a bang.

Miss Louisa Robert, Atlanta's champion woman swimmer, will give an exhibition which will be one of the most important features of the opening. And a comprehensive picture of swim fashions will be presented by Rich's sport shop, when the newest thing for swimming and sports occasions will be modeled by 28 of Atlanta's loveliest young women.

CUBS ARE HELD BY SCHUMACHER, GIANTS WIN, 13-0

Henshaw, Bryant, Casey Suffer Under Foes' Heavy Barrage.

CHICAGO, May 24.—(AP)—The Giants finally found a left-hander they could beat today and with Hal Schumacher pitching a four-hit shutout they celebrated the occasion by bowling over the Cubs, 13 to 0.

Little Roy Henshaw was the victim and the crippled league leaders, who apparently are out to prove they can limp faster than the rest of the teams can run, knocked him out with a five-run blast in the first inning. They continued their belting against a pair of young right handers, Clay Bryant and Hugh Casey for a total of 20 hits. Their success against Henshaw brought their first victory over a southpaw this season.

Paced by Mark Koenig, who piled a ninth-inning homer on top of two singles, the Giants hit for 28 bases, drew eight passes and scored in every inning but the second and third, despite three double plays by the Cub infield.

Every Giant except Manager Bill Terry, who walked in three of his six appearances at the plate, got at least two hits. The battery, Schumacher and Gus Mancuso, drove in more than half the runs, the pitcher accounting for two with his pair of singles and Mancuso knocking in five tallies with three hits as he came up twice with bases filled. Mel Ott and Hank Leiber also were three-time hitters.

In recording his fourth victory of the season and his second shutout, Schumacher allowed only two singles and a walk in the first seven innings and didn't let the three runners get past first.

Warning!

Olin Dutra Is a Very, Very Sick Man—Watch Out!

CHICAGO, May 24.—(AP)—The Sarazens, Armours, Coopers, Runyans, Picards and other par-busters who hope to win the National Open golf championship next month can start worrying again.

OLIN DUTRA

Olin Dutra, the king himself, is a very, very sick man.

And that should be warning enough.

The giant California senor never could win the National Open when he was well, so last year, a very sick man, he packed a box of pills in his golf bag and started to shoot. The rest is history of how he came in from nowhere with a driving finish to beat Gene Sarazen for the crown by one shot.

Between rasping sneezes and wracking coughs that shook his mountainous frame the big senor today appeared too ill to hold a niblick but he swathed his neck with towels and mapped out his campaign.

"I never have seen or played Oakmont," he fairly wheezed, "but between you and me, it can't be as tough as Sarazen and some of the others have painted it."

Atlanta Star in Semi-Finals

SAGE REACHES SEMI-FINALS

MONTGOMERY, Ala., May 24.—Maintaining the fine pace he launched in the qualifying round, Dan Sage swept through to the semi-finals of the 24th annual invitation golf tournament here today by defeating Jack Chambless, of Montgomery, 2 and 1, and disposing of Neal Collins, another local entry, by the same margin.

Sage will meet Johnny Morris, the great shotmaker from Birmingham, in the semi-final tomorrow, while Gene Vinson, who entered the tournament as co-favorite with Morris, will oppose Jack Dreyfus, local youngster, who has shown real promise.

Sage failed to clip par in his matches today, but he popped a 73, one over at his first opponent and was even with regulation figures when he ended his quarter-final engagement.

Sage will go to the first tee as a decided underdog against Morris tomorrow morning, but the quality of his golf today excelled that of Vinson, the Meridian star, and Dreyfus, who were hard-pressed to win their two matches. Morris defeated Files Crenshaw, Alabama state champion, 2 up, in the feature match of the quarter-final.

More than 300 persons, the largest gallery ever to watch second-round matches in any tournament here, lined the fairways for today's matches.

20,422 SEE REDS WIN NIGHT GAME

CINCINNATI, May 24.—(AP)—Cincinnati's Reds took the first night major league game of baseball history tonight, defeating the Phillies, 2 to 1, behind the pitching of Paul Derringer.

The official attendance was 20,422.

With the flood lights of Crosley field throwing brilliance into every corner, the Reds scored their first run in the first inning when Myers doubled, went to third on Riggs' grounder, and came home as Goodman grounded to Camilli at short.

The winning run came in the fourth after one out. Sullivan singled, went to third on Pool's hot single through the box, and scored as Chiozza threw out Campbell at first.

Philadelphia scored its run in the fifth when Todd singled, took third on Haslin's single, and scored as Bowman forced Haslin.

SCHMIDT GIVES ONLY SIX HITS IN NIGHT GAME

Harris Walks, Steals Second and Scores on Alex's Blow.

By Jimmy Jones.

Connie Mack, the manager of the Philadelphia Athletics, is not only a grand old man and a gentleman. He is the human saviour who tossed the Atlanta Crackers a lifeline with Alex Hooks on the end of it.

Last night the grand young man sent down by the grand old man to take Harry Taylor's place, stepped up to the plate in the tenth inning of a tough ball game with Birmingham, the score tied at 1-1, two men out, Sheriff Harris on second base with the winning run and a crowd of 11,358 tense and waiting.

He took a healthy cut at the ball and sent it soaring out into the opaque region in right field to carom off the shed over the first sign row for a double, bringing Harris home from second and giving Atlanta a hard-earned victory, 2-1.

GRIM BATTLE.

It was the lanky young Texan's third hit of the night and a spectacular climax to a bitterly contested pitchers' battle between Bill Schmidt of the Crackers and Abie White, the Atlanta boy, who pitched a fine game for the Barons.

Thanks to Hooks' delivery in the pinch, the Crackers were able to retain their two-and-one-half-game lead over Memphis as the latter won. It gave the Crackers 12 out of 14 victories at home and sent the second big night crowd of 6,690 paid admissions, plus 4,244 enthusiastic ladies, who paid only for tax tickets, home talking elatedly of another conquest.

White, a left-hander, threatened to make the Crackers partake of humble pie and but for the fact that Schmidt, his right-handed opponent, pitched his best game of the season in giving the Barons six hits, and the ubiquitous Mr. Hooks came through in the clutch, might have done just that.

WHITE IS HOT.

The Crackers, who are supposed to make it tough on southpaws, could fathom White's speed and excellent control for only two hits for the first five innings and the southpaw really turned the heat on when he struck out Schmidt, Lipscomb and Hill in consec tive order in the third.

Meanwhile, Atlanta had to do a lot of scuffling to keep the Barons away from the plate. Sheriff Harris made a fine peg to the plate to nail Etten in the second after Epps had singled to right, and in the fourth Joe Palmisano and Lipscomb broke up a double steal to stop another score.

The Barons sneaked one across in the fifth. Woodward beat out an infield hit on Schmidt, Epps singled to center and when Schmidt bobbled White's sacrifice bunt the bases were full and none out. Schmidt erased Dixie Howell on a pop-up to third, but Woodward scored as Chatham threw out Malinosky on a slow-hit roller.

The Crackers struggled along and tied the score in the eighth with the tail end and the top of the batting order collaborating to put it across.

Buster Chatham, who has been playing great ball and hitting in timely fashion, opened the inning with a single after being obviously nettled by a high strike that "Bulldog" Williams called on him. Schmidt, whose hitting activities were restricted largely to bunting by Manager Moore, sacrificed him to second. Then "Nig" Lipscomb, another good man in the pinch, smashed a single through Elmer Trapp at third to score the shortstop.

SOME CATCH.

Not content with stealing the hitting honors, Hooks brought the crowd to its feet with a crescendo of cheering in the eighth when he dashed over against the grandstand to make a one-handed catch of Trapp's foul, almost catapulting over into the laps of several spectators in so doing.

White put down a menacing uprising in the ninth when Hooks got his second hit on a ball that skittered away from Woodward on a wicked hop and Moore went safe when Woodward failed to cover on his bunt. Chatham was passed purposely—something new for the little man—and Manager Moore, with only lefthanded hitters to do the pinch hitting, and

Dorothy Kirby Enters Semi-Finals of Dixie Golf Tourney

MRS. CHANDLER, FAVORED STAR, LOSES TO YOUTH

Atlanta Girl Meets Mrs. Rogers Today; Champion Survives.

By Dwight L. Pitkin.
Associated Press Staff Writer.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 24.—(AP). Vanquishing sterling opponents in spectacular quarter-finals matches over the sunflecked hills of the Louisville Country Club course, today, four pretty lasses from Florida, Georgia, Kentucky and Texas won their way into tomorrow's semi-finals of the Southern Women's Golf Association tournament.

Auburn-haired Betty Jameson, 16-year-old defending champion from Dallas, Texas, played sensationally to eliminate, 6 and 5, Miss Estelle Lawson, of Chapel Hill, N. C., the north-south champion. The Dallas youngster, tripping over the course with the care-free abandon of a high school girl, evened par to dispose of the Carolinian whose remarkable medal scores in earlier rounds had made her a favorite with many fans.

MISS MILEY WINS.

Dramatically, Miss Marion Miley, of Lexington, champion of Kentucky, defeated, 1 up, Miss Kathryn Hemphill, of Columbia, S. C., the medalist and champion of the Carolinas, in one of the hardest fought battles of the tournament. She will play the titlist in the semi-finals tomorrow.

Playing a greatly improved game, Miss Dorothy Kirby, of Atlanta, who won the championship of Georgia in 1933 at the age of 13, eliminated 2 and 1 the highly favored Mrs. Dan Chandler, attractive young matron from Dallas, who was runner-up to the famous Babe Didrikson in the Texas tournament.

In the other lower bracket match, Miss Mary Rodgers, of Jacksonville, queen of feminine golf in Florida, defeated, 1 up, Miss Jane Cothran, of Greenville, S. C., former champion of the Carolinas, after Miss Cothran had staged a sensational comeback by winning five straight holes to even the match at the seventeenth.

PLAYS MISS ROGERS.

Miss Rogers will play Miss Kirby in the semi-finals tomorrow morning. The first match of the semi-finals, between Miss Miley and Miss Jameson, will be at 10 o'clock, central standard time, followed by the other five minutes later.

The gallery of several hundred persons gave most of their attention today to the exciting match between Miss Hemphill and Miss Miley.

Pals and room-mates at this year's tournament, the 21-year-old Kentucky champion and the 23-year-old Carolinian never had clashed before in tournament competition.

Their sun-tanned faces were drawn tensely as the match became a nip and tuck affair, but they frequently gave each other smiling words of encouragement as neat shots were scored. Neither wanted to win on the breaks—they liked each other that much—but it looked for a while the breaks would decide the game.

OFF TO GOOD START.

The Kentuckian got off to a good start by winning the first hole at 482 yards with a par 5. When she missed a five-foot putt that would have given her a birdie, she indignantly waved her putter and clicked her teeth. Five is par for both men and women at the first hole.

Miss Hemphill evened the score at the second green by sinking a 50-foot putt for a birdie.

Miss Hemphill won the third with a par 5 but Miss Miley leveled the score with a par 3 at the fourth. They halved the fifth with par 5's. Both landed in the rough at the sixth but Miss Hemphill with a better approach shot won the hole even with par. Miss Miley sank a five-foot putt at the seventh to score a birdie and tie the score. Both were on the eighth green in three strokes. After Miss Hemphill rimmed the cup with a six-foot putt she graciously conceded her opponent, a two-foot putt to halve the hole with par 5's.

FINDS A TRAP.

The Kentucky lass lost the 9th when her iron shot from the tee landed her in a sand trap. Miss Hemphill with a spoon shot struck five feet from the pin. Miss Miley lost a stroke in a vain attempt to blast out of the trap. On the next stroke she went into the trap on the opposite side of the green. She conceded it to Hemphill but the Carolinian sank the putt for a birdie and reached the turn one up with a par 40 against Miley's 44.

Miss Miley evened the score at the 10th with a par 5, halved the 11th and won the 12th with a par 4 to make her 1 up.

After halving the 13th, Miss Hemphill laid a stymie on the 14th green which otherwise would have been halved, and squared the match. At the 15th, Miss Miley pulled her tee shot to the left of the green while her opponent got on the green. With a beautiful recovery shot over the bunkers Miss Miley placed the ball four feet from the pin, Miss Hemphill, putting for a 2, overshot the cup, hitting the other ball and knocking it four feet farther away. They halved the hole with 4's. They also halved the 16th with par 3's.

GOT THE "BREAKS."

The Carolina player appeared to be getting the breaks again when her ball struck the flag at the 17th and stopped dead at the cup. The Kentuckian, who had a pretty approach shot, halved the hole and they reached the 18th tee all square.

Driving about evenly down the fairway, Miss Hemphill's approach shot placed her back of a sand trap while Miss Miley reached the edge of the green.

Miss Hemphill's chip shot rolled off the opposite side of the green. Miss Miley, who had putted within 4 feet of the cup, sank her second putt to win the match and receive smiling congratulations from her friendly foe.

Miss Kirby staged a surprise by eliminating Mrs. Chandler, who was favored by some to go to the finals. Playing for the first time in the southern, the bobbed-haired 110-pound Georgia youngster showed remarkable steadiness with her drives and putting. Two down on reaching the fourth tee, she won the next five holes with one over par at the fourth, three birdies and a par 5. Mrs. Chandler won the ninth when Miss Kirby shot into a trap.

DOROTHY 2 UP.

At the turn the Georgian was 2 up. With a medal score of 44 against the Texan's 46. Coming in, Miss Kirby shot two over par for the eight holes against Mrs. Chandler's three over par. Mrs. Chandler scored birdies at the 13th and 14th and was one down after halving the 15th and 16th. She required seven strokes, however, at the 17th, giving Miss Kirby the match.

Three up at the turn, Miss Rogers, the pretty blue-eyed Florida champion, increased her advantage by winning the 10th and 11th wiht a par 5 and a birdie to make her 5 up. Miss Cothran then bore down to take the 12th, halve the 13th, and win the next four holes to level the score, upon reaching the 18th tee. At the 16th she had a birdie.

Cracker Games Show 'Fighting' Ball Club

Team Has Won Majority of Games in Late Innings; Starts, Finishes Well.

By Jimmy Jones.

Bill Harwell, a young man about town with a flair for statistical meanderings and a great liking for the game of baseball, has undergone considerable pain and mental anguish in figuring out the innings in which the Crackers have won a majority of their games at home and on the road.

Mr. Harwell, it will be recalled, once delved into the arduous task of mulling through the Southern league records and figuring out the exact spot in which the various clubs had finished during the 40-odd years of the league's history.

His latest bit of research is strictly a local one and his figures prove the 1935 Crackers of Eddie Moore to be a fighting ball club, one which hangs on in the late innings when a club which isn't going anywhere usually wilts and throws in the sponge, collectively and individually.

Following is a report of Mr. Harwell's finding and we supply the quotes to show the exact extent to which his mind has rambled in compiling the statistics:

"Aggressiveness usually isn't indicated by statistics. It has to be displayed on the diamond. But the Crackers are such a hustling bunch that even the records bring out their never-say-die spirit.

"The accompanying figures show the intensity with which the locals fight for a ball game. In the closing innings through Thursday's game they had won two contests in the ninth inning, two in the tenth, three in the eleventh and one in the twelfth.

TENTH DISASTROUS.

"Their only two losses in the late frames occurred in the tenth, giving the Crackers a late inning record of 6 won and 2 lost. In the closing frames they have scored 27 times against 12 opponent tallies.

"The Crackers are a fast starting team, able to gain an early advantage and hold it, according to statistics. They have won six games in the first two innings and lost but one, scoring 48 runs, while opponents have crossed the plate only 28 times. The Atlantans have scored more runs, 35, in the first than any other inning.

"However, their record during middle innings is not impressive. From the third through the eighth frames they have won only 10 games while dropping 11. Despite this fact they scored 127 runs during these stanzas to the oppositions' 99.

UNLUCKY SEVENTH.

"Inning six has proved the crucial frame, seven contests being decided in that stanza. The Crackers' sixth inning record stands, 4 won and 3 lost. Incidently, the proverbial lucky seventh has been neither lucky nor unlucky. Only one of the Crackers' 38 games has been decided in the seventh. This inning is one of the few in which the locals have failed to outscore their rivals. They have scored 14, fewer than in any other inning, against opponents' 21.

"All in all, figures show Atlanta to be a fast starting club that slows down in the middle of the games only to put on the pressure again in the final innings."

Hooks Marvels At Crowds Here.

Alex Hooks, who has made such a pleasing impression on the fans since his debut here, has been around in the big time, but he marvels at the Atlanta baseball crowds.

"While I was with the Athletics, the biggest crowd we drew at Philadelphia was 12,000 and I understand you've had two larger than that this season," Hooks stated.

The new first baseman thinks Atlanta will compare favorably with several cities in the big league as a baseball town and that it is better than some of them. The Crackers have drawn well over 70,000 in 14 games.

Harry Gets Rid Of Aching Tooth.

Harry Kelley, who has been pitching winning ball all season despite his share of molar trouble, paid another visit to his dentist yesterday and had a very stubborn and virulent jaw tooth yanked out.

Harry, it will be recalled, gave a real exhibition of courage on opening day with Knoxville, when he pitched a three-hit shoutout with one side of his face badly swollen from the inflammation.

That's the closest Harry Kelley ever came to having the swell head—the day his jaw was swollen.

"Well, I'm rid of the tooth, whether I'm rid of the ache or not," the Cracker ace declared yesterday, exhibiting the cavity. Kelley thinks he will be himself as soon as his teeth quit bothering him and the weather gets hot.

All he's been able to do is win 7 out of 9 and do a little relief pitching, poor fellow.

CRACKERS

Schmidt going good, left Bill in there with instructions to keep bunting with the idea of squeezing Hooks across.

But the third strike found Bill still making a futile effort and he was naturally called out. Then Lipscomb sent a high one up to the infield and White was out of the inning. The Barons also threatened in their tenth when Howell beat out a hit as a lead-off, but Schmidt squelched them, leaving the way paved for Hooks and his sensational response.

When Johnny Hill lined out to left and Oana popped up to Epps to open the tenth, things were as dark as the skies overhead. But Harris, who has gone hitless for three games, wisely waited White out and got a base on balls. Harris, who is a hard battler for a ball game, stole second. This set the stage for Hooks and he came off the lion of the evening.

It was Schmidt's fifth win of the season and a tough loss for White, who won four straight for the Barons early in the season. Three of the Cracker hits were of the scratch variety and at least two should have been fielded.

The crowd last night gave the Crackers a total paid attendance of 31,298 for six games, including last Sunday, and they are here through next Saturday. They play the Barons in the series final today at 3 p. m. with Bud Thomas pitching and Sunday will open with Nashville in a game starting at the same time.

Omaha Seeks Third Major Victory Today

By Orlo Robertson.

NEW YORK, May 24.—(AP)—William Woodward's Omaha, galloping winner of the Kentucky Derby and Preakness, will go after his third major victory of the year tomorrow when he opposes eight other three-year-olds in the 60th running of the Withers mile at Belmont Park.

Although the stretch running son of Gallant Fox is not supposed to be at his best at this distance, the chestnut flyer is expected to go to the post a 7-to-10 choice to add to his prestige as the three-year-old champion and win the purse of close to $12,000.

Four of Omaha's opposition have yet to match strides with the champion, while the other four finished far back of his flying hoofs in either the Derby or the Preakness.

NEWCOMER.

The quartet of newcomers includes Mrs. Payne Whitney's Gillie, making his first start since a successful winter campaign on the west coast; Mrs. Dodge Sloane's Special Agent, also making his three-year-old debut; the Howe's stable Nautch, and William du Pont's Rosemont.

Gillie will be accompanied to the post by Plat Eye, which set the early pace and then wound up far back in the Derby, while Special Agent will have the speedy Psychic Bid, third in the Preakness, as a running mate. Both Plat Eye and Rosemont indicated they were ready when they finished one-two in a swiftly run mile earlier in the week.

Nearly 40 of the better grade of handicap horses will run for a pair of $5,000 purses at Rockingham and Washington Parks and in a $2,500 stake at Latonia.

ROCKINGHAM.

The Rockingham feature, a one and one-sixteenth mile jaunt styled the New Hampshire handicap, has attracted a field of 12, including Alfred G. Vanderbilt's Identify, winner of the Toboggan at Belmont, and the Granite State handicap at the Salem, N. H., course. With the lightly-weighted Dogmata as a running mate, Identify is expected to rule a strong favorite to win his third straight race.

Smithie Golf Team In South Atlantic

Tech High's undefeated state and city prep championship golf team will play today at High Point, N. C., in the annual South Atlantic tournament.

It will be a 36-hole affair, with individual and team scores counting toward prizes.

Jack Cook, Kid Brown, Ralph Barnes, Atlanta's junior champion, and Bill Hutchinson will represent the Smithies in today's prep tourney.

BOB RAMILLON, BRUCE BARNES TAKE MATCHES

Plaa and Ramillon Win Doubles; Tilden Plays Today.

Today's Matches

Semi-finals matches in singles will be played in the southern professional championship this afternoon at the Biltmore Tennis Club. Brilliant tennis was played yesterday.

Today's schedule:
2 O'Clock — Plaa versus Barnes.
3:15 O'Clock—Tilden versus Ramillon.
4:30—Tilden and Hunter versus Chapin and Barnes.
All matches will be three out of five sets. Admission will be 55 cents for students, $1.10 general admission and $1.65 box seats.

By Jack Troy.

For four hours and ten minutes, thanks to daylight saving time, leading professionals of the world entertained a fairly large crowd of Atlanta fans yesterday as opening matches were played in the southern professional tennis championship, which is the Gate City's first but, assuredly, not the last.

Bobby Ramillon (pronounced Reymey-on(and appropriately called Ram for short, displayed the most amazing backhand Atlantans have ever seen in his match with Alfred Chapin.

Ramillon, strictly on his game, made quick work of Chapin, winning, 6-1, 6-2, and earning the rihgt to meet Big Bill Tilden in the semi-finals today.

One observer pointed out that Ramillon's wrist apparently operates on a swivel. It doen't seem possible that a human wrist could be so flexible and at the same time so strung with wires of steel.

LOW, FAST BALL.

Ramillon snaps his wrist and hits the ball off his backhand in a manner calculated to send it, (the ball, not the wrist) zooming into the next county. The ball does nothing of the kind but whistles low across the net. And amazing accurate is Bobby, the French star.

He's an altogether amazing player is Bobby Ramillon. He turns completely around and hits a backhand shot as well as most players can hit standing in the orthodox manner. Once he stuck his racket behind him and made a return that was beyond comprehension. That was when he was playing doubles with his fellow countryman, Martin Plaa.

Spectators are inclined to overlook Ramillon's forehand, which is also very good. His backhand takes all the attention because of the amazing manner in which he hits the ball. Ramillon will give Bill Tilden a match worth seeing today.

HUNTER IS LATE.

Frank Hunter's train was late yesterday and Tilden and Barnes gave a one-set exhibition, which Big Bill won with ease at 6-2.

Hunter finally got in but he had to sit around for more than an hour while Plaa and Ramillon engaged in a bitter and at the same time a spectacular doubles match with Barnes and Chapin.

The pros never know when to quit when they're playing for the top cut. They won't give up. And so they played a brilliant four-set match, with Plaa and Ramillon finally winning the decision. The scores were 7-5, 9-11 and 6-3. The 40 games were, for the most part, hard fought every one. There were long rallies that delighted all concerned. Both Plaa and Ramillon made gets, on occasions, that defied description.

Then Hunter and Barnes, the latter already having played a doubles match and a one-set exhibition, took the court. And had it not been for daylight saving time this match would have been called on account of darkness.

LACKS THE LEGS.

Hunter making a professional comeback, lacks only the legs. That is, he lacks that stride and a half or less that marks the difference between the Frank Hunter of two years ago and the same player today.

So Barnes, rather weary but full of fight, won the first set, had a commanding lead in the second, which he lost, and then closed out the match at love in the third and deciding set. The scores were 9-7, 3-6, 6-0.

Numerous games went to deuce four and five times. Hunter has a smashing forehand. He maneuvered Barnes out of position and passed him on several occasions.

But Barnes had the legs and the other equipment to turn back the courageous Hunter after the latter had come out from under a margin of three games to love in the second set and gone on to win it.

A rapidly tiring Hunter allowed Barnes to race through the final set just before darkness fell.

BRILLIANT MATCH.

At one time during the brilliant doubles match, 11 consecutive points were made against service. Chapin served and lost four points. Plaa followed and lost four more. Then Barnes served and lost the next three before a point was made by his side.

Plaa will tie up with Bruce Barnes today in a semi-finals battle.

Tilden and Hunter, seeking to repeat their doubles victory in the recent Mason and Dixon tournament, play Chapin and Barnes in a doubles encounter.

Tilden is still gunning for Plaa in the singles. They're favored to meet in the finals on Sunday.

Bryan Grant was an interested spectator yesterday. Atlanta's Davis cup player returned in the morning from his highly successful trip to Mexico, where he was a potent factor in the United States victory over both Cuba and Mexico.

Grant will not enter the Cotton States tournament next week-end at Memphis, but will play an exhibition with Billy Reese on Sunday, he informed Cotton States officials yesterday.

There is something about Ramillon's backhand play that reminds spectators of Grant. Grant doesn't hit them as hard as the wiry French star but is noted for taking the same shots turning around.

BREAK of the DAY!

like to watch tennis. These guys are playing well. I'd like to see you out there."

"Well," said Grant, "I'll see you tonight. They still sell hamburgers and hot dogs out there, don't they? I know I'll be hungry about 9 o'clock. They say they have a roast tonight for dinner which weighs 25 pounds. That may not be enough the way I feel now. I've got a lot of empty space left since that Mexican trip."

SEE THE PROS PLAY.

By all means see the professional tournament. It is the greatest tournament that has ever appeared in Atlanta.

One feature is most exciting. The doubles which Atlanta has seen in past tournaments have been rather careless affairs. The doubles play here is very, very good.

It is worth traveling to the tournament to see Robert Ramillon's wrist. The French star's wrist evidently operates on a swivel and not on the ordinary joint which most wrists have.

The tournament continues today and will come to a close Sunday afternoon. Additional seats have been provided and they are expected to be filled for the final two days of play.

The tournament is in the nature of a test. If it succeeds, as it no doubt will, the professionals will stage their annual tournament here each spring. And that tournament will soon be greater than the National tournament involving the amateurs, that dying race.

GOLFERS FACE BUSY SCHEDULE OVER WEEK-END

Play Today and Sunday Expected To Be Heavy on Various Courses.

By Roy White.

Atlanta's golfers face a busy week-end, with the various club tournaments and the regular Saturday and Sunday blind bogey affairs on the slate.

With the weatherman predicting a clear, bright day, the various golf courses are expected to be fairly well crowded. The many club meets and one-day affairs, together with the approaching Atlanta amateur tourney on June 10, will keep the players busy during the week-end.

Ansley Park's players today will open the annual president's cup tournament with the first round of qualifying. The players may qualify with any member and at any time during the week, provided Tommy Wilson, the club professional, is notified before the round.

There will be flights of 16 each and handicaps will apply in all of the matches, including the championship flight.

Finals in the annual spring handicap tourney at Ansley Park also will be played today and Saturday.

EAST LAKE.

Finals in the annual golf committee trophy tournament will be played at East Lake this afternoon along with the weekly blind bogey on the two courses.

The regular dog fight will be played on the No. 2 course on Sunday afternoon.

Qualifying rounds for the East Lake club championship tournament will start next Thursday afternoon and continue through June 1.

DRUID HILLS.

Druid Hills golfers will close the qualifying round this afternoon in the annual president's cup tournament. Bill Terrell, with a 76, is leading the field at present with a majority of the players yet to qualify.

Handicaps will apply in each match.

Mrs. J. C. Wright was elected president of the Druid Hills Women's Golf Association at an organization meeting Friday morning. Mrs. Jimmy Burns was made secretary-treasurer and Mrs. C. E. Williamson was named to head the tournament committee.

Immediately following the meeting a match against par tourney was held and Mrs. Sam Ramsey won first place. Mrs. Ben Barrow carded an 85 to win low gross score.

Other low scorers were: Mrs. Albert Jones, Mrs. C. E. Williamson and Mrs. Jimmy Burns.

CAPITAL CITY.

Capital City golfers will complete all first and second round matches this afternoon in the annual president's trophy tournament. Only a few of the first-round matches remain to be played with a majority of the second round scheduled for this afternoon.

Charlie Black Jr., Dr. Harry Rogers, John Westmoreland, J. M. Harrison, Roby Robinson, Forrest Fowler, W. A. Parker, I. J. Osbun, D. C. Black and S. B. Ives are still left in the championship flight.

JOHN A. WHITE.

Qualifying rounds for the John A. White invitation tournament will continue today and Sunday and likely will be extended to the middle of the week. Any municipal player in the city is eligible and invited to participate.

Your Favorite Clerk May Whisper at You!

Personnel at Rich's and Davison-Paxon's All Very Hoarse After Soft-Ball Game.

By Ralph McGill.

Maybe, at that, the department store soft-ball jargon is a bit richer than that of the regular baseball diamond.

There was yesterday, for instance. Out at the Henry Grady field. They were yelling things like this:

"He's no bargain even if he does come from the basement."

"Don't worry about him. He's a 33 1-3 per cent mark-down."

"Strike him out, he's just a remnant from the remnant counter."

"He swings like a tailor's dummy."

And so forth and so on. All of which was mixed up with a great deal of shrieking and leaping up and down and racing around.

Which will explain why, if you go into Rich's or Davison-Paxon's today and seek out your favorite clerk and ask for a dozen yards of this or that, the clerk may lean over and whisper, "Anything else?"

It won't mean the transaction is illegal. It will mean the clerk was at the ball game which Rich's finally won, 11 to 9, although in the seventh and final inning the supporters of Rich's team were very pale, indeed, and hoping for the best. Davison-Paxon was staging one of those last inning rallies and they came so close the Rich supporters were so weak from fright they could hardly celebrate the victory. And all present were so hoarse as to be able to whisper only.

But at any rate the department store series was started, the first in the city's athletic history, with about 1,000 people present, the full force of each store. And they all cheered themselves hoarse and leaped up and down so much they probably went to bed early.

WILL LIMP TODAY.

It is quite possible that some first-class merchandise men at each store will be limping today. Goods won't move so fast.

There were some well-known names out there on the field in this game. They looked a bit curious in soft ball uniforms which are not at all like football or basketball uniforms.

At second base for Davison's there was "Frenchy" Hanf. In 1926 he was captain and All-Eastern halfback for Rutgers' football team.

Pitching for Rich's was a big fellow named Yank Ludwig. One has to go back but one season to find his name on the list of football players at the University of Georgia. And at third base for the same team was Dick Maxwell, also a former Georgia football player. While Olin Adcock, another performer for the same team, was a former basketball star for the Y. M. C. A. a few years ago.

REAL FEATURE.

The batteries were the real feature. Both pitchers were huge, Bud Long, for Davison's, and Ludwig for Rich's. It looked as if they had selected the pitchers by weight.

The catchers, Joe Bloomfield for Davison's, and Leatherman for Rich's, were very, very good. Davison's receiver has an added talent. He is also a crooner.

The scorers suffered most of all. Bernard Pincus, for Davison's, was so nervous he kept dropping his pencil. Paul Jones, for Rich's, closed his eyes and let his young son tell him what was happening in that seventh when Davison's was closing in.

It was quite a game, played at twilight. And the best line of the day was:

"He's no bargain even if he does come from the basement."

Little To Play Dr. Tweddell For Title Today

By Gayle Talbot.

ST. ANNE'S-ON-THE-SEA, England, May 24.—(AP)—Striding down England's fairways like a titan bludgeoning his opponents into submission with methodical ease, 24-year-old William Lawson Little Jr., of San Francisco, today moved within a single step of his second straight British golf title and his third consecutive national crown.

Standing in the path of the all-conquering American, who will be striving to emulate the "doubles" scored in 1886 and 1887 by H. G. Hutchinson and in 1900 and 1901 by Harold H. Hilton, both Britons, and the only players in the history of the championship to turn the trick, was Dr. William Tweddell, a stocky, pleasant 38-year-old Englishman.

GREAT TRIBUTE.

Perhaps the most impressive tribute to the American siege gun's ability was voiced by a pair of shotmakers who felt his thunderbolts today, George L. Q. Henriques, the 42-year-old London stock broker, and Robert Sweeney Jr., the former New Yorker who has lived in England many years.

Henriques, who had eliminated men like Leonard Crawley, Leslie Garnett and Dan R. Topping in previous rounds, collapsed like a punctured balloon after seeing Little belt a couple of drives and long irons on the gale-swept outward nine which parallels the railroad tracks near the sea.

"He's terrific, I tell you, simply terrific," roared Henriques as Little closed out against him on the 14th green, 6 and 4, after playing the last five holes in two under fours. Against the Briton Little made only two mistakes in going out in 39 on the first nine to stand four up. He three-putted from 25 feet at the third and incurred a penalty on the seventh green where he moved his ball while addressing it. He picked up two holes more along the inward route. Little's tee shot at the 228-yard 12th missed the green but he approached magnificently to within a few inches of the cup for a winning 3 and he closed out his rival on the 14th, covering the 447-yards between the tee and the green with a long drive and a No. 3 iron and almost holed out from 20 feet for a birdie three.

UNPERTURBED.

Sweeney was similarly unperturbed after holding Little even on the front nine to be overwhelmed by the champion's spectacular one under par performance on the difficult last seven holes. "Well, I couldn't expect to beat a man like that," said the young American who has lived in England since he was 14 years old.

Blazing through the last seven holes, the Presidio pounder missed only one shot, pitching short from the rough to the edge of the 14th green. His iron seconds on the final two holes were among the most magnificent shots seen in the championship. He sent the wild, stampeding gallery of 8,000 into raptures at the 478-yard 15th, where he hooked his drive into the rough. His vision on the green was blocked by trees but he played the shot blindly, pounded the ball to the green and won the hole with a par four.

At the 347-yard 16th he rifled a 290-yard tee shot and then smacked a mashie the rest of the way to within three inches of the cup for a finishing birdie three. In reaching the turn all even with Sweeney, Little required 40 strokes to 42 for Sweeney.

TWEDDELL STEADY.

Dr. Tweddell, shooting steadily rather than spectacularly, eliminated two of England's best golfers in Eric Fiddian, a former runner for the championship, and Thomas A. (Tony) Torrance, 44-year-old veteran member of the last four Walker cup teams, but there's no indication that he's a very serious threat to the champion in view of Little's present humor.

In disposing of Fiddian, one up, in the quarter-finals Dr. Tweddell carded a 78—nine over par—and he was 12 over regulation figures in taking the measure of Torrance, 2 and 1, in the afternoon.

American Bakeries vs. Gulf Refining at N. W. Piedmont. Umpire, Sherwood.

Kraft-Phenix vs. Atlantic Steel at Glenn field. Umpire, Harris.

SOUTHERN LEAGUE.

First Christian and Avondale Baptist are the most evenly matched for the best baseball game in the Southern league this afternoon when they meet at Scottdale.

Both teams are near the center in the standings and have fast clubs.

All games will start at 3:15 o'clock.

The Schedule.

Park Avenue Methodist vs. Roswell at Roswell. Umpire, Hayes.

First Christian vs. Avondale Baptist at Scottdale. Umpire, Brooks.

Pattillo Memorial vs. Ponce de Leon Methodist at Water Works. Umpire, Williams.

Inman Park vs. Oakland City Methodist at Oakland City. Umpire, Green.

WESTERN LEAGUE.

Berean Class, tied with Red Oak for the leadership of the Western league, will meet Park Street Methodist at Mozley park this afternoon in the feature games of the league.

The Bereans have won four consecutive victories without a defeat.

All games in the league will start at 3:15 o'clock.

The Schedule.

Central Christian vs. Capitol View Methodist at Adair. Umpire, Wilkes.

Berean Class vs. Park Street Methodist at Mozley park. Umpire, Giles.

Red Oak vs. Joy Class at Grant Park No. 1. Umpire, Walton.

Ankyra Class vs. Lakewood Baptist at Lakewood. Umpire, McHenry.

KENNESAW LEAGUE.

All four of the Kennesaw league games scheduled for this afternoon appear to be real contests. Sugar Hill and Cartersville play one of the features at Cartersville.

Fulton Bag now holds the top notch, but Marietta came back strong last week and may take the leaders for a ride on the Fair street diamond.

The Schedule.

Marietta vs. Fulton Bag, at Fair street.

Sugar Hill vs. Cartersville, at Cartersville.

Crabapple vs. Smyrna, at Marietta.

Dallas vs. Canton, at Canton.

FLINT RIVER LEAGUE.

Jonesboro and Fairburn are battling for the lead position in the Flint River league this week. Jonesboro has a perfect record, while Fairburn has lost two games. It will be this week's feature.

McDonough and Palmetto are in a close scrap for second place.

The Schedule.

Palmetto at McDonough.
Fairburn at Jonesboro.
Fayetteville at College Park.
Brookhaven, bye

ATLANTA LEAGUE.

The race in the Atlanta league is getting close and interesting. Southern Railway and Ralph's Buffet have each lost only one game so far, and Henry Grady and Exposition Mills each have lost two.

The Schedule.

American Can Co. vs. Southern Railway, at Piedmont park. Umpire, Anchors.

Henry Grady vs. Ralph's Buffet, at Brisbine park. Umpire, Bell.

Federal Annex vs. Exposition Mills, at Maddox park. Umpire, Young.

SCOTT LEAGUE.

The Scott league is now operating with five teams since dropping Brown Publishing Company from the roll.

The Schedule.

Scottdale vs. H. O. L. C., at Kirkwood.

Southern Wax Paper Co. vs. Egan Park, at Egan Park.

Chattahoochee drew a bye.

LA CHENE, RUFF CLASH MONDAY

Four matches that promise plenty of action have been arranged by Promoters Roby and Bettis for their weekly show at the James L. Key wrestling arena on Fair street.

Tiny Ruff, well known to Atlanta mat fans for his rough tactics, will tackle Louis LaChene, the French-Canadian favorite, in the feature match of the night.

Tarzan Jordan, Atlanta's favorite, will meet a mat test when he goes up against Totem Pole Anderson, the Alaskan handle-bar expert, in the semi-windup match.

Two other matches that promise to be plenty entertaining:

Young Londos, Atlanta boy who has piled up a great string of victories in the past four years, will meet Sammy Miller, the tough little Assyrian, in one of the short matches. This match has all the earmarks of being a battle that will be long remembered.

Lou Bartell and Joe Willard will meet in the opening match at 8:30 o'clock. Tickets for the matches are on sale at the Five Points Soda Company and at Main 2539.

Down the Alleys

A special match of unusual interest will be bowled at Blick's bowling center tonight, beginning at 7:30 o'clock, with a team from Gainesville coming here to play the Liberty Laundry five.

The Liberty laundry team, leaders in the newly organized Industrial duck-pin league, hope to annex further glory to their more recent victories by a win over the invaders.

Wilbur will captain the local team and Jones will lead the Gainesville five. Three games will be rolled on a total pinfall loser's pay basis.

The Guthman's laundry won the first place money in the Georgia duck-pin league, which drew its schedule to a close last night. Genuine Parts company finished in second place. Harland's Southland Bond was third, and next in order were Independents, Ray-Lyon company and Ramblers.

By FRANK MacMILLEN.

NEW YORK, May 24.—(AP)—The bull party was still at the stoock market helm today but it appeared to be content to progress more slowly.

New groups were brought forward, including the recently neglected rails and a few utilities, while some of the late favorites among the industrials, especially the motor section, suffered from profit taking.

Upward price changes, however, were in nearly all cases fractional, except for several of the higher priced issues, while some of the declines ran to a point or a little more as in Chrysler, International Harvester and National Biscuit.

The varied hopes and fears engendered by the bonus agitation appeared to have been set aside for the time being. Washington was watched for the forthcoming presidential message to congress on the railroads. The expectations that this might contain some constructive suggestions for the carriers helped to bring that group into favorable notice.

Stock market activity held up fairly well at 1,179,260 shares. The Associated Press average for 60 stocks was unchanged at 42.3, with small advances in the rails and utilities counteracted by a fractional recession in the industrials.

Grains Break Sharply.

Stoocks got no help from the grains which weakened sharply on month-end profit taking and more favorable prospects for the growing crop because of better moisture conditions. Corn got down 2 to 3 1-2 cents a bushel and wheat was off 1 5-8 to 1 7-8 cents. Cotton, however, edged ahead 5 to 20 cents a bale.

Trade and corporate news was rather neutral, although the weekly survey of Dun & Bradstreet took a mildly optimistic view in contending that the trend of business was still moderately upward. There were a number of customary dividend actions, including General Electric, Texas Corporation and Radio "A" preferred.

The bond market appeared to move largely under the influence of stocks, with the principal firmness among the rails.

Point Higher.

The foreign exchange market again engaged banking attention. The franc was only a little lower, but the discount on the currency for forward delivery widened sharply.

Some of the high-priced rail stocks which advanced a point or so included Union Pacific at 97, Norfolk & Western, at 175; New York & Harlem, at 126; Bangor & Aroospound sterling advanced more than 4 cents to the highest level of the year to date at $4.97 as the uneasy outrush of funds from the continental gold bloc countries to London continued. The spot rate for the French took, at 42 7-8, and Louisville & Nashville, at 39 1-2, while fractional advances were registered by such carrier equities as Santa Fe at 41 1-4, Southern Pacific at 16 5-8; Baltimore & Ohio, at 11, and Chesapeake & Ohio, at 43 1-8.

Modest gains were chalked up for United States Steel, at 34 3-4; Consolidated Gas, at 22 5-8, and Public Service of New Jersey, at 29 3-4, while fractional losses were recorded for American Smelting at 46; General Electric at 25 7-8; Montgomery Ward, at 26 7-8, and Standard Oil of New Jersey, at 49 3-8. Chrysler was 1 1-4 points lower at 47.

SHARES ON CURB CONTINUE TO GAIN

NEW YORK, May 24.—(AP)—The curb market continued its recent pattern today. Scattered specialties advanced substantially and fractional improvement predominated in the general list. Utilities were in better demand but a few of the oils encountered profit taking.

Singer Manufacturing soared nearly 10 points in light dealings. Babcock & Wilcox rose a point, while small improvement appeared in Electric Bond & Share, American Gas & Electric, Hiram Walker, Pioneer Gold and American Cyanamid "B." International Petroleum improved but Gulf Oil and Crude Petroleum were lower.

Transfers, which approximated 268,000 shares, were about the same as yesterday.

Brokers' Views

STOCK OPINIONS.

FENNER & BEANE—We would favor a trading policy of buying on dips and selling on bulges for the near terms.

BEER & CO.—The assumption of leadership by the rails and the utilities Friday in our opinion is an indication of a healthy technical condition, one which promses to cut short any near-term irregularity.

COTTON OPINIONS.

FENNER & BEANE—We believe existing conditions justify higher prices.

COURTS & CO.—The cotton market is keenly awaiting developments of AAA amendments. We continue to favor purchases on recessions.

BEER & CO.—We continue to advise a trading position, buying on dips and realizing on moderate advances.

HUBBARD BROS. & CO. TO DOBBS & CO.—A late ticker report Friday from Washington quoted Senator Bankhead at the conclusion of a conference of southern congressmen and AAA officials as saying that they had unanimously agreed to support an extension of the Bankhead act through 1936-37, and if continued a 12-cent loan would be made on the 1935 crop. While it attracted attention it had no immediate market influence, and the trade awaits clarification of this and other uncertainties in Washington. July Liverpool due 6.51.

GRAIN OPINIONS.

COURTS & CO.—Liquidation of current deliveries together with favorable weather is still depressing the grain market.

BEER & CO.—The crop news is too good for wheat to hold advances and a slow decline may be looked for until the news changes.

DOBBS & CO.—Until the outside interests is attracted even the oversold conditions prevailing will have little effect on wheat prices.

By FRED G. WILLIAMS.

NEW ORLEANS, May 24.—(AP)—Cotton lost a point today. Prices held in a range that never exceeded 50 cents a bale for the entire session, and after fluctuating back and forth in these narrow limits, finally ended from net unchanged to 5 cents a bale lower.

There was no incentive to get into the market on either side. Trade statistics were about as expected. The bonus bill defeat had no effect marketwise. Weather wires were normal, aside from low temperatures in Oklahoma and portions of Texas.

July was a firm spot during the day, holding at or within a point or so of the previous close and finally ending at 1.91. October lost a point to 11.65, while December and January lost a similar amount, closing at 11.69 and 11.72, respectively.

There was said to have been some trade buying in the July position, and this provided about the main activity in an otherwise dull and featureless market.

New Crop Attention.

As May draws to a close traders are devoting considerable more attention to the new crop. So far the next year's yield has been overshadowed by Washington developments and other problems not directly related to cotton. But the latest weather report indicated that so far favorable progress has been made and from all appearances the crop will get through the month of May, usually an important period, with good results.

One market commentator predicted that if rains fail to damage the progress already made during June that a bumper crop is in the offing. On the other hand heavy showers during that month will probably be unfortunate for the growing plants.

Threat Overdrawn.

Latest reports from Brazil indicated that an exportable surplus of but 350,000 bales of cotton will be available from the Sao Paolo region. This compared with an early estimate that ranged all the way from 700,000 to 900,000 bales, and indicates that for the present season, at least, the Brazilian threat has apparently been a little overdrawn.

Spinners' takings this week were again below the previous week. Mills acquired 195,000 bales of cotton during the past week, compared with 225,000 bales in the previous week and 227,000 bales in the similar week of 1934.

Liverpool reported that while the bonus bill defeat was hailed as constructive, it had little effect on the dull and narrow market existing there. Liverpool is due on New Orleans tomorrow from 1 to 2 penny points higher.

Port receipts 8,723; season 4,258,924; last season 7,367,856. Exports 11,039; week 89,651; season 4,157,121; last season 6,660,503. Port stocks 1,732,896. Stocks on shipboard at New Orleans, Galveston and Houston were 61,922; last year 77,411. Spot sales at southern markets were 1,712; last year 2,127.

SLIGHT GAINS SHOWN IN NEW YORK FUTURES

NEW YORK, May 24.—(AP)—Except for slight initial declines, cotton was generally steady today on trade and commission house buying in a dull market. Final prices showed net gains of 1 to 4 points.

The market sold off to net losses of 2 to 6 points under May liquidation prior to cessation of trading in that position at midday, and under foreign selling.

Local buying on the steadier tone of the stock market and price fixing caused the market to rally to net gains of 4 to 7 points, but outside interest was limited and prices moved irregularly over a narrow range in response to moderate orders.

Scattering showers in the west were accompanied by complaints of a late crop start with cool weather said to be favoring insect increase.

Exports today 5,374, making 4,331,276 so far this season. Port receipts 8,588. United States port stocks 1,739,182.

By G. A. PHILLIPS

NEW YORK, May 24.—(AP)—The bond market stepped out with a show of strength early today but became a bit timid when profit taking appeared and gave up some of its gains. U. S. governments followed a similar course.

Freed of bonus uncertainties for the first time in several weeks' all types of bonds were in broad demand at the start and made good progress when the upturn was halted by profit taking, while a number of loans held up without difficulty owing to special circumstances, the main body of bonds ended under the day's high.

Transfers aggregated $11,663,000, par value, compared with $8,181,000 on Thursday. The turnover in U. S. governments accounted for $2,240,000, against $1,200,000 the day before. The Associated Press averages were .2 of a point higher to .1 of a point lower.

Leaders in the rail group ending a point or so higher included Baltimore & Ohio 5s at 62 3-4, Erie 5s at 60 1-2, Southern Pacific 4 1-2s at 67 7-8, and Pennsylvania 4 1-2s at 117 1-8. New York Central 5s got up a point to 63 but gave it up to end unchanged at 62. Chicago & Terre Haute 5s advanced 4 points on news that reorganization plans of the St. Paul, the Parent Company, contained favorable proposals for these bonds.

In other divisions the trend remained upward with prime investments turning in a consistent performance. Fractional improvement was shown by Liggett & Myers 5s, Peoples Gas 5s, American Smelting 5s, and Montana Power 5s. Bethlehem Steel refunding 5s lost a point at 110 and National Steel 5s remained unchanged at 105 1-2.

Final prices of U. S. governments ranged from 5-32nds lower to 3-32nds higher. Treasury 3 3-4s of 1946 got up to 110.1 then yielded to 109.29, up 1-32nd, and the 2 7-8s of 1955 advanced to 101.20, declined to 101.15 and ended at 101.17 for a loss of 2-32nds on balance.

The foreign department was steady. Higher prices were paid for Argentine 6s, Australia 5s, Belgium 6s and Uruguay 6s. German 7s declined a trifle.

Bank Clearings

NEW YORK, May 24.—The course of bank clearings for the latest week was toward higher levels. The total for the 22 leading cities in the United States for the week ended Wednesday, May 22, as reported by Dun & Bradstreet, Inc., was $5,081,168,000, against $4,326,348,000 for the same week of last year, an increase of 17.4 per cent. This contrasted with a loss of 5.3 per cent in the previous week. At New York city clearings were $3,254,991,000, against $2,804,723,000 a year ago, an increase of 16.1 per cent, while the aggregate for centers outside of New York of $1,826,177,000 showed an increase of 20.0 per cent over the corresponding week of last year.

The increase at New York city was not so large as it has been in some previous weeks this year when payments here were especially heavy. At some of the important outside centers substantial gains continue to be shown. This was true of Philadelphia, Buffalo, Cleveland, Cincinnati, New Orleans, Detroit, St. Louis, Minneapolis, Kansas City, Omaha, San Francisco, Portland, Ore., and Seattle.

Clearings the past week were larger than those for the preceding week by $357,754,000, whereas for the same two weeks of last year there was a decline of $665,142,000.

Figures at leading centers, compared with those of a year ago are printed herewith; also daily bank clearings for each month this year:

CHICAGO, May 24.—(AP)—Acute weakness developed in the corn market today and prices broke 3 3-4 cents a bushel, almost the extreme limit possible for a 24-hour period.

Month-end liquidating sales of May corn holdings, together with notably auspicious wheat crop prospects, as well as silencing of inflation talk, led to a pronounced increase of bearish sentiment. Favorable weather for corn planting tended also to tumble values down, carrying May wheat and all deliveries of oats to below the season's previous bottom price record.

Corn closed nervous, 2 cents to 3 1-2 cents under yesterday's finish, July 79 3-4 to 79 7-8, wheat 1 5-8 to 1 7-8 down, July 88 1-2 to 88 5-8, oats 5-8 to 2 cents off, and provisions varying from 5 cents decline to a rise of 17 cents.

Bearish sentiment was intensified by suggestions that June 1 unofficial monthly crop summaries would show considerable increase of estimates of domestic production of wheat, particularly in the southwest, and that the spring wheat outlook northwest was unusually promising.

Market Outlook

by MAX BUCKINGHAM

(Copyright, 1935, by the United Press.)

NEW YORK, May 24.—(UP)—The stock market tonight again gave indications of turning highly selective as traders watched the French financial situation.

On Tuesday the French government will seek dictatorial powers in handling the financial situation to erase a tremendous budget deficit. But gold continues to whirl out of Paris. Sterling advanced more than 4 cents here today to a new 1935 high as result of expatriation of French funds into London. Some Paris money went to Switzerland and Belgium.

This resulted in a nervous foreign exchange market and some hesitancy of all security operations. Conservative quarters are eager for stabilization of currencies and are hesitant to trade until such moves blocked by the French crisis are made.

Meanwhile the stock market gave an excellent account of itself after the senate had upheld the president's veto of the bonus bill. There was very little liquidation. The market was irregular with more than a million shares exchanged with signs of strength during the day.

Oils continued good. Rails had a rally which brought little response and brokers reported there was little interest—either professional of public in this group.

The main factor of cheer in today's market, however, came from a sudden stirring in steel stocks led by U. S. Steel. The entire list of stocks was suddenly given a boost. There is a chance that further nervousness may appear in the market in tomorrow's short session but the Street continued to talk of a good rise in the market shortly.

A favorable item was the apparent interest of foreign accounts in the local market. Investment demand was good.

WEATHER OUTLOOK FOR COTTON STATES

Florida: Generally fair Saturday and Sunday.

South Carolina: Fair Saturday and Sunday, slightly warmer Sunday and in north portion Saturday.

Tennessee: Fair with slowly rising temperature Saturday; Sunday increasing cloudiness and warmer, possibly showers Sunday night.

Louisiana and Mississippi: Generally fair, slightly warmer in the interior Saturday; Sunday partly cloudy.

Alabama: Generally fair Saturday and Sunday; slightly warmer in north portion Saturday, and in east portion Sunday.

Extreme Northwest Florida: Generally fair Saturday and Sunday.

Arkansas: Partly cloudy, slightly warmer Saturday; Sunday mostly cloudy, showers in northwest portion.

Oklahoma: Cloudy and unsettled, local showers Saturday or Saturday night; Sunday mostly cloudy.

East Texas: Generally fair to partly cloudy, warmer in northeast portion Saturday; Sunday mostly cloudy.

West Texas: Partly cloudy Saturday and Sunday; possibly light showers in the panhandle Saturday.

RECEIVER IS ASKED FOR REMINGTON-RAND

NEW YORK, May 24.—(AP)—A stockholder instituted action in federal court today against Remington-Rand, Inc., and its directors, for an accounting, asked appointment of a receiver and judgment for an undetermined sum, estimated at several millions, alleged losses sustained by the company through mismanagement.

Alfred D. Scherr, the complainant, charged the directors had granted bonuses and salaries "upward of $1,500,000" to James H. Rand Jr., president of the company, and Benjamin L. Winchell, chairman of the executive committee, during 1934.

The petition stated Rand's salary was $91,240 and Winchell's $85,000 and that bonuses were paid although stockholders are receiving no dividends.

THREE NEW CCC SITES IN GEORGIA ANNOUNCED

Villa Rica, Cartersville and Buford have been selected as sites for Civilian Conservation Corps camps to carry on soil erosion work in Georgia, it was announced yesterday by fourth corps headquarters.

This state will have nine new camps and one re-established camp under the expanded soil erosion program. Musella, Lumpkin and Buena Vista have already been selected as camp sites, leaving three more to be announced.

FREIGHT LOADINGS INCREASE IN WEEK

WASHINGTON, May 24.—(AP)—The Association of American Railroads announced today that loadings of revenue freight for the week ended May 18 were 583,327 cars, an increase of 8,142 above the preceding week, a reduction of 29,004 below 1934 and an increase of 47,608 above the corresponding week in 1933.

Sugar and Coffee.

SUGAR.

NEW YORK, May 24.—Raw sugar was unchanged today for spots at 3.35 but shipment sugars were higher.

Demand was less active and the only sales reported were 26,000 bags of Puerto Ricos for second-half June shipment at 3.45 and 24,000 bags Cubas for first-half May shipment at 3.55, both to outport refiners.

Early advances of 2 to 3 points in futures, which carried the market to new high levels for the season, were followed by sharp reactions under increased realizing or liquidation and selling by trade interests.

Frinal prices were at the lowest and 2 to 5 points down in the No. 3 contracts and 4 to 7 lower in the No. 1. Sales 26,050 tons in the No. 3 and 1,950 tons in the No. 1.

The range follows:

	High	Low	Last
July	2.54	2.48	2.47b

b—Bid.

Refined was unchanged at 5.25 for fine granulated with a fair demand reported against old contracts.

COFFEE.

NEW YORK, May 24.—The advance in asking prices on shipment coffee from Brazil was reflected by modest gains in futures today. Trade interests were on both sides and buying was entered for Brazilian and European account, the latter induced by the advance at Havre.

Santos opened 1 to 5 higher and closed 3 to 9 higher. Sales 29,000. No. 7 opened unchanged to 4 higher and closed 1 to 3 higher. Sales 16,000. Closing quotations, July 7.68; September 7.76; December 7.83; March 7.91; May (1936) 7.98. No. 7, July 5.22; September 5.34; December 5.45; March 5.54; May (1936) 5.60.

Witness in Hit-Run Case Bound Over As Culprit

Appearing as a witness in the case of his friend who was charged with a hit-and-run accident, Oscar Hutchins, negro, of 80 Delta street, was himself identified as the offending driver and was fined and bound over yesterday in recorder's court.

Hutchins was called to the stand by the attorney of Robert Hill, negro, of 375 Fowler street, whose automobile was involved in an accident May 11 at Boulevard and Irwin street. Police arrested Hill when he appeared at police headquarters to claim the machine but the negro denied he was driving the car when the accident occurred. He was put on trial yesterday and no witness could identify him.

Hill's lawyer summoned Hutchins to testify when Hill bought the automobile. Several witnesses jumped to their feet, shouting "that's the negro who was driving the car." Hutchins was convicted and fined $27 for reckless driving, $27 for leaving the scene of an accident, and bound over under $200 bond for driving while drunk.

SNAP BEAN QUEEN WILL BE CROWNED AT WREN'S NEST

There will be "big doin's" at the Wren's Nest this afternoon, when Uncle Remus, the Little Boy and all "de critters" return to Snap Bean Farm for one day to take part in the crowning of their chosen queen, Judith Hastings, who will reign over Snap Bean Farm for one year.

At 4 o'clock, Margaret McColsky will give the address of welcome, "Greetings From Uncle Remus," then garland bearers, carrying hoops wrapped with colored paper and flowers, will march in and form an aisle extending from the foot of the stage to the rear of the garden, through which the queen and her attendants will march to the stage.

Children from various schools and from schools of dancing, together with students of music, will present an elaborate program including music, dances and pageantry.

Mrs. S. A. Cruickshanks will be in charge of the variety booth. The Mothers' class of Park Street church will be at "Thimble Finger Well," with lemonade. Mrs. Otis Witherspoon, Mrs. Hinton Blackshear, Mrs. Carl Raper and Miss Ellanora Collier will be in charge of the ice cream booth. Misses Marie Cochran and Elizabeth Hanes will be in charge of the candy booth.

PLAUCHE'S WEEKLY COTTON STATEMENT

NEW ORLEANS, May 24.—(AP)—Secretary Plauche's weekly New Orleans cotton exchange statement issued today shows that the amount brought into sight during the past week has been 73,114, against 110,831 for seven days last year and 145,386 in 1933. For the 24 days of May it has been 201,249, against 440,257 last year and 640,378 in 1933.

The movement since August 1, shows receipts of all U. S. ports 4,258,924, against 7,372,485 last year and 8,344,284 in 1933; overland across the Mississippi, Ohio and Potomac rivers to northern mills and Canada 648,404, against 781,364 last year and 584,997 in 1933; interior stocks in excess of those held at the close of the commercial year 344,515, against 274,687 last year and 199,571 in 1933; southern mill takings net 3,414,000 against 4,080,000 last year and 4,067,000 in 1933.

These make the total movement for the season from August 1, to date, 8,665,843, against 12,508,536 last year and 13,195,852 in 1933.

Foreign exports for the week have been 89,651 against 47,428 last year, making the total thus far for the season 4,157,121 against 6,664,063 last year, a decrease of 2,506,942.

World spinner takings of American cotton during the week were 195,000 against 227,000 last year and 368,000 year before last, distributed as follows:

North and Canada 18,000 against 26,000 last year and 41,000 year before last; south 70,000 against 97,000 last year and 116,000 year before last; foreign exclusive of Canada and Orient 64,000 against 82,000 last year and 128,000 year before last; Orient 43,000 against 22,000 last year and 83,000 year before last.

Total takings of American cotton for the season 9,403,000 against 12,582,000 last year and 12,198,000 year before last of which north and Canada 1,252,000 against 1,532,000 last year and 1,282,000 year before last; south 3,641,000 against 2,244,000 last year and 4,174,000 year before last; foreign exclusive of Canada and Orient 2,932,000 against 4,913,000 last year and 4,780,000 year before last; Orient 1,578,000 against 1,893,000 last year and 1,962,000 year before last.

Stocks at the seaboard and the 102 leading southern interior centers have decreased during the week 105,181 against a decrease during the corresponding period last season of 59,901 and are now 1,087,547 smaller than at this date in 1934.

$3 DIVIDEND DECLARED BY TIDE WATER OIL CO.

NEW YORK, May 24.—(AP)—Tide Water Associated Oil Company has declared a dividend of $3 on the 6 per cent preferred stock to cover the payment of $1.50 due April 1 and like payment due next July 1. The dividend is payable July 1 to stock of record June 7.

Cross Sections in South's Gate City

Three persons were hurt yesterday morning when the car in which they were riding ran off an embankment near McDonough. At Grady hospital, where they were treated for cuts and bruises, they gave the names of J. S. Calahan, of Rex; D. L. Gant, of 250 Brown's Mill road, and Mrs. Sam Bennett, 34, of Hill street.

J. D. Calloway was named in an indictment returned by Fulton county grand jury yesterday charging him with book-making. Calloway was arrested in a raid on a downtown hotel room Kentucky Derby day, when officers found numerous bettors expressing their choice by placing wagers.

Judge Jesse M. Wood in Fulton criminal court yesterday imposed six months suspended sentences on seven defendants charged with operating gambling devices at a recent carnival. The defendants pleaded guilty, and agreed not to operate again in this county.

James E. Warren Jr., teacher at O'Keefe Junior High school, poet and associate editor of Versecraft, has been elected to membership in the Poetry Society of America, which has numbered among its members virtually every prominent poet in America for many years.

Governor Talmadge yesterday granted a 30-day respite to Burrel Dawson, Atlanta negro, who was scheduled to have been electrocuted yesterday for the murder of a negro woman. The governor said he was granting the respite in order to study the negro's application for clemency.

Chairman E. L. Rainey, of the state prison commission, said yesterday that the state would ask immediate extradition of Sim J. Scarborough, escaped murderer, who was caught Thursday in Tampa, Fla. Judge Rainey said the necessary papers would go to Tallahassee over the week-end. Scarborough is serving a life sentence for his part in the slaying of Professor Wright near Eatonton 10 years ago, a crime for which Ted Coggeshall and Floyd McClelland were executed.

W. C. Roe, district engineering manager of the American Mutual Liability Insurance Company, is attending a three-day meeting at the home office in Boston. He is company engineering supervisor in six southern states.

W. W. Matthews, chairman of a special personnel and salary adjustment committee of the Atlanta board of education, yesterday announced that the scheduled meeting of the committee for last night has been deferred until some night next week. Date has not yet been set.

John W. Millsaps, regional director of the Federal Housing Administration, will return to Atlanta today from Sea Island Beach, where he attended a meeting of the Georgia Bankers' Association as representative of the housing body.

Men's Bible class of the Second-Ponce de Leon Baptist church will meet tomorrow for a special program of sacred music with Miss Evelyn Wall as accompanist. The public is invited.

W. P. Bloodworth, teacher of the Men's Bible class, Druid Hills Methodist church, will speak at 8 o'clock tomorrow night on "The Layman and His Job in the Church," at Bethany Methodist church, Grove Park.

Home Coming Day will be observed tomorrow at Oakland City Baptist church with an all-day service and lunch to be served on the grounds.

Five o'clock vesper services will conclude tomorrow at Glenn Memorial Methodist church with a program in which the choir of 50 voices and selections by Hugh Hodgson, eminent pianist, will be featured. At the 11 o'clock morning service the Rev. Nat G. Long, pastor, will speak on "Higher Weapons for a New Warfare."

Judge W. F. Jenkins, of the court of appeals, will address members of the H. Warner Hill Bible class of St. Mark Methodist church at 9:30 o'clock tomorrow morning. Karl Pathe will direct the Warner Hill class orchestra.

Gospel campaign being conducted at Capitol Avenue Tabernacle by Evangelist Russell Ford will continue nightly at 7:30 o'clock with a special service at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

Garden festival will be held at the German-American Club, at 80 Fourteenth street, tonight, it was announced. Mayor James L. Key and former Governor John M. Slaton are scheduled as principal speakers. A Dutch supper and an al fresco cabaret will be features of the entertainment. The public is invited.

Hurst Dancing shool, at 594 1-2 Peachtree street, suffered its third burglary of the month Thursday night, it was reported to police last night. The intruders entered by breaking the glass in a side window. Extent of the loss had not been determined last night.

STYLE SHOW TO OPEN WOMAN'S CLUB POOL

This afternoon at 3 o'clock the swimming pool at the Atlanta Woman's Club will be opened for the summer with a beautiful and interesting fashion show presented by Rich's sports shop, when the latest in swim styles will be modeled by attractive young women.

The fashion showing will not be confined to swim fashions alone. Slacks, play costumes, dresses for sports, a beautiful and fashion right collection from one of the south's most important shops conducted solely for sports and beach apparel, will parade the runway and give the audience a comprehensive picture of what is correct for all occasions "pour le sport."

The following young women will wear the enchanting costumes: Margaret Cummings, Rita Cummings, Catherine Cummings, Elsie Pearson, Eloise Gresham, June Spalding, Van Spalding, Martha Pierce, Lady Fleming, Ruth Hunnicutt.

The affair will be one of the most important from a social and fashion standpoint of the season.

COLORED ADVENTISTS OPEN CAMP MEETING

The Georgia-Cumberland colored camp meeting of the Seventh Day Adventist church convened yesterday for a session to run until June 1 at the corner of Taliaferro and Foundry streets, N. W., with a large delegation from Georgia and Tennessee in attendance.

Elders F. L. Peterson, of Washington, D. C., and M. C. Strachan, of Jacksonville, are attending the meetings which open daily at 5 o'clock with sunrise prayer services. Conference sessions will be held from 9:45 to 10:45 o'clock.

TARZAN AND THE FIRE GODS No. 78

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

Lady Beth was almost unconscious when, with a final burst of energy, she thrust herself through the opening in the net, and shot rapidly toward the surface of the lake. But now, even in her hazy state, a new fear assailed her. Certainly the Baalites would spy her!

Fortunately, however, all eyes were turned on Arbela as she denounced Niarchus. Lady Beth swam weakly to the shelter of the overhanging crag, where happily she found a narrow beach. And now she heard the high priest condemning her friend Arbela to the Fiery Pillar!

Lady Beth thrilled at Arbela's courage in thus defying the greatest power her world knew. She pictured the golden-haired girl standing there, her eyes flashing, her lips curling in scorn, her lithe young body tense with emotion—but so helpless against the vile old man!

At that instant the English girl changed her plans. She had thought to seek some exit from this evil, terrifying land; but now she must find some way to help her friend. What could she do? She did not know. Of only one thing was she certain—she must try!

DAILY SHORT STORY

STAR CHAMBER

The Judge Took Private Means of Meting Out the Justice That Courts Could Not Give.

BY JOHN R. GOLDEN.

The faint tinkle of breaking glass coincided exactly with the last dull reverberations of the town clock tolling the midnight hour. Judge Barnes slipped his hand into the pocket of his dressing gown and clutched the warm handle of a small automatic. He gave no indication of surprise as one of the French doors swung open and a man stepped quietly into the room.

The intruder walked boldly up to the desk and extended a hand which was ignored by the judge. "Thanks for your finding today," he said. "I bust in here like you wanted. What next?"

Judge Barnes was slumped down in his chair. With a wave of his hand he indicated a small wall safe which was cleverly concealed behind a picture. "I want you to open that safe, Rocco. Make it appear as though there had been a burglary."

"Does the reason matter? I'll give you the combination."

Rocco laughed. "Wouldn't know how to use it, your honor. Besides, I need the practice."

The judge watched in silence as Rocco placed his ear close to the wall and expertly twirled the dial. In an incredibly short time he straightened up and threw open the safe with a smile of triumph.

"Anything else?" he asked.

"You will find a small strongbox. Bring it here."

Rocco found the box and placed it on the desk.

The white-haired judge rose slowly to his feet and clasped the folds of his dressing gown about his thin body as though it were his judicial robe. "Rocco," he began in a low, clear voice, "I wonder if you have any idea what prompted my action in acquitting you this morning?"

The sleek gunman nodded. "Sure . . ." he drawled sardonically. "Any yegg that could crack open the vaults of your two-bit bank ought to be able to return a little personal favor."

"I had a much bigger reason than that. It so happens that I am vitally interested in tattooing, especially when it's on the palm of a hand. When you raised your hand to testify in my courtroom I noticed a small blue star. Mind letting me have another look?"

Rocco hesitated and regarded the judge through narrowed eyes. "I think we're square on the favors. If you're through here I'll be on my way."

"Perhaps I can guess what else is tattooed on your hand," the judge went on. "In the center of that star are the initials 'MM.' They stand for—Marion Morgan."

"Rocco . . . Covered the Judge."

At the mention of that name Rocco suddenly turned pale. His hand moved cautiously toward the gun that was concealed beneath his armpit.

"I thought that name would interest you." The judge picked up the box that Rocco brought from the safe. He took out a letter and held it up. "This might also interest you. It was written by her."

Rocco ignored the letter. His right hand rested casually just inside of his coat.

"This was quite an interesting case," the judge continued. "A few years ago this girl was a star on Broadway. Perhaps that is where you heard the name?"

The gunman's lips parted in a sly grin but he made no reply.

"She became infatuated with a young hoodlum named Brad Cummings. Ever hear of him?" the judge demanded sharply.

Rocco was on his guard. He shook his head, eyes fastened warily on the judge.

"She finally married him, no doubt with the conviction that she could reform him. But, like the rest of his sort, he soon tired of a decent wife. Yet this beast wasn't content with simply discarding her, Rocco. He wanted to put her out of his way for good. He had her framed on a charge of shoplifting and she died in prison. That man was as guilty of her death as though he had murdered her."

Rocco had been slowly backing away until he was within a few feet of the open door. A quick stride and a leap would bring him to the grounds below.

"This fellow disappeared," the judge continued. "I had only one clue to his identity, and unless I'm much mistaken he would give his right hand to hide it. While he was courting this girl he wanted to do something to impress her—something to show how much she meant to him. I think you've guessed it—he had a star and her initials tattoed on his hand."

Rocco whipped out his gun and covered the judge. "All right," he snarled, "I was her husband—but if you think you'll ever get me on a charge like that you're crazy!"

Judge Barnes smiled. There was madness in the smile. "I had no such intention. You have been far to clever and I doubt if any jury would convict you."

"Then why all this talk?" the gunman demanded impatiently.

"Because that girl was my daughter," the judge said slowly. His cold gray eyes were fixed mercilessly upon the prisoner before him.

In that brief statement Rocco interpreted a sentence of death. For an instant he went limp, and then the strained silence was broken as he fired.

"Lose your nerve, Rocco?" The judge switched off the lamp and took quick aim at the silhouetted figure gliding through the open window.

Rocco staggered, then blindly emptied his gun as he slumped to the floor.

"Damn you!" he cursed. "I hope you swing for this!"

Shrouded by the darkness Judge Barnes clutched convulsively at the edge of the desk. With an effort his lips parted, but his deep voice gave no indication of his ebbing strength.
